

Expect Taylor to Provide Tight Command; 'Free World at Our Side,' Khanh Vows

Dulles in Hunt For 3 CR Agents

PHILADELPHIA, Miss. (AP)—Allen W. Dulles, former chief of the Central Intelligence Agency, flies to Mississippi today on a White House mission to look into the mysterious disappearance of three young civil rights workers.

The charred hulk of the station wagon used by the trio was found by FBI agents late Tuesday at the edge of a swamp off a lonely road northeast of this central Mississippi town.

Philadelphia is the seat of justice for Neshoba County, called "Bloody Neshoba" by Mississippians for its history of settling feuds by gunfire.

Lid on Investigation
The FBI clamped a lid on most of its investigation.

A Mississippi highway patrolman told a newsman: "The FBI has taken over entirely."

Highway patrol units conducted a house-to-house search late into the night. More patrolmen were expected today.

Missing are Andy Goodman, 20, and Michael Schwerner, 24, both of New York City, and James Cheney, 22, Negro from nearby Meridian.

They were last seen Sunday night in Philadelphia after Cheney paid a $20 fine for speeding.

Sends Dulles
The White House announced that President Johnson had ordered Dulles to the state to coordinate the probe.

Dulles will confer with Gov. Paul B. Johnson, other top state officials and the FBI on the progress of the investigation.

Gov. Johnson, who earlier had told a news conference the highway patrol would search unrelentingly for the missing youths, said he would welcome Dulles.

"So long as Mr. Dulles is objective, I have no doubt that he will find that law and order prevail," the governor said.

The station wagon was found about 100 feet from State 21, 15 miles northeast of Philadelphia, where Owl Creek backs away to form a backwater slough.

Speculate on Death
There was speculation that the bodies of the three civil rights workers were somewhere under the dark, cold waters.

The station wagon was towed to a garage here and kept under guard. Two FBI laboratory technicians were to study it today.

Schwerner, who had been working in the Meridian area for several months, Cheney and Goodman were last seen about 10:30 p.m. Sunday, leaving Philadelphia in a southerly direction.

An FBI agent said the station wagon apparently was burned Sunday night or before dawn Monday.

Goodman was one of 175 out-of-state volunteers who arrived in Mississippi over the weekend to take part in Negro voter registration and education projects after training at Oxford, Ohio.

Fair St. Pastor Will Serve for Human Relations

Mayor John J. Schwenk today announced appointment of the Rev. Edwin C. Coon, pastor of the Fair Street Reformed Church, to the Mayor's Advisory Committee on Human Relations.

He fills a vacancy left by the recent resignation of the Rev. Roy A. Hassell, who has been transferred to the Methodist Parish in New Paltz, from Trinity Methodist Church here.

A Poughkeepsie native, the Rev. Mr. Coon attended schools there, was graduated from Hope College, Holland, Mich., and the New Brunswick (N.J.) Theological Seminary. He has resided in Kingston since October of 1960.

Church Council Officer
Vice-president of the Council of Churches, he has been chairman of the Christian Church and the Work Committee for the past two years, president of the Classis of Ulster County, and is a member of the Rotary Club, where he is serving as chairman of the Four-Way Test Committee.

He is married to the former Betty Luhrs and they have three children, Carol, Merry and Janet.

Mayor Schwenk, in announcing the appointment, said: "While I deeply regret that the Rev. Mr. Hassell will not be with the committee any longer, I sincerely appreciate his willingness to serve as chairman while he was able to."

Grateful to Rev. Hassell
"I personally, and on behalf of the citizens of Kingston, am grateful for his efforts and the splendid job he did as a member and first chairman of this committee, for with his guidance, it has served our city effectively from its very inception."

"His work has been outstanding in both the religious and civic fields, and warrants the commendation of all."

"However," the mayor noted, "it is my belief that the Human Relations Committee will continue to function as smoothly in the future as it has in the past, and I know that the Rev. Mr. Coon will be an asset to its effectiveness. He is a man of high integrity and great dedication. The committee is fortunate to have him as one of its members."

Old Rail Station Is Afire Again, Two Night Blazes

One of two fires some 12 minutes apart in the central area of the city Tuesday night again damaged the abandoned West Shore Railroad station, Railroad Avenue, and is under investigation.

Firemen said the blaze started in a first-floor window of the sprawling, frame structure, spread upward and outward, damaging the window frame and an outside area. Inside wall boards were removed to check fire travel. A pump stream was used.

Calls on Record
Several fire calls are on record since the station was closed in the late 1960's, and one last April 3, of apparent incendiary origin, started near a stairway in the waiting room and caused extensive damage.

A call at 9:20 p. m., Tuesday, was followed by an alarm from Box 5133, Smith Avenue and Grand Street, with units from Central and Cornell stations and the Wicks Company responding and Chief James M. Brett and Deputy Chief Julius E. Buchholz in charge. Firemen returned at 10:06 p. m.

Investigation Asked
The 2½-story frame building is owned by Joseph P. Day, of 7 Day Street, New York.

Chief Brett requested an investigation of the blaze. Detective Leonard Ellsworth and Officer Edward Ortlieb were at the scene.

A call at 9:08 p. m. was for burning rubbish at the rear of the UPA parking lot, Field Court. Units from Central and Wicks Company responded. Indian pumps and a booster line were used. A police report noted that the area involved "looked like the campsite of bums."

First report indicated that the fire was at the rear of the building of Zwick & Schwartz Inc., wholesale produce dealers at 36 O'Neil Street.

Indochina Warning By Peking
Proof Cited U. S. Action Is Sincere

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Premier Nguyen Khanh told his people today: "The free world countries are right at our side and if necessary will tackle the problem of communism right at its roots."

His statement coincided with a declaration from Peking that "the situation in Indochina has become increasingly grave in the past few days." Japanese papers were expressing concern over U. S. policy.

Appointment Proof
Khanh said appointment of Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor as the new U. S. ambassador to Saigon "is proof of the U. S. administration's determination to continue exterminating communism to preserve freedom."

Khanh spoke at the Gulf of Thailand town of Rach Gia, at the end of a two-day tour of the southern Mekong River Delta.

Henry Cabot Lodge, who is retiring as ambassador, said he does not see how the war here can be an issue in the U. S. presidential campaign. "It involves the Eisenhower administration and the Kennedy and Johnson administrations, and the Truman administration," he said.

Chen Mentions About War
A Red Chinese broadcast from Peking said the Communist vice premier, Chen Yi, spoke of U. S. preparations "for new military adventures."

"The situation in Indochina has become increasingly grave in the past few days," he said. "In disregard of the serious protests of the Laotian and Chinese people, the United States is continuing its wanton bombing in Laos and stepping up its preparations for new military ventures in southern Viet Nam."

Cites Policy of Force
Following Taylor's appointment, editorial writers in Tokyo were taking a close look at Indochina — which Japan ruled in World War II.

The paper Asahi said the United States seemed to be adopting a policy of force in order to improve its position for a presumed political situation after U. S. elections. The Daily Yomiuri said there is the possibility the Chinese "volunteers" in the style of the Korean War, will go to North Viet Nam if the United States bombs its capital, Hanoi.

The Japan Times spoke hopefully of a policy that will not result in expansion of the area of conflict.

Both Communist and non-Communist papers in Hong Kong predicted the United States will step up its military activities in Southeast Asia.

To Hear Judge's Appeal
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The state Supreme Court will hear an appeal here July 1 by Justice Michael A. Musmanno against a ruling which discounted votes cast in wrong spaces in the primary election April 28.

Musmanno trails Genevieve Blatt, secretary of internal affairs, by 636 votes in the statewide count for the Democratic nomination for the U. S. Senate. He sits on the Supreme Court bench, but has been on a leave of absence since before the primary election.

Prod Legislators
The President said at a news conference Tuesday he wants Congress to work longer and act on about 30 "desirable" proposals before adjournment.

He prodded the legislators to give his proposals their "full attention six days a week until the Republican convention" and then return to work after the convention.

Leaders had planned to seek final adjournment before the Democratic convention opens in Atlantic City Aug. 24.

Johnson listed these matters as among those he wants Congress to act on:

Mass transportation, wilderness preservation, area redevelopment, education assistance, Securities Act amendments, water pollution control, foreign aid, federal aid for hospital construction, extension of the food stamp program, pay increases for government officials and employees;

Extension of the debt limit and emergency excise taxes, the international coffee agreement, aid for highway construction, interest equalization taxes on foreign investments, the anti-poverty program, medical assistance for the elderly, rehabilitation of the Appalachian region, housing, nurse training assistance, immigration law revisions, land conservation, juvenile delinquency, sales of surplus food abroad and water resources research.

Thruway Has 10th Birthday, Earns $426 Million Total
ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The New York State Thruway, which the Gov. Thomas E. Dewey Thruway, is 10 years old today.

A lot has happened on the world's longest toll highway system since Omer C. Catan of Teaneck, N.J., drove the first 11 miles on the new road.

Catan's two dimes have swelled to revenues of $426 million. The State Thruway Authority, which operates the 559-mile toll system, reported Tuesday its financial condition was excellent.

More than 600 million drivers have rolled up nearly 20 billion miles on the superhighway network.

Good Safety Record
A safety record — twice as good as the national average for all roads — has been established.

The cross-state highway was to be toll-free, according to the concept at the end of World War II. But when work was begun on the scattered sections, soaring costs made it clear that a toll-free road would require major tax increases.

In 1950, the Thruway Authority was created to handle financing. The authority sold bonds that are being redeemed with toll revenues.

Cost Under Billion
The final cost of the Thruway is just under $1 billion, and a $8 million rehabilitation program already is under way.

The first 115 miles of the new highway were opened June 24, 1954. While Democrats grumbled on the sidelines, Republican Thomas E. Dewey, then governor, pressed a button at a dinner in Rochester that signaled the start of the project.

The public may attend the installation.

Highland's New Pastor Will Be Installed Sunday
The formal ceremonial installation of the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Charles M. Walsh as pastor of St. Augustine's Church, Highland will take place in the church Sunday.

The short ceremony will be followed by the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. John J. O'Reilly, FF, dean of Ulster County and pastor of St. Joseph's Church, this city will preside. The sermon will be delivered by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. John E. Ereheny, principal of Cardinal Spellman High School, Bronx.

Msgr. Walsh was formerly director of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine in New York City. He succeeds the Rev. Charles A. Lee who died June 1 as pastor of the Highland church. New assistant pastor is the Rev. Thomas McGarry.

McKeon Plan Would Add 30 New Assembly Seats
NEW YORK (AP) — William H. McKeon, democratic state chairman, proposes redistricting the State Legislature before November and adding 30 more assembly seats. The increase would benefit mostly the New York City area.

Update counties would lose seven assembly seats, although some with big cities would gain.

McKeon wants to give New York City 17 more assembly seats, suburban Westchester County three more and the two Long Island counties a total of 12 more.

New York City also would gain three state senate seats under the McKeon plan, while Upstate representation in the upper legislative chamber would drop by five.

McKeon's proposal, given Tuesday to Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, calls for increasing assembly seats from 150 to 180 and senate seats from 58 to 60.

The U. S. Supreme Court has ordered a reapportionment of the Legislature, ruling the current makeup unconstitutional.

McKeon told a news conference that a bi-artisan commission rather than the Legislature should handle the redistricting.

McKeon said the number of legislative seats should be increased "to minimize the loss of representation (from) the

GOP Assails 6-Day Congress Schedule

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's call to Congress to go on a six-day work week until next month's Republican national convention brought angry protests today from GOP House leaders.

"It just isn't fair play," said Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana.

Sabotage: Laird
"This looks like an attempt by the President of the United States to sabotage the Republican convention," commented Rep. Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin, chairman of the GOP Platform Committee.

The committee starts its sessions in San Francisco July 6, one week before the convention opens. Many members of Congress are on the committee. Many others want to air their views before it.

Republicans had counted on the House being in recess the entire week starting July 6, with the Senate holding only token sessions.

"Quality You Can Depend On"

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market chartists are eyeing every price flurry for signs of the traditional summer rally.

Steel production is sliding fast toward the still more traditional July doldrums.

Many factories are preparing for the newer but growing tradition of a vacation shutdown of one, two or three weeks.

The auto industry is preparing for the summer model changeover.

Hot weather sport and recreational items are selling fast.

Tourists jam New York streets and scramble for hotel rooms. Summer camps shore themselves up for the annual rush of school-free youngsters. Highways to beaches and mountains are even more jammed than ever.

Summer is coming in just like always — almost. There are some differences this time. Stock prices already are around record highs — if you measure them by the popular averages. But many shares are far below their highs. It's the blue chip type, favored by the popular index and by many institutional buyers, that has attracted most buying interest this year.

Fall Upturn Likely

Steel's output slide — already some 6.5 per cent from its year's high of late May — seems sure to go on into July. But this summer the steelmen think the dip, however steep it seems now, may prove to be comparatively shallow and short-lived. Optimism, born of a good cushion of orders, is strong for a big fall upturn.

The factory shutdowns for vacations are taking a new look also. The trend toward longer vacations continues, and so does the practice of closing down so that everyone takes them all at once. The total of idle production days may be greater. But because of the business upswing some companies are trying divided vacations — a week in July, another at Christmas, or at some date when the backlog of unfilled orders is less impressive.

The auto changeovers this summer are complicated by reports that models revisions will be more extensive than in many years. But even more unsettling is the labor negotiations soon to start. Because of this, production right now is probably higher than it would otherwise be, and the chances of a strike cloud the late summer prospects.

Rifle Range Approved; Other Requests Sanctioned by Board

NEW PALTZ—The New Paltz Town Board has approved the application of Lawrence Koller for a rifle range on the North Ohioville Road. A franchise has been granted to Mr. Koller by the Winchester Division of the Olin-Mathison Corporation. Mr. Koller explained that the "Winchester Gun Club" as it will be called, will be operated by himself and two other parties.

Preliminary sketches were presented to the board of the rifle range and clubhouse and it was found that the shooting range and other facilities were to meet the planning board's specifications and that the shooting range held no dangers to the surrounding areas as the shooting area is in a bowl shaped location and the perimeter is a heavily wooded area.

The board has acknowledged the donation of $100 from the Culinary Home Foundation, Kingston Road. The Culinary Home is a home for retired chefs and therefore tax free, but the foundation donates $100 each year to the town.

Approval was given Robert Reid's plot plan to establish his oil and heating service on a portion of the old Route 299. His request for a name for the road so that he may prepare his business forms was granted and the name given is Terwilliger Road.

Interim Census Planned

The board, at the request of Supervisor Peter Savago, has agreed to an interim census to be taken in New Paltz in 1965 since State aid is paid on a per-capita basis.

The board has accepted three new roads in the Frank LoCicero development. They are Bruce Avenue, Howard Street and College Street.

The board has established a new resolution governing building permits. Previously there was a charge of five dollars for any construction over the one thousand dollar mark, but it was felt that many were doing their own work and not purchasing any permit, so it has been established that there will be a five dollar charge for any building permit. The town took in $900 last year on building permits.

To Amend Zoning Rule

The board has decided to hold a hearing regarding a change in a section of the zoning ordinance. The board plans to amend section 15, by deleting subdivisions (a) and (b) and substituting new wording. Several amendments to the zoning ordinance are anticipated as soon as the means for amendments are clarified. Peter Harp, town attorney, has been instructed to prepare the exact text, and this to be published with a notice of the hearing for two weeks prior to the meeting which has been set up for Wednesday, July 8 at 7:30 p. m.

A request that a stop sign be placed at the corner of Fulton Street and Millbrook Road has been granted, and will be done by Isaac Pole, town superintendent of highways.

Approval was given of an agreement with the county to rent machinery from the county for town use and to rent town machinery for county use. This plan was used last year.

The board has announced that a revision in road specifications is currently underway. Superintendent Pole has suggested that two coats of oil instead of one should be required on road surfaces before the town accepts them. It was decided to send letters to area contractors informing them of proposed changes in road specifications.

To Tour Russia

Robert Bennett, world history teacher at the New Paltz Central School, will leave Wednesday for a tour of the Soviet Union. While in Russia he plans to visit collective farms, factories, schools and colleges and general points of interest. Mr. Bennett has received from Soviet authorities permission to have almost unlimited freedom of travel while in that nation and also to have unrestricted use of cameras while traveling.

He will visit such cities as Leningrad, Moscow, Kiev, Odessa as well as various villages throughout Russia. He will travel by train, bus, and plane. While on route to the Soviet Union he plans to visit England, Scotland, Sweden, Finland, and Norway. Mr. Bennett is a member of the board of education in the Valley Central School, Walden. He will return to the United States September 1st.

NEED VICE PRESIDENT

In the matter of security for the President of the United States, one fact is increasingly clear.

There is no way to give him complete protection. No way at all. Especially with a gregarious, outgoing man like President Johnson.

This being the case, it is beyond comprehension why emergency steps aren't taken at once to name a vice president.

This is not to suggest that harm is going to befall President Johnson. It is to point out realistically that harm could come to him.

One crackpot—just one—among the millions of people to whom the President is being exposed to on his frequent public appearances could be enough. And all the security precautions in the world might not stop that one fanatic.

One enemy of the country, one zealot with more zeal than brains. One gun, one bullet, one knife. That's all it would take.

And no vice president to step in and soften the shock and dislocation as Vice President Johnson did when President Kennedy was assassinated.

There is no plausible, logical or acceptable reason why a way to correct this situation can't or shouldn't be found immediately.

The country's welfare simply can't be served unless such a step is taken now—and to heck with the technicalities and inertia that are delaying it.

The whole nation is praying for the President's safety and health. Regardless of politics, personal preferences or party loyalty America needs its President—and never more than now.

But along with our prayers, let's have action on a vice president. And let's have it now.

To postpone such action amounts to deliberate and dangerous disservice to our country.

Cement prices are the lowest in eight years, say leaders in the industry. No statement could be more concrete.

MADE IN JAPAN

Fellow went into a radio store the other day. After examining and listening to the models on display, paying no particular attention to their makes, he selected the one which seemed to him to offer the best combination of good looks, good workmanship, good tone and good price.

When he was handed the radio in its carton, prominently emblazoned on it were the words "Product of Japan."

The man, a veteran of the Pacific war, didn't bat an eye, though he was old enough to remember the days when the words "Made in Japan"—usually small and hidden away somewhere on an article—were synonymous with shoddy. People used to search out the label in order to avoid buying Japanese goods, and not because of ideological reasons.

Today the Japanese have captured, through peaceful initiative, not military might, a large share of the market in precision-made products such as radios, cameras and electronic and optical equipment once dominated by the Germans and Americans.

That's how long ago World War II was fought—not just a couple decades but a whole era.

CAPITAL 'B,' PLEASE

Scotland has its Scotch, Canada and Ireland their own whiskeys, France its Cognac brandy. Now the United States has its Bourbon.

Note that it's spelled with a capital "B"—the result of a concurrent congressional resolution honoring Bourbon as "a distinctive product of the United States."

What it means is that Bourbon will henceforth be internationally recognized and protected, as are the other national drinks, from the manufacture, importation and sale of imitations.

Fittingly, 1964 marks the 175th anniversary of the first concoction of Bourbon in

WHAT KIND OF REPUBLICAN PLATFORM?

Fears have been expressed by Republican conservatives that the liberals of the party will try to come up with a platform expressly designed to embarrass Barry Goldwater if he becomes the nominee. But it is hardly in the character of Melvin Laird, who heads the 1964 Republican Platform Committee, to embarrass anybody save the Democrats.

Mel Laird, a congressman from Wisconsin, is a scholarly fellow who thinks a platform should be developed out of "position papers" that have been slowly matured by genuine authorities on various problems of government. He has asked a number of professors to prepare detailed statements which will be presented to the resolutions committee at the San Francisco convention for approval. The papers will, however, not become a formal part of the platform, which Laird hopes will be "somewhat shorter." Laird's idea is that the Republican nominee will make the final decision about releasing the papers for publication or using their substance for campaign purposes.

As for Laird's own philosophical predilections, they are no mystery. He has already served as the chairman of an Ad Hoc Congressional Committee which has sponsored a collection of papers by men of academic stature. On his committee were Gerald Ford of Michigan, Thomas Curtis of Missouri, Peter Freilighuysen of New Jersey, John Rhodes of Arizona, Glenard Lipscomb of California, Charles Goodell of New York, Clark MacGregor of Minnesota, and Robert Taft, Jr., of Ohio. These men are not hatchet wielders by temperament.

The papers that came out of the Laird Committee's sponsorship have been gathered together in a paperbook, with an introduction by Laird himself. Called "The Conservative Papers," this collection may offer some clues to what will be presented to the platform makers at San Francisco. The articles are not identical with the position papers now being worked up for the Platform Committee, but they do show much insight into what Laird considers to be "the conservative position" which he hopes "will come to be known more accurately as the American position."

The statements in "The Conservative Papers" are not of a nature to embarrass any Republican who wishes to offer himself as an alternative to Lyndon Johnson. The only danger to Republicans is that Johnson, if he is certain that the resurgence of U. S. conservatism is the key to victory, will choose to adapt these papers to his own uses.

Take David Nelson Rowe's paper on Asia, for example. Rowe is an excellent professor of political science at Yale who is pretty generally ignored by people like Senator Fulbright when foreign policy is being discussed. "As of now," says Rowe, "the right place to initiate an aggressive defense in Asia is in South Vietnam. It will probably be forced on us later on, at any rate. For if and when the enemy there becomes convinced of what we are trying to do now to convince ourselves, namely, that we are winning in South Vietnam, he must prevent it. He must put in what it takes to do this. With Laos secured, he can easily do it. If we wait until then to put in divisions of our own, we will find necessary a commitment far greater than we previously made in Korea."

This makes excellent strategic sense if we really mean to hold the line against Communism where it is now drawn. If Lyndon Johnson flubs in Laos, the Rowe position papers will become good Republican ammunition for any Presidential nominee. But Johnson knows this, too, as witness the firing on the Laos Communists when they seek to stop our reconnaissance flights over their positions.

Other papers in the Laird collection stress the need to keep "a constant pressure on the Soviet Union," and to beware of "flexibility in the abstract" lest we create a "political style" that will cause our allies to doubt our reliability. In domestic matters the papers remind us that "a centrally controlled economy can work—to further the special interests of those in control of it."

Nothing here is embarrassing to any Republican who is at least two degrees to the right of Senator Jake Javits of New York.

Water, Like Highways,
Calls for Safety Steps

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

As boating becomes more and more popular, boating accidents are becoming more common.

As with many other pursuits, the highest toll is among the newcomers who have not yet learned what the hazards are and how to avoid them. Even before you get your boat to the water, you must put it on a trailer and tow it behind your car. This calls for reduced speed, especially on curves and in a high wind. Otherwise, your trailer can literally pull you off the road.

Once on the water, consideration for others and common sense will go far toward increasing your safety and enjoyment. If you want all your friends to share your pleasure, take them aboard in relays. Overloading greatly increases chances of capsizing.

In any small craft avoid standing up or changing seats while the boat is in motion. If speed is your passion, don't buzz a dock or other boats, either anchored or moving. And keep a close lookout for swimmers and water skiers, who are the pedestrians of the water. Children should wear a life jacket at all times. It is wise not to get too far from shore, especially in a small boat, because squalls often arise on very short notice. If your boat does capsize, stay with it. This will improve your chance of being seen and picked up. Besides, the shore may look closer than it is and even the best swimmers have trouble swimming any great distance in cold water, especially if it is rough.

Learn all the rules and obey them. Then, if you are not the seaskick type, have yourself a ball.

Q—My doctor prescribed Mellaril for me. What is it for? Is it habit forming?

A—Mellaril is a phenothiazine derivative that may be used as a tranquilizer. It is not considered habit-forming, but should be taken only under careful supervision by a physician.

Q—Our doctor has my husband taking Metamine. What does this do?

A—Metamine is a brand of troinitrate phosphate. It is given to prevent attacks of angina pectoris. It gives more prolonged action than nitroglycerin.

Washington News

WASHINGTON — (NEA) —

Plans are being made in the State Department and Pentagon for a quiet but drastic overhaul of key U. S. officers and civilians in South Viet Nam.

This reshuffle has already begun. Officials and officers have been moved out, new and quite different men sent in.

Lt. Gen. William C. Westmoreland has been selected to replace Gen. Paul Harkins as commander of U. S. forces in South Viet Nam. Some high officials of the State Department have been working to get Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge brought home and succeeded by a career diplomat. Shifts of Agency for International Development (AID) officials are in the offing.

The belief here is that something the higher officials and officers in Saigon have been fighting the wrong kind of war—a conventional European type war—and following the kind of diplomacy that goes with it. They haven't understood the kind of guerrilla war that's going on in South Viet Nam. They've gone too much by the book, haven't been flexible or unconventional enough. "Some very able men just haven't been able to adapt," says one official wryly.

THE NEW AND TOUGHER POLICY is going to be that if an official or an officer doesn't get results, he'll be brought home.

Specialists are running tests to determine what type of officer and civilian works best in South Viet Nam. Some very able men haven't made the grade. Others who couldn't get along in conventional roles seem to "find" themselves in this irregular war.

There's another reason for the overhaul. There has been too much pulling and tugging between the military, the diplomats and the AID men in South Viet Nam. In order to make the Viet Nam operation successful, all three groups must work as a coordinated team.

That co-ordination has been achieved in Washington after some false starts. But it has been slow in coming in the field. This failure is the root of the complaint about Lodge. As U. S. ambassador, he has major responsibilities for making certain that the diplomats, AID men, military and intelligence operators work closely together. There's strong feeling in the State Department that Lodge has fallen down on that co-ordinating job. As a result, the delicate Viet Nam operation has bogged down.

MAJ. GEN. NGUYEN KHANH IS ATTEMPTING the same sort of reshuffle among his top general and provincial officials for the same two reasons—in efficiency and lack of co-ordination. He's having great difficulty. There are powerful cliques in South Viet Nam. Moving some of the ineffective generals could stir up a military revolt against Khanh's government. So he's moving slowly and cautiously. "It's fine if we have the time," says one official, "but I'm afraid it's running out."

As the second part of the overhaul, more U. S. and Vietnamese officials and officers will be transferred out of Saigon into the field.

There's belief in the Defense and State departments that this has been too much of a head-quarters war. Khanh agrees. The aim now is to get as many Americans and key Vietnamese as possible into the provinces where the military, political and economic war is being lost.

Under Court Rule, Senate Could Grow to 624 Members

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—Maybe if the ruling just announced by the Supreme Court of the United States—providing for "one person, one vote"—is applied to the Federal government, the Senate of the United States some day may be composed of 624 Senators. The Supreme Court says that population must be the basis for the apportionment of the state legislatures but defends the present imbalance in the national Congress as "traditional." Yet traditions aren't always maintained, and the Supreme Court in many decisions has frequently taken the liberty of adjusting them to "the spirit of the times."

Applying the concept of "one person, one vote," it would be relatively easy for the Supreme Court to revise Article I of the Constitution, which provides for two Senators for each state. The language could be interpreted by the high court to mean that, while the Constitution intended each state to have not less than two Senators, this doesn't prevent a state from having more Senators, especially if population is taken as the yardstick.

Under the 1960 census, there is an average of about 300,000 population in the four least populous states—Alaska, Vermont, Wyoming and Nevada. If one additional Senator is granted in all the other states for every 300,000 of population above the initial 300,000, there would be a total of 624 Senators.

A simple majority of the Senate would then be controlled by 313 votes, which could come from only 10 states—namely, New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Ohio, Michigan, Illinois, Nevada, Texas, California and Pennsylvania. A two-thirds vote of a Senate made up in this way could be obtained by the votes of only 18 states.

The principle back of such an imbalance is recognized by the Supreme Court in its recent ruling on how the districts in the various state legislatures shall be composed. The court's theory is that population was the only basis on which the representative system was inaugurated. It is difficult to see, however, how the Supreme Court can continue to apply the rule to state legislatures without some day feeling obliged to do the same with respect to Congress. The Court has relied on the doctrine that citizens must have "equal protection of the laws" and that the apportionment must be on the basis of the actual number of voters so that the formula of "one person, one vote" is made effective.

The court went on to say, in connection with state apportionments, that it could "perceive no Constitutional difference, with respect to the geographical distribution of state legislative representation, between the two houses of a bicameral state legislature." It added that the concept of a two-house system is not rendered meaningless because population is used as the predominant basis of representation. The court added:

"Different constituencies can be represented in the two houses. One body could be composed of single-member districts while the other could have at least some multi-member districts."

This suggestion could just as readily be applied to Congress. The lower house could continue to have more members, and the Senate could be composed of considered adequate for each state.

The whole emphasis in the latest Supreme Court ruling is on numbers. If a state, for example, attempted to limit the number of voters on the basis of intelligence qualifications, the argument would be raised that this is a form of discrimination. Nowhere in the recent Supreme Court opinion is there any recognition of the fact that, although the population has grown, this doesn't necessarily mean that the number of citizens with sufficient knowledge to vote intelligently on public questions has been correspondingly increased.

Members of Congress are beginning to hear from back home murmurs of real discontent over the recent Supreme Court decisions which dictate to the states of the Union how they shall apportion representation in both houses of their respective state legislatures.

Apparently people in the farm and rural sections are afraid that domination by the cities may prove injurious to their properties and that legislation beneficial to them which has hitherto been passed by the states will be discarded if the state legislatures are entirely rebuilt with another system of representation. It is feared also that the country will be governed by the political machines of a few big cities. Sen. Dirksen, Republican leader, has already said publicly that a constitutional amendment may be necessary to clarify the limits of the Supreme Court's ruling.

THE KILLING — PART TWO

Helen McGrady said that she wanted to pick the 8th race. Her husband had selected the winners of the 5th and 6th in the twin double, now she wanted the right to pick the 8th. The man to whom the McGradys sold half their ticket for $175, George Berger, finally relented.

"I like Rough Territory in the eighth," she said, "because that's where we all are right now." Berger liked the number one horse, but agreed to Rough Territory. The loud speaker said "The horses are now nearing the starter's gate," as Berger yanked out a fistful of form charts and began to study the ninth race. He picked the 4 horse—Expressivo.

Helen ran to the window, but a lot of people were waiting. The clerks were in no hurry. If the horses got into the starting gate before she made her selection, the ticket was dead. She began to perspire. When she got to the window, she shoved the ticket in and said "3 and 4, please." The man punched up the proper numbers. The announcer said: "The horses are now in the gate." The window slammed shut.

She had barely made it. She and Alfreda and Berger ran out to watch the race. John McGrady stood at the bar, ordering one beer after another and telling himself that he wasn't nervous, that his family was nuts. He heard the roar of the crowd, heard the announcer call Rough Territory, and he ordered another beer. "I think I'm in shock," he said to himself. "I feel so calm."

Helen and the others came back screaming. Green Creek and William E. had been the favorites, but Rough Territory had won. Berger was jumping up and down. McGrady said: "You're going to have a heart attack." Alfreda said that it had just been posted on the odds board that there was only one ticket out on Expressivo in the 9th race and, if the horse won, it would pay $84,692.20, the biggest payoff in racing history.

Helen was choking. Alfreda was wringing her hands. Berger was jumping. McGrady said to the Irish bartender: "Say a little prayer." He kept his back to the track. The bartender could see the stretch. He watched. He polished a glass and whispered: "My God, your horse is out in front by four."

McGrady finished the beer. He was running back, incoherent. Helen had the ticket in her hand, clinked so tight that it was wrinkled. "I think I'm in shock," McGrady said. He and Helen and Berger and Alfreda and the man who wanted to buy half the ticket all walked up to the office of John Matthews, the Mutuels Director.

Helen gave him the ticket. Flashlight were popping. Reporters hit the McGradys with questions. Berger stood aside in silence. The reporters were not interested in John. They wanted a story about a housewife winning the largest amount ever paid at a track.

McGrady got Matthews aside, and told him the real story. The track made out two checks to Helen McGrady for $40,000 each, and gave her $4,692.20 in cash, mostly in hundred dollar bills.

She endorsed one check over to George Berger and gave him $2,000 in cash. She was about to split the $692.20 with him when he waved her away. "I owe John $175 for my half of the ticket," he said, "and you keep the rest."

"Don't forget the tickets to Europe," John said. "We have never traveled." In the morning all the parties were at the office of the Bureau of Internal Revenue in Fort Lauderdale.

The agents questioned the parties separately, to find out who owned how much of the ticket, and how much Uncle Sam—the only sure winner—could take. The cost came to about $14,000 on each half of the ticket. Berger told the agents that he owned only ten per cent of his half, that he had sold the rest. The Bureau told him to get a lawyer and come back.

John and Helen McGrady were left with $29,692.20, plus the $66 she had won on Billro. He put the $7,000 aside to pay the mortgage on the house in Miramar and bought some A. T. & T. stock. For a bill captain, he was in good shape.

The next morning, John McGrady went to the Diplomat and put on his bellman's uniform. One of the secretaries saw him in the lobby. "Don't tell me you're still working here," she said. McGrady thought about it. He sees nothing funny in working "O. Of course I'm still here," he said. "Also, I expect to continue to work here."

He shook his head sadly. People, he felt, worship money. He and Helen had made out well—$29,000 and a trip to Europe—but it was all wild luck. The job? Well, that made some sense. It was steady.

Don Cuddy, the public relations man, walked out of the lobby. McGrady held the glass door open for him. "Bet a buck it rains," said Don, squinting at the sky. McGrady shook his head.

"Nothing doing," he said. "I'm not a betting man."

Drought Farmers Turn to Science For Needed Rain

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Desperate farmers in three drought-stricken counties in Northeastern New York have turned to scientific rain-makers in a continuing quest for aid.

Earlier in the week, farmers in Washington, Rensselaer and Saratoga Counties, where crop damage has been greatest, had asked the federal government for assistance.

Pool $2,800 for Job

Tuesday night in Salem, 180 farmers from the three counties met and collected $2,500 to hire a professional rain-making firm to seed clouds with silver nitrate crystals.

The Lexington, Mass., firm charges $2,000 to set up its equipment and $200 a day while in operation. The company said it would begin setting up today, a process that takes 10 days.

Meanwhile, the weatherman predicted the clouds over Northeastern New York would yield scattered showers on their own, but not enough to relieve the general drought conditions.

Wide Areas Hurt

The rain shortage has hurt crops in counties from Washington through Saratoga and Herkimer, south of Herkimer into Otsego, Delaware, Sullivan and Orange, and also in Suffolk on Long Island, the State Agriculture Department reported Tuesday.

Rainfall in Central and Northern New York has been slightly below normal, with lawn sprinkling bans reported in effect in widely scattered areas.

Adequate in West

The picture is different in Western New York, where rain has been adequate. Tuesday night thunder storms that brought lightning, high winds, rain and hail swept across much of the area, hitting hardest in Niagara, Chautauqua and Erie counties.

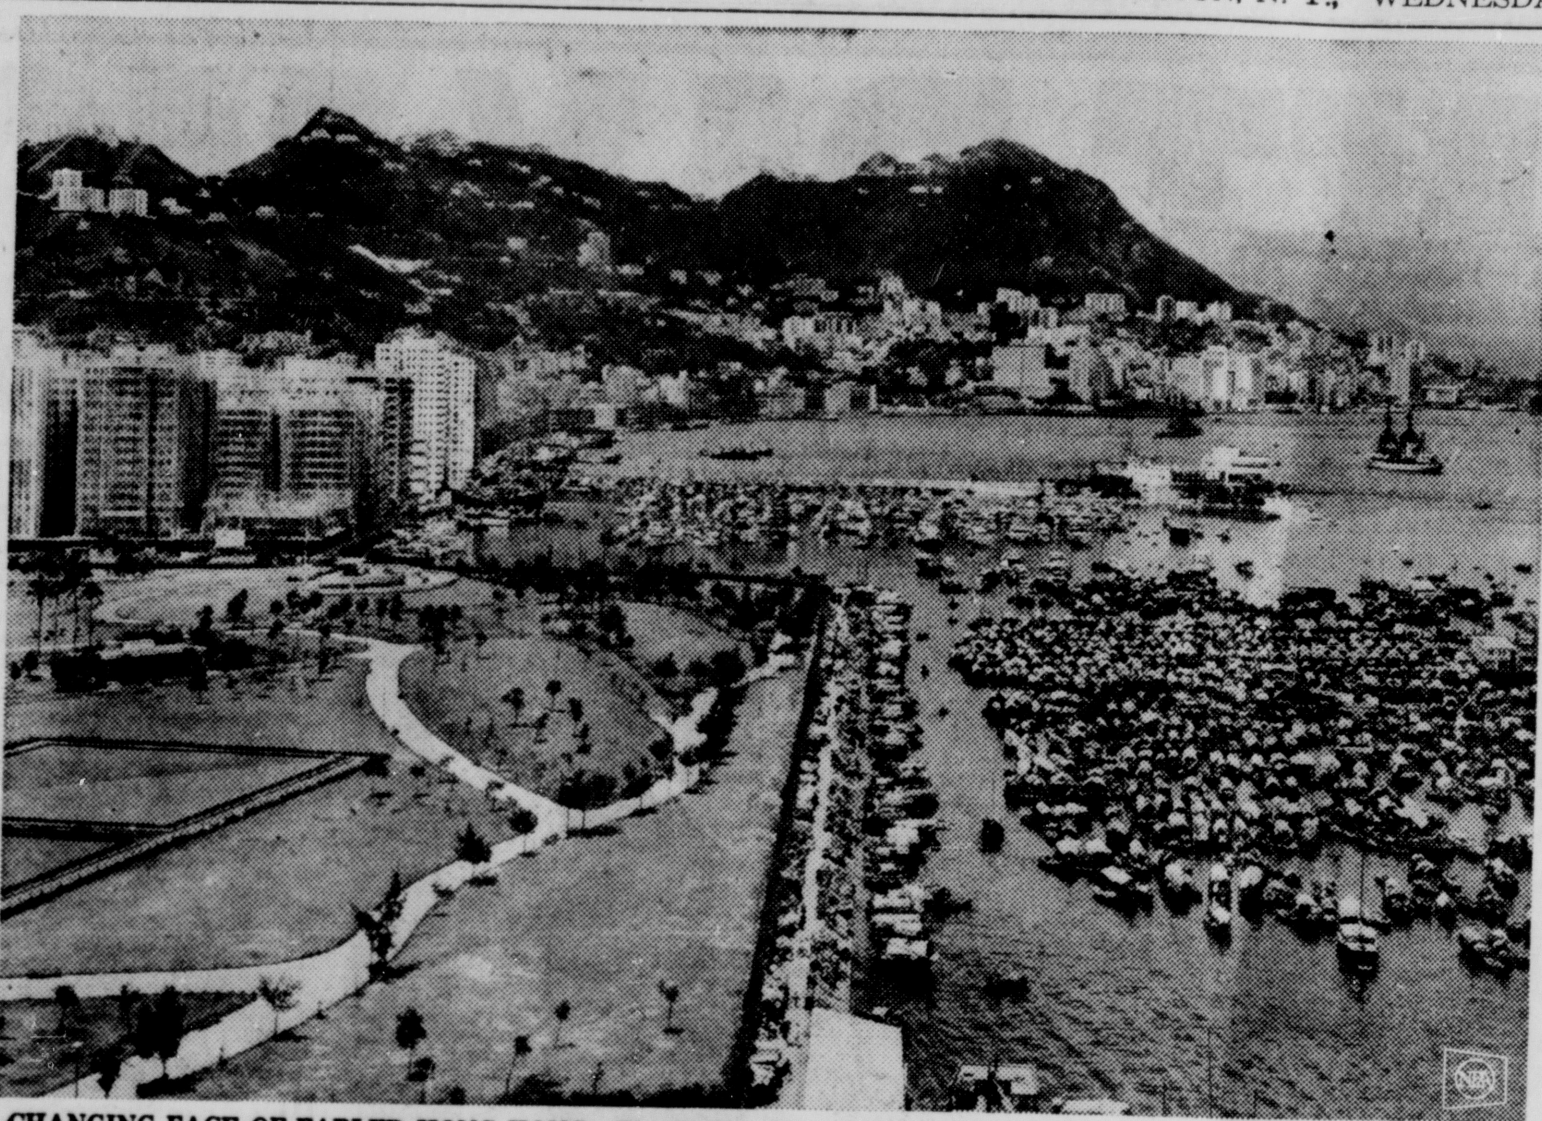

A spokesman said this is the first time that cloud-seeding has been tried in Northeastern New York. The technique was used successfully several years ago by fruit-growers in the Lower Hudson Valley, however.

Will Ask Ban on Arms

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor Robert F. Wagner said today that at the request of Police Commissioner Michael J. Murphy he will ask the city council to enact a local law prohibiting the possession of or carrying of a loaded rifle or shotgun in public.

The proposed law also would prohibit the possession or carrying of an unloaded rifle or shotgun in public unless the weapon was enclosed in a carrying case.

Present law allows a person to appear in public openly carrying a loaded rifle or shotgun.

Hilton Corp. Is Sued by Judge, Day Wait for Room

DETROIT (AP) — A judge who staged a sit-in with his family at a New York hotel last week has brought a $3 million suit against the Hilton Hotel Corp.

Municipal Judge John J. Kadela of suburban Dearborn, his wife and their four children had to stay in a private dining room at the Statler-Hilton Hotel for 24 hours until a room was found for them.

Hotel rooms in New York City have been difficult to obtain because of the influx of the World's Fair visitors. The Kadelas were among the fair-bound tourists.

In his circuit court suit filed Tuesday, Kadela asked that the $3 million be put in trust for all the minor children of Michigan who might receive similar treatment from the hotel firm. He asked that he be named their guardian.

Kadela asked $1 in damages for himself.

Monaghan Must Return Deposit On Defunct Deal

NEW YORK (AP) — A former New York City police commissioner faces a possible jail sentence unless he returns nearly $7,000 in deposit money.

George R. Monaghan, also a former state harness race commissioner, was held in contempt of court Tuesday and fined $7,000 for failing to return the funds after a World's Fair deal fell through.

State Supreme Court Justice Abraham N. Geller said Monaghan could purge himself of the charge if he returned the escrow money at $1,000-a-month, starting in two weeks.

Avalon East, Inc., a food distributing firm, contended Monaghan had failed to give back the funds despite a court order. Geller said Monaghan had represented Fun Food, Inc., in a deal to sublease space to Avalon at the fair.

He said Monaghan later informed Avalon that Fun Food had been unable to obtain space for leasing but then refused to return the escrow money given to launch the deal.

Lawrence Novak of Valatie, heads a slate of officers of the Columbia County Democratic Committee reelected Tuesday night for another term. Other officers are: Attorney Jean Toigi of Claverack, vice-chairman; Vernon Melius of Copake, secretary and John Scheriff of Niverville, treasurer.

New Cars Fill

Up Storage Lots, Delivery Halted

NEW YORK (AP)—New cars rolling off assembly lines in the East were filling storage lots today. A strike by Teamster Union locals has stopped delivery of the cars to dealers.

The strike, begun by several locals Monday night and Tuesday, was described as a revolt against Teamster Union President James R. Hoffa's plan for a nationwide contract in the car-carrying industry.

Involved in the dispute were car-carrying terminals, usually located near assembly plants, from Framingham, Mass., to Baltimore. At least eight plants were affected. General Motors, Ford and Chrysler plants were expected to keep operating at least until the end of the week. Most were looking for extra storage space for new cars.

FOOD FOR AMERICANS

Keep Cool With a Key Lime Pie

By GAYNOR MADDOX

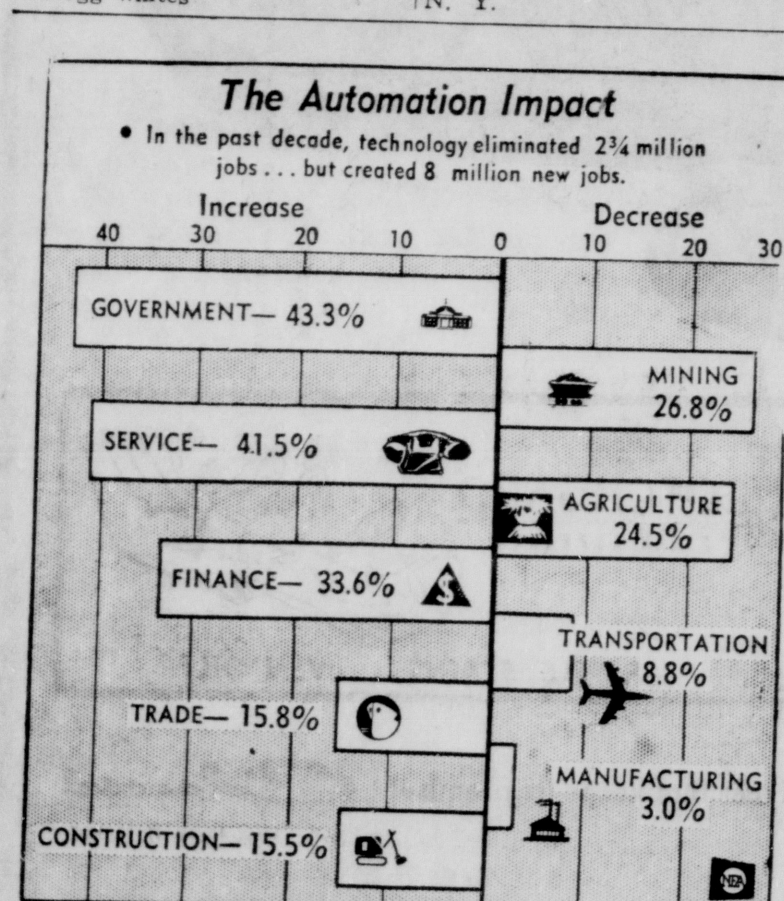

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. The cooling flavor of fresh limes is hard to beat when the thermometer goes sky high. But limes are not always in the market or else cost a little too much. That's why it is good news that there's a new Key lime pie filling on the market that turns out desserts not quite but almost as delightful as fresh limes.

This Key Lime Meringue Pie recipe is a modern version of a famous pie originated in the Florida Keys centuries ago. The original pie, food historians say, was a custard filling in a pastry shell with a lightly browned, baked meringue topping.

KEY LIME MERINGUE PIE

(1 9-inch pie)
1 package Key lime flavor pie filling
1/4 cup sugar
2 1/2 cups water
2 egg yolks, slightly beaten
2 egg whites

1/4 cup sugar
1 9-inch pie shell, baked and cooled
Combine Key lime flavor pie filling and 1/2 cup sugar in a saucepan. Gradually add water and egg yolks, stirring to keep mixture smooth. Cook over medium high heat stirring constantly, until mixture begins to boil. If undissolved, break flavor capsule and stir into filling. Cool slightly. Pour into baked and cooled pie shell. Beat egg whites until foamy. Gradually add and beat in the 1/4 cup sugar. Beat until peaks hold. Spread meringue over filling and seal well to crust. Bake in a hot oven (425 degrees) about 5 minutes.

WHERE THE JOBS ARE—Although automation has eliminated many jobs during the last ten years, it has also created many. Employment in the mining industry decreased 26.8 per cent, for example, but government employment increased 43.3 per cent, according to the U.S. Department of Labor. The Newschart shows significant increases and decreases.

Can't Be Draft, Lodge Declares

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — Henry Cabot Lodge's return from South Viet Nam might offer Republicans a choice of candidates to oppose Sen. Barry Goldwater or the GOP presidential nomination.

Lodge announced in Saigon Tuesday he was quitting his ambassadorial post and coming home because he felt it was his "duty to do everything that I can to help Gov. Scranton to win for president."

Later, he said "there are no hidden meanings" in his decision to return to the United States and he is "not a candidate at all." He added, "I am not going back at all in order to connive at anything for myself. I cannot be drafted."

Decision Heralded

Lodge's decision to jump into presidential politics was widely heralded by the backers of Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton as a major development in his efforts to win delegates away from Goldwater.

Scranton said he was delighted by Lodge's decision to return and added, "This is another big boost for this rapidly expanding campaign." He said he hoped to have Lodge "go around and tell the people why they should be for me."

Discounted by Goldwater

Supporters of Goldwater, who has more than enough publicly committed convention votes to win the nomination if his delegates stand pat, generally discounted Lodge's move.

Goldwater, in a statement issued Tuesday, avoided any reference to Lodge's declaration that he would campaign for Scranton.

Instead, the Arizona said, "Ambassador Lodge is to be congratulated for bearing up this long under such adverse conditions. The Johnson-McNamara program of indecision and vacillation has made it impossible for him to carry out his ambassadorial functions properly and undoubtedly motivated his resignation." Lodge gave no hint of such a factor in his letter of resignation.

Look at Lodge Popularity

While nobody questioned the sincerity of Lodge's commitment to back Scranton, some party strategists noted there were elements present that could lead to unpredictable developments.

This would be true particularly, they said, if there was a resurgence of Lodge's popularity in the national polls. These listed him as top choice of the rank and file for the nomination before he ran second to New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller in the May 15 Oregon primary. Some polls still give Lodge high ratings.

Scranton, whose name was on the Oregon ballot, got only 2 per cent of the vote. His meager total there and his low rating in the national polls were viewed by his friends as the natural result of his position then that he was not a candidate and that he would only accept a nomination tendered him as the result of a genuine draft he did not think would come about.

Traver Trial Is In Third Day

Trial of suspended Poughkeepsie Police Lieut. George H. Traver, 51, went into its third day this morning before Dutchess County Judge John R. Schwartz and a jury.

The defendant is charged with second degree assault. He is accused of shooting John Phillips, 32-year-old Highland taxicab driver, during an argument last Nov. 17. Traver, represented by Attorney Edward Filipowicz, has previously pleaded innocent and is on $5,000 bail.

District Attorney Raymond C. Baratta is prosecuting the case. He called several witnesses on Tuesday before court recessed shortly before 5 p. m. until today. Detective Lieut. Richard Hellman of the Town of Poughkeepsie police, who assisted in the preliminary investigation and arrest of Traver, testified that during questioning of the defendant on the night of the alleged assault, Traver remarked,

"Okey, I shot the guy. I don't want any ball, lock me up." Hellman also reportedly testified that Traver was hostile, excitable and vindictive.

Another prosecution witness, Ralph Yando, a bartender at McAuley's tavern on Hooker Avenue, where Traver visited the night of the alleged assault, reportedly replied when asked if in his opinion was Traver intoxicated, "definitely not."

During testimony of Lieut. Hellman, the witness said police obtained a search warrant and entered Traver's home where they found a .32 caliber revolver under a dresser. Police said Traver allegedly hit Phillips with the gun and it discharged, wounding the taxidriver's shoulder.

Other policemen who participated in the investigation, and a physician who treated Phillips for the wound, testified as prosecution witnesses.

Traver, a veteran of 27 years of service as a Poughkeepsie policeman, has an unblemished record as an officer.

The defendant was suspended by Police Chief John L. Martin immediately after his arrest. After the case is disposed of in county court, Traver must face departmental charges before the Police-Fire Trial Board.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

I do not know what would happen to the modern educated youth, if they had to start house-keeping as the Colonists did when they first came here. Now-a-days when the electric power goes off, like it did not too long ago, because of an ice storm, the householder is left without lights, heat, and cooking facilities if they have an all electric home. Often not only do they sit in a cold, dark home, but even the telephone wires may be down, and no radio or TV with the outside world isolates each little modern home. It would not have bothered the colonists one bit. Each household was self-sufficient, often for the winter or several months.

Clayton R. Smith, in his manuscript written sometime in 1925 writes about water power development around here. He writes in part: "As soon as the colonists settlements were made in this vicinity, water power along the Rondout was utilized. There was the grist mill of De Witt at Greenkill, and that of Vernoooy on the Vernoooy Kill, besides numerous saw-mills, tanneries, hat works, knife works. Deputy's Grist Mill at High Falls which was used to grind the cement used in building the canal. With the advent of cement manufacture the power was used in the various mills. Around 1800, Southwick had a tannery and grist mill just below where the Honk Falls power house is located. At the present time there is a tobacco, knife works and paper mills at this point. "This was written in 1925. He mentions that the history of the development of water power along the Rondout by C. P. Dickinson, who owned the Honk Falls Power Co., is very interesting.

Mr. Smith further writes: Thomas Gray, was in the employ of the Thompson-Houston Co., of Boston, Mass. the predecessor of the General Electric Co. They received a contract to install a Hydro-Electric Plant and distribution system for the village of Ellenville. Mr. Gray was sent to install the set up. The installation consisted of a 50 KW generator and water wheel, distribution system 1100 volts at 125 cycles, the first installation of type F. dry transformers and the first constant current transformer.

Mr. Smith's article further explains: "The house lighting was at 55 volts. The generator was installed at the tobacco knife works. Mr. Gray saw the power possibilities which had not been developed at this time at Honk Falls and as C. P. Dickinson was a great friend of his, he spoke to him about it. Mr. Dickinson took a trip to Napanoch to look the thing over. He was favorably impressed and as he had just inherited a large sum of money he decided to purchase and develop the falls. In 1897 the land was purchased and the equipment ordered. At this time the Napanoch Reformatory was being constructed and the Honk Falls Power Co. Power House was built of surplus stone from this building which was quarried on the site."

"This plant was completed and took load for the first time Dec. 8, 1898. The generating equipment consisted of 2-300 KW and two Impulse Turbines, operating under 145' head. The current was generated at 2300 volts, 60 cycles. The load supplied was the Napanoch Reformatory and the Village of Ellenville."

Hollywood News, Views

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Ray (Crash) Corrigan, who endured hundreds of battles in his career as a Western actor, is engaged in the fight of his life. His opponent: his ex-wife.

The prize is the Corriganville movie ranch, 1,611 acres of rock-strewn hills and Western sets 25 miles north of Hollywood. Crash paid $11,000 for it in 1937. A fortnight ago the former Mrs. Corrigan outbid him in court with an offer of $2,506,000 for the property.

Crash has his aces in the hole. If his ex-wife comes up with the purchase price, he'll get half as his share of ownership. His production company holds a 23-year lease on the ranch, so he intends to continue operating it.

This was the latest of a series of court clashes in which the ex-wife, now Mrs. Rita Sultz, has tried to wrest control of the property from Corrigan. She has plans to turn the ranch into a housing development.

"When I bought this place, it had been used as a dump for 30 years," he recalled. "Nothing but tin cans all over. It took me three years to clean it up and build camera roads so movie companies could work here."

"I put 30 years of my life into this place. I built it from nothing into a top tourist attraction that has as many as 15,000 visitors a day.

"I'd like to go on building it. I've had money from the East offer to back me in making this a Western Disneyland."

He continues to operate Corriganville for the summer trade seven days a week. He runs the place with a firm, benevolent hand. At 57, Crash remains a robust figure, able to take a horse fall with the best of the stunt men.

Drowns While on Visit

COVINGTON, N. Y. (AP)—Four-year-old Gail Jackson of Pavilion was drowned Tuesday in a pond on a farm she and her parents were visiting in this Wyoming County village. Sheriff deputies said the girl wandered off and apparently fell into the pond. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jackson.

GE Union Rift Going To Higher Negotiators

SCHENECTADY, N. Y. (AP)—Negotiations between the General Electric Co. and the International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE) in a dispute over piece-work appeared headed for New York City Thursday.

Company representatives walked out of a bargaining session here Tuesday when a union spokesman attempted to tape-record the proceedings.

Under the union-management grievance procedure, the next step is a meeting of high-level GE and IUE representatives in New York City.

The union contends that if that meeting fails to produce a settlement, the union will be free to strike.

The company had announced plans to eliminate piece-work pay rates at its Schenectady plant and to substitute day-work rates, effective July 13.

The union claimed the change would result in reduced pay for 3,000 of the 9,000 employees here.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — There'll be a hot time in the whole country as the three major television networks buckle down to the business of covering politics during the next five months.

All three have come to regard a presidential election year as a time to flex the muscles of their news departments, plunging into furious competition to get on camera first with a news item and in nailing bigwigs for interviews.

It is a time, too, when television experiments with some of the wondrous new electronic developments. This year's little marvel is expected to be a lightweight television camera which, free of the usual tie to an electrical outlet, can go anywhere a cameraman can walk — perhaps even into a smoke-filled room, hitherto out of sight and sound.

Each network is sending huge staffs and tons of equipment to the Republican convention in July and to the Democratic convention in August. Each plans to devote many hours of prime evening time to special programs, documentaries, analyses, explanations and interviews. There will even be politically orientated programs for children and for women.

A delicate job, the broadcaster's special headache, will be keeping a careful balance in time and television exposure among the candidates, between the major parties.

Under the Federal Communications Act, the networks, which

Much Too Obvious

MOUNT VERNON, Ky. (AP)—Fire Chief John Cox estimated damage at $2,000 to $3,000 when as he was trying to start the fire engine, it backfired and gas was ignited under it.

The city then found it had no fire insurance on the fire truck, are exceedingly careful about what is said on the air, are prohibited from censoring the statements of any candidate. Networks or stations may, however, refuse to permit non-candidates from making statements they believe to be libelous or defamatory.

During the campaign months, the networks will be carrying many campaign commercials.

During the late summer and fall, many entertainment programs will be clipped short to make room for them—a situation which may not make viewers, already inundated with commercials, particularly happy.

Politics and political programs, will make things for program arrangers more difficult in September, when the new show season begins.

Anyway, from now until November, it will be a busy time for the network news staffs.

Karume Unversed in Infiltration

Western Influence Is Waning
As Reds Move Into Zanzibar

By DENNIS NEELD
ZANZIBAR (AP)—The Soviet Union, Communist China and East Germany are pumping men, services and machines into Zanzibar.

President Julius Nyerere of the new Republic of Tanganyika and Zanzibar is trying to assert his authority in the island 25 miles off the East African mainland.

Zanzibar's own president, Abdulla Karume, 59, a Moslem, probably has no deep love of communism. But the island leader, a seaman for 22 years, seems unversed in the ways of Communist infiltration.

Helpers Are Welcome

Asked this month about Communists in positions of authority in Zanzibar, he replied: "What are one or two men? I have the power and I have my own eyes and ears."

Karume cites generous Communist aid as an indication of the bloc's friendship and says anyone who helps Zanzibar is welcome.

Some 150 technicians and experts from the Communist bloc are believed to be working in Zanzibar.

British civil servants have been replaced. East Germans have taken over the Finance Ministry and are helping run the radio station, Information Ministry, schools and medical services. They are doing preliminary work on projects to rehouse thousands of Africans huddled in squalid shanties outside Zanzibar town.

The Red Chinese are firmly ensconced in the agriculture department and are planning for rice growing and other farm schemes to reduce the island's dependence on cloves.

Equipment, Services

China has granted Zanzibar an interest-free loan of $14 million, much of which will be in the form of equipment and services.

Soviet technicians have taken over running of the harbor and providing officers for Zanzibar's two coastal passenger ships. Soviet instructors are training about 400 recruits in the use of their new Soviet equipment.

Some of this was displayed at the big May Day parade, "but you didn't see all of it," says Maj. Ali Mahfoud, the army's Havana-indoctrinated second in command.

Train Behind Curtain

The army largely is officered by Zanzibaris of Arab origin and small groups have been sent behind the Iron Curtain for further training. Other Zanzibari troops reportedly are being sent to Indonesia.

As a result of Nyerere's influence, Zanzibari troops have discarded their Cuban-style caps and uniforms and now wear the standard green berets and uniforms of the Tanganyika forces.

Communist literature is everywhere. The Soviet Embassy hands it out to school children. The works of Mao Tse-tung crowd bookshops.

The United States embassy has also been permitted to reopen its reading room since Zanzibar and Tanganyika agreed to unite.

Western diplomats are hopeful Karume's African nationalism may come out on top and that Western presence may slowly be re-established.

Equalization
For Rosendale
4 Points Less

The final equalization rate for Rosendale Village, '64, based on 1963 assessment rolls established by the State Board of Equalization and Assessment this week, is four points less than last year.

The rates set by the state are the ratio between the assessed value of local real property and its actual full value as determined by the state. When market values rise in a community but assessments do not, the rates drop.

Lower rates usually mean an increased share of school taxes and a lesser portion of state aid where centralized districts are involved.

Today in History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is Wednesday, June 24, the 176th day of 1964. There are 190 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1948, the Soviet Union blockaded all land traffic between occupied Berlin and West Germany in a dispute over currency. The next day American and British planes began to supply the city in a gigantic airlift which lasted 321 days.

On this date in 1520, the Spanish conqueror of Mexico, Hernando Cortez, entered Mexico City.

In 1793, the first French Republic constitution was adopted.

In 1940, Marshal Petain's French government signed an armistice with Italy.

In 1941, President Franklin D. Roosevelt pledged that all possible aid would be granted to Russia.

In 1945, Adolf Hitler's personal flag was dragged in the dust as the feature of a victory parade in Moscow.

Ten years ago... Many areas of Des Moines, Iowa, were flooded when the Des Moines River reached a record high crest.

Five years ago... Vice President Richard Nixon and Soviet Premier Khrushchev met for the first time at a conference in Moscow.

One year ago... The Internal Revenue Service liberalized some of its new rules on expense-account tax deduction following protests by business leaders.

Scranton Makes Pitch for Votes In West Virginia

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania flew to Charleston, W.Va., today to bid for Southern Republican support in his drive for the presidential nomination.

Viet Still Issue
As Scranton's plane took off from Newark, sources close to the governor said that the entry of Henry Cabot Lodge into the political fight on Scranton's side would not eliminate South Viet Nam as an issue in the campaign.

Lodge resigned his ambassadorship to Viet Nam to return to the United States and work for Scranton.

The sources, who declined to be quoted directly, said Scranton has not changed his position that foreign affairs—particularly the Southeast Asia situation—are the No. 1 line of attack against the Johnson administration.

Scranton has said that in the post of ambassador, Lodge merely was an agent of the President. As such, he said, Lodge's position could not be construed as neutralizing Republicans on policy in that area.

Also Eyes Florida
The 46-year-old governor, seeking to overtake the front-running Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, set his sights today on West Virginia's 14 convention delegates and the 34-vote bloc of Florida.

Scranton's aides said today's trip was aimed mainly at shoring up the uncommitted ranks in the two delegations. The second aim was conversion of delegates to the Scranton cause—particularly those now backing Goldwater.

Goldwater leads the Associated Press poll with 694 delegates, more than enough for nomination if he can hold them.

In West Virginia, the Arizona senator has four delegates, Scranton has two and eight are uncommitted. In Florida Goldwater has 22; 11 are uncommitted, and one stands opposed to Goldwater.

Gov. Enthusiastic
Scranton was enthusiastic about the results of his delegate hunt in Delaware and New Jersey.

He claimed "far more than a majority" of the 12-vote Delaware delegation. Sen. Clifford P. Case of New Jersey told newsmen Scranton could expect a "big majority" of the 40-vote New Jersey delegation.

The Delaware delegation pledged itself officially to favor the son Sen. John J. Williams for the first ballot. New Jersey delegates decided to remain uncommitted, at least until after they meet with Goldwater in Trenton Monday.

Scranton met privately with the New Jersey delegates before addressing a $100-a-plate Republican fund-raising dinner.

County Welfare Cost $2,307,923; Gain Is 7.9 PC

The cost for public welfare programs and their administration in Ulster County was $2,307,923 in 1963, according to a report by the Citizens Public Expenditure Survey, Inc., a statewide tax research organization.

The figure marks an increase of 7.9 per cent compared with the 1962 total of $2,138,747.

The monthly average number of recipients was 2,388 for the county during 1963 or 18.5 per 1,000 county residents. This was an increase of .8 per 1,000 county residents from the 1962 figure of 17.7 per 1,000.

Based on the number of recipients per 1,000 population Ulster County ranked 48th among New York's 57 counties and New York City. The average for 1963 was 25.9 outside New York City.

On a statewide basis the total cost for public welfare programs increased as did the number of recipients. The Survey reported that the total state sum for welfare programs and their administration during 1963 was $87.9 million, an increase of $8.9 million from the 1962 total of $79 million, a 15.1 per cent rise.

The total monthly average number of recipients on a statewide basis rose from 584,271 in 1962 to 647,817 in 1963. The upstate counties accounted for 248,196 of the monthly average number of recipients during 1963 as compared to 220,729 recipients per month during 1962.

The Survey noted that the bulk of public welfare spending goes for public assistance programs. These are old age assistance, aid to the disabled, aid to the blind, aid to dependent children, home relief and medical assistance for the aged.

Statewide there were 37.3 recipients for every 1,000 New York residents.

Fifty counties registered an increase in the average number of monthly welfare recipients per 1,000 population and the seven other upstate counties dropped.

Only four counties registered a decrease in welfare expenditures plus administration—Washington County, Orange County, St. Lawrence County and Greene County.

$180,000 Voted By Senate for Maple Research

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Interior Department appropriations bill, passed by the Senate Tuesday, provided $180,000 to establish a National Maple Production Research Center in Burlington, Vt.

The House-approved measure did not include this item. But Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., who obtained insertion of the provision, said he hoped Senate-House conferees would include his proposal in the compromise bill.

"The results of this work can have wide application in some 13 or 14 states, from Maine to Michigan," Aiken said. "The present deficit position of our maple industry is serious because we don't begin to produce enough maple to supply the wants of our people, and have to rely heavily on imports from Canada."

The Province of Quebec leads the world in maple syrup production, followed by Vermont and New York.

Lodge Can't See Viet War as Nov. Issue

Johnson Is Not Alone In Problem Goldwater Gives Different Version

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Henry Cabot Lodge said today he doesn't see how the war in Viet Nam can be an issue in the U.S. presidential campaign—"It involves the Eisenhower administration and the Kennedy and Johnson administrations, and the Truman administration."

"In history when you've had a disaster," Lodge told newsmen, "then that becomes a political issue, even if the politicians do not do anything about it. But of course there's no outlook of that kind for the time."

Lodge announced his resignation as U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam Tuesday and said he was returning to the United States to help Gov. William W. Scranton's campaign for the Republican presidential nomination.

Goldwater Speaks
The front-runner for the nomination, Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, said in Washington that "the Johnson - McNamara program of indecision and vacillation has made it impossible for (Lodge) to carry out his ambassadorial functions properly and undoubtedly motivated his resignation."

But Lodge said he had been on excellent terms with President Johnson's administration. In an earlier statement Tuesday night, he said: "Viet Nam is on the right track and, with persistence, its freedom and independence will surely be achieved."

To Help Scranton
Lodge, Republican vice-presidential candidate four years ago said he is returning only to help Scranton, governor of Pennsylvania, and is "not a candidate at all."

"I am not going back at all in order to connive at anything for myself," he said. "I cannot be drafted and there are no hidden meanings."

The ambassador plans to leave Saigon Sunday, a year and a day after he was appointed by the late President John F. Kennedy.

A U.S. military source said the military command in Saigon expects intensification of the war against the Communist Viet Cong to result from the appointment of Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, to succeed Lodge.

I DREAMT I DWELT IN MARBLE HALLS—With visions of conventions past whirling in his head, Sen. Barry Goldwater, front-runner for the Republican presidential nomination would like very much to do a similar performance at the 1964 convention in San Francisco. Only he'd like the script changed to read: "I accept your nomination." Photo was taken at 1960 convention in Chicago.

RFK Closes One Door to Senate, Other Left Ajar

Deaths Mar Macy's Show

Cheers Silenced By News of Blast

NEW YORK (AP) — A firework-laden barge exploded in a fury of rockets, flares and bombs on the Hudson River Tuesday night, killing two men. Thousands of spectators cheered. They thought it was part of the show.

Half a million persons lined the riverbanks in Manhattan and New Jersey for the fireworks spectacle, produced since 1957 by Macy's department store.

Boyhood Burro Replaced

PATCHOGUE, N. Y. (AP) — A 73-year-old man, James Nelson, whose father refused to let him keep a pet burro bought for a shilling in Ireland more than 60 years ago, recently got a present from his daughter, Mrs. Charles Kemp: a burro purchased for $51 at a livestock auction conducted by the New York City Department of Purchases.

Mrs. Kemp said she had heard her father lament his lost burro for years and thought that if she got him one he might give up his job as a ship caulker and stay home to take care of the burro.

Nelson was delighted with his new pet, but refused to consider retiring since he insists he is "as strong as an ox, or, at least, as a burro."

But it left open the door to any invitation from President Johnson to join him as vice-presidential nominee on the Democratic ticket.

Much Speculation

Thus ended long weeks of speculation whether Kennedy would accede to the urgings of New York friends and Democratic leaders, move to the Empire State and seek the nomination to run against Republican Sen. Kenneth B. Keating.

"I deeply appreciate the loyalty and friendship of those who have urged me to run and who believe I could perform a service for the people of New York," Kennedy said in a statement handed out at the Justice Department.

"However, in fairness to them and to end speculation, I wish to state that I will not be a candidate for United States senator from New York," he said.

There was little elaboration on Kennedy's statement from the Justice Department. But two key factors emerged as most influential.

One is the civil rights picture. Final passage of the rights bill, with all of its enforcement problems, is imminent. The beginnings of the "long, hot summer" in race relations already are evident. The attorney general is the nation's top civil rights strategist. He has committed himself to staying on the job through Johnson's present term. And his hands will be full of civil rights chores.

The second factor is his brother, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., whose back was broken in a plane crash last week.

Tuesday's decision threw into sharper focus Robert Kennedy's role as head of the Kennedy family since the assassination last November of his brother, President John F. Kennedy. His injured younger brother — up for re-election this fall — will add to the demands on Robert Kennedy's time. And to run in New York, he feels, would require an immediate campaign.

The attorney general will speak this Friday on the first anniversary of John F. Kennedy's stirring speech to Berliners, when he proclaimed himself one of them in spirit. Robert Kennedy will speak from the identical spot in the John F. Kennedy Square in West Berlin.

From Germany he will travel to Poland, next to London, before returning during the first week in July.

Less than an hour earlier, an explosion destroyed an ammunition room in the sub-basement of a Manhattan armory where about 385 National Guard reservists were attending a weekly drill.

Nineteen were injured. All but four were released after hospital treatment. Two of the four were in serious condition.

Cause of the blast, which knocked out heavy concrete walls and blew off the steel doors to the room, has not been determined.

Miss. Holds Two Rights Workers

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — A spokesman for a civil rights organization said early today two civil rights volunteer workers had been arrested at Moss Point in southern Mississippi.

The spokesman, Bob Byers of the Council of Federated Organizations, said sheriff's deputies at Moss Point refused to give the charges over the telephone.

The Jackson County sheriff's office and city police at Moss Point and nearby Pascagoula said they had no knowledge of any arrests.

Byers said the pair, identified as Ronald Ridenour, 24, of Venice, Calif., and Howard Kirchenbaum, of Long Beach, L.I., N.Y., had been arrested by sheriff's deputies.

Byers, whose organization coordinates activities of all major civil rights groups in the state, said three attorneys were en route to Moss Point to represent the pair.

Ridenour and Kirchenbaum were among some 175 summer volunteers, mostly college students, who arrived in the state over the weekend to work in civil rights projects.

Byers also said that a meeting hall for civil rights groups had been burned Tuesday night at Moss Point. A fire department dispatcher said the only reported blaze in that general vicinity was a small brush fire.

LABORATORY UNDER THE SEA—Scott Carpenter, right, who was one of the U.S. astronauts who spent time in space, has gone to the other extreme. He has now spent time under the sea. Carpenter was included in the five men who made up the crew of Sealab I, the Navy's underwater research laboratory, left. The men lived and did research in the 40-foot lab 192 feet under the sea southwest of Bermuda.

Sullivan Man Is Killed in Mishap

A Sullivan County co-owner of a garage, who observed his 28th birthday on Tuesday, was killed early today in a highway accident on Route 52 about two miles east of Route 17, Town of Liberty.

Ferdale state police reported Walter Cook Jr., of Kiamasha Park, Monticello, died of multiple fractures at the scene of the mishap.

According to a report of Troopers Carl Van Wageningen, Larry Reer and Stanley Kowalik, Cook was westbound on Route 52 about 1:45 a.m. when his car failed to negotiate a right curve. The vehicle careened onto the south shoulder, traveled 269 feet continued on in a drainage ditch a distance of 194 feet, glanced off a tree, veered across the highway and went 126 feet before it hit an embankment and came to a stop.

Troopers said Cook rode with the car until it stopped, and at that point he was ejected from the vehicle and was pinned by the wheels. Cook had no seat belts, troopers said. They identified the victim as co-owner of a garage near Monticello.

Slam Bid Was Up to North

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
East took his ace of diamonds right away. It was well that he did, otherwise South would have made all 13 tricks instead of only 12.
North and South were not happy about the result because they had missed a laydown slam. I was asked to comment on the bidding.
I will start with South's jump to three hearts. Many experts would have bid two hearts only. I would have jumped to three just as South did and continued to sign off with minimum rebids of my own suit from then on, just as South did.
North did not like South's three-heart bid, because North felt that South should not make that bid without some sort of support for spades.
This idea is bunk. It is nice to have a fit for partner's suit, but when you have a self-sufficient suit of your own, you don't need this support; or you have so many high cards that you can see a probable slam in high cards alone.

In any event, North should have gone on to slam after South bid his hearts for the third time. North was probably afraid of a diamond lead through his king, but if South didn't have anything in spades and couldn't have anything more than the jack in clubs, the chances were that he would hold the queen of diamonds. Failing that, it was still even money that the king would be in back of the ace. So, at worst, North should have realized that the slam would depend on a finesse.

Simulated Space Trips

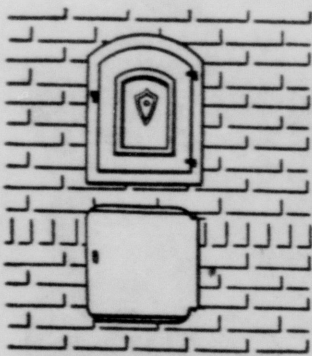

DOWNEY, Calif. (AP)—Scientists here are building what they call the world's largest centrifuge—a machine so big it can take four men on 30-day simulated space flights.
Two capsules mounted at any point on the 150-foot rotating arm each will carry two men, equipment and provisions sufficient for a month's spin, scientists say.
Researchers hope that studying human reactions to the prolonged rotation will give them clues on how man can live and work in space.

Everybody Missed

SALEM, Kan. (AP)—Attendance was the lowest in the months when the Salem 4-H Club celebrated "Health Month" at its May meeting.
The reason: Mostly mumps and measles among members.

A Lot Dependson Astronomers
For Man's Race in Outer Space

By RALPH DIGHTON

LOS ANGELES (AP) — You have probably never met one.

They're nocturnal, mostly, and dwell on mountain tops in silvery domes that open only at night.

But they do come down into the cities occasionally, to greet their wives, kiss their kids and pick up fresh supplies.

You could, conceivably, bump into one.

If you do and his clothes look a little rumpled, it's probably because they've been on him all night, neglected while he gazed at sights in time and space that only his kind can see.

Deals With Other Worlds

If you talk to him and his words have little meaning to you

it's because he thinks in a polyglot jargon of technical terms invented to convey ideas beyond the ken of ordinary mortals.

If he seems like he's from another world — it's because that is what he deals with most of the time: Other worlds.

But treasure the meeting — you've just met a new kind of national hero.

He's an astronomer.

The blazing dawn of the space age has thrown a sudden light of public recognition on this savant of the night.

Once he wore black robes and peaked cap, and ordinary folk thought he could tell the future from the stars.

When it became a national goal to rocket humans into the hostile environment of the moon and planets, only the astronomer could plot the trajectories and guess what the explorers would encounter on their arrival.

Before the space age opened with the launching of man-made satellites in 1957, the biggest single sum of money astronomers had ever been given to spend was $6 million in private funds — the cost of the 200-inch telescope on Palomar Mountain in Southern California.

Greater Spending to Come

Since 1957, some $50 million in government money has been granted by the National Science Foundation to Kitt Peak National Observatory at Tucson, Ariz., and the National Radio Astronomy Observatory at Green Bank, W. Va.

Even greater expenditures are planned for a new astronomical center being developed by five European nations and this country on the peaks of northern Chile.

A few years ago discovery that the atmosphere of Mars was even thinner than supposed would have rated attention only in scientific journals. Today it wins headlines in newspapers all over the world — because it means more millions than planned must be spent learning how to soft-land instruments and men safely on that most earth-like of planets.

More Visitors Come

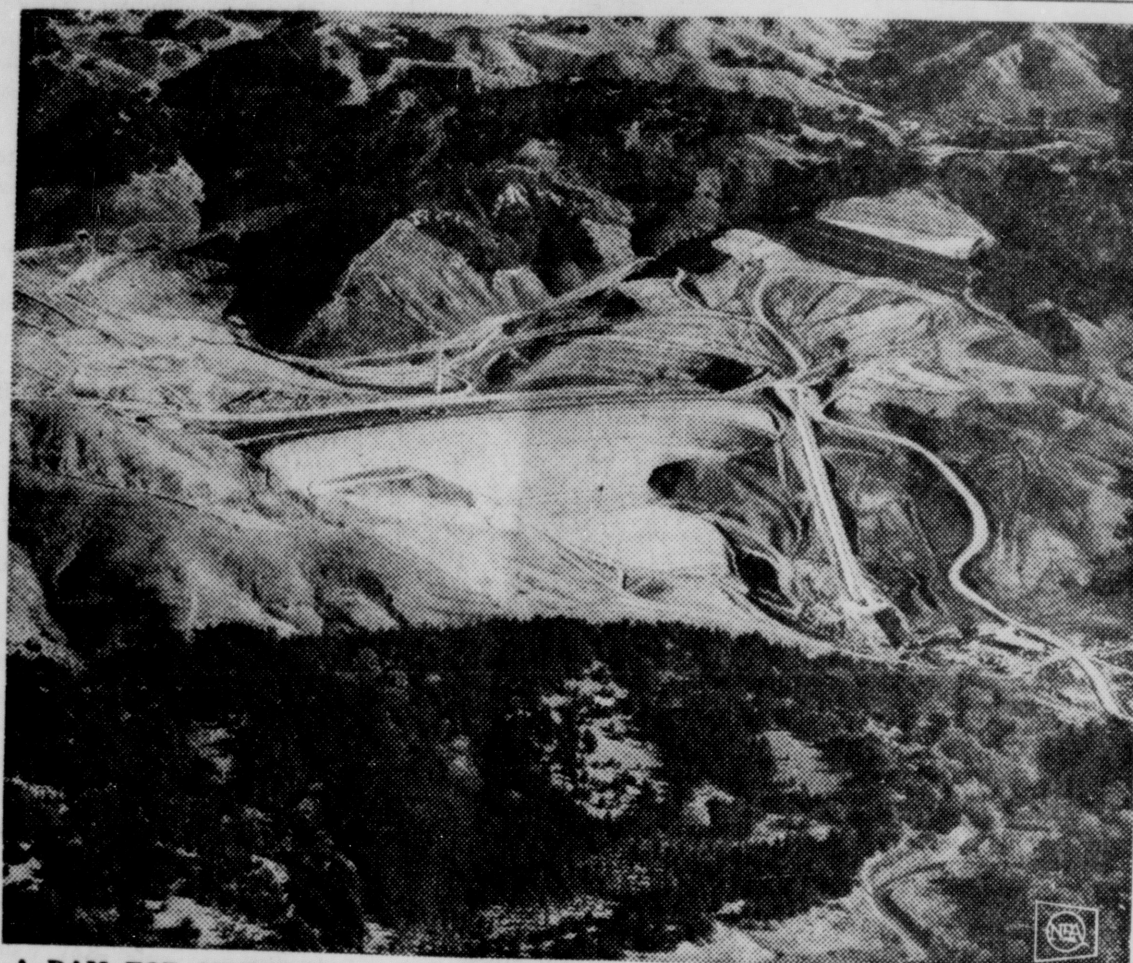

When the huge telescope on Palomar Mountain 100 miles south of Los Angeles was opened to public view in 1948, nonprofessional visitors were rare. Last year more than 15,000 had a glimpse through the giant glass eye of light from objects trillions of miles away.

In 1957, the nation's universities counted 168 graduates in astronomy. But last year the number had risen to 524 and hundreds more were rejected for lack of facilities.

The star-gazer's formal training lasts as long as a physician's. Twenty years or more of study pass before he wins his doctorate.

The astronomer today must be a master of mathematics and physics.

He must also know geology and chemistry, so he can understand the make-up of other planets; biology and botany; electronics and engineering; the new science of nuclear energy, because the sun and other stars are hydrogen bombs in endless explosion; four to six foreign languages; and public affairs, because today he spends a great deal of public money and consequently is involved in politics.

A DAM FOR NORTHERN CALIFORNIA—Briones Dam, largest in the San Francisco Bay area, is nearing completion. Designed by Kaiser Engineers for East Bay Municipal Utility District in Oakland, the dam is 2,100 feet long and 330 feet high. The reservoir, which will impound 22 billion gallons of water, will start filling in the fall. The dam is located on Bear Creek.

Central Park Is Scene of Third Slaying in Months

NEW YORK (AP) — An unemployed cook was held today on a homicide charge in the stabbing of an unidentified man — the third slaying in Central Park in 10 weeks.

The prisoner was identified by police as Joseph Grondin, 27, of Concord, N.H.

Police said Grondin gave this account:

While he was in the park, he was accosted by the unidentified man who made an indecent proposal. The two argued, the unidentified man pulled out a carving knife, Grondin wrestled it away and stabbed him repeatedly.

The previous most recent slaying in the park was that of Lawrence Krebs, 27, a bartender, who was found shot to death in a passenger seat of an auto on the night of April 24.

Joseph (Crazy Joe) Donohue, 37, identified by police as a strong-arm specialist for waterfront gamblers and loan sharks, was indicted June 17 on a charge of first-degree murder in Krebs' death.

The body of Dr. Charles J. Gallagher Jr., 31-year-old assistant physics professor at Columbia University, was found by a stroller in the park at daybreak on April 15. Gallagher was shot once in the chest. He was not robbed, the murder gun has not been found and his slaying remains a mystery.

Cuba Mines Coast

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The Exile News Service claimed today that Cuba's northwest coast has been mined to prevent anti-Castro landings and to keep Cubans from fleeing the country.

Teener Loses Limbs Under Moving Train

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Two women watched Tuesday as a teen-age boy leaped from car to car on a slow-moving train — then slipped and plunged to the tracks.

"I shouted to him, real loud, to lie still and not move," said Mrs. Lois Walsh.

The boy apparently heard. He ducked his head.

Then, said Mrs. Walsh "something beneath one of the cars caught him and turned him over and over beneath the wheels." When ambulance attendants reached the scene, they called for the coroner. The apparently lifeless body of Walter Felder lay between the tracks. The train's wheels had amputated his arms and legs.

Then attendants detected a spark of life. Walter, 13, was hospitalized. Five surgeons battled to keep him alive. In a corridor outside, his mother, Ann McGruder, 42, waited. "My boy is strong," she said. "He's very husky. I'm sure if anyone can pull through this, he can. He's a real boy."

Nova 6-Passenger Station Wagon

CHEVY II by Chevrolet

If you thought Chevy II was thrifty before, you should see your Chevrolet dealer now

You couldn't pick a better time to buy one! Stick with Chevy II and you'll go places this summer—economically. Spacious wagons. Sedans. Sporty Sport Coupes. Take your pick. They're all tightwads.

The Nova wagon for instance, like all Chevy II's, adjusts its own brakes. It's got a Delcotron generator to lengthen a battery's life. The engines are real gas scooters. And the rocker panels take in rain water to flush themselves free of rust-causing salt and dirt.

Inside the Nova wagon, where you can seat six anglers with tackle boxes, there's deep-twist carpeting surrounded by vinyl that's as washable as tile. Behind that, a storage area with as much room as the insides of seven good-sized refrigerators. And that kind of space is going to bring home a lot of sunfish.

FOR THE

As for rough terrain, Chevy II gobbles it up painlessly. And quietly. The unitized body is turtle-tight. The same unique single-leaf rear springs that contribute to Chevy II's smooth ride are also geared to take more of a beating than comparable multi-leaf springs. These springs can't squeak and never need lubricating.

This all naturally leads us to price. Your Chevrolet dealer has that pleasant story. Why don't you two get together and make some vacation plans.

Gov. Rockefeller proclaimed Friday, July 3 a special holiday "in recognition of faithful and conscientious service rendered by state employees."

Keating, Javits Request Federal Mint in State

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sens. Kenneth B. Keating and Jacob K. Javits, New York Republicans, have urged construction of a federal mint in New York as the answer to a nationwide coin shortage.

Keating Tuesday introduced a bill to authorize the mint. He said the coin shortage was serious and New York, because of its financial and commercial preeminence, was the logical place for a new mint. He said even with the new mint planned for Philadelphia, the increased demand for coins is expected to outpace the production capacities of the Denver and Philadelphia mints.

Saved for Sad Lovers

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — "Lovers Leap," a scenic stretch of property overlooking Birmingham, has been saved from the clutches of commercialism. A Circuit Judge ruled that a 1935 oral agreement by Jonas W. Schwab in which he dedicated the favorite spot to the public is valid forever even though Schwab did not put it in writing. A man who purchased the property from Schwab's heirs had planned to erect a filling station and tearoom on the spot.

Cares for Increase Of Patients in Retarded Group

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — New York is caring for fewer patients in mental hospitals and more patients in schools for the mentally retarded than a year ago, according to a state report. Mental Hygiene Commissioner Paul H. Hoch reported Tuesday that the resident population of the state's mental hospitals was 85,278 on March 31, compared with 85,961 a year earlier. Resident population has declined each year since 1955, when the figure was 93,559, he said.

In state schools for the mentally retarded, the resident population increased by 566 patients, to nearly 24,382, in the year ending March 31.

Dear Abby . . .

She's Too Old To Change!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: We live on a farm and my sister, who is in her 40's, does the farm work. She wears jeans and a blouse and goes out in the field with the tractor to work. When it gets hot, she sheds her blouse and works in her bra. She is of a slight build, and has little for anyone to see, but all the same, when my parents, and brothers and sisters-in-law meet her out-of-doors dressed like that they blow their stacks. She says it's no different than being on the beach in a swim suit. Lots of strangers come by our place, but she says it's our property and if they don't like what they see they don't have to look. Who is right? And how do you handle a situation like this?

SLIPPERY ROCK

DEAR SLIPPERY: A "bra" is an undergarment and should not be worn as an outer garment. There are halter for that purpose. In my opinion, your sister should wear halter. However, a 40-year-old woman who drives a tractor is not interested in a lecture from me (OR from you) on propriety and fashion. Be realistic and give up.

DEAR ABBY: I just read the letter from the 12-year-old girl who resented being an UNPAID BABY-SITTER for her parents. I am 16 and have two younger sisters and a baby brother. My father works from seven A. M. until six P. M., six days a week, and my mother is tied down to her housework and the children all day. I've been baby-sitting for four years. I like to earn money, too, but I would give up a date or a baby-sitting job at the slightest hint that my parents wanted to go out for an evening. They deserve it! Who needs to be paid?

Their love and appreciation are all the pay I want. "Unpaid" is only 12. She had better overcome her selfishness and be grateful that she can do something for her parents.
RUTH B. IN ERIE, PA.

DEAR RUTH: It's a joy to print your letter. I wish my readers knew how many WHOLE-SOME, GENEROUS, and CONSIDERATE teenagers there are. Unfortunately, the only ones they read about are those who get into trouble.

DEAR ABBY: Please don't think I am stupid, but I don't know where else to get this information. When living in a rented house, who is supposed to take down the storm windows and put up the screens? The tenant or the owner?

INTERESTED PARTY

DEAR INTERESTED: Unless it is specifically stated in the contract, the owner assumes that responsibility. (Are you trying to pass the buck or save one?)

CONFIDENTIAL TO MADAME L.O.: Do not assume that, because a man boasts that in all his life he has never smoked a cigarette or tasted whisky, he has not done worse.

Lake Is Searched, Boy Found in Yard

While a rescue squad grappled in municipally-operated Oakdale Lake in Columbia County Tuesday night, after a boy had reportedly disappeared in the water, the child was found by police playing in his back yard.

Greenport Rescue Squad went to the lake after receiving a report that a 5-year-old boy was seen going beneath the surface of the lake. Hudson police also went to the scene and on their arrival found grappling efforts in progress.

Another boy told police he had spoken to the reportedly missing boy a block away from the beach only moments before and police found the boy playing in his yard.

Capitol News In Brief

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

WASHINGTON (AP)—It has been Rep. Otto E. Passman's boast that his appropriations subcommittee has slashed more than $8 billion from foreign aid in the nine years he has been chairman.

Tuesday, the Louisiana Democrat was beaten in his own subcommittee. It refused to go along with Passman's demand for a $514 million cut in the $3.5-billion foreign aid bill.

Passman stalked out of the closed meeting, telling reporters he would temporarily step down as chairman so he could oppose the bill on the floor.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House climaxed a long fight with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara Tuesday. It passed a bill to expand the Reserve officer training program in high schools and colleges.

It was a personal victory for Rep. P. Edward Hebert, D-La., who introduced the measure after becoming irked by McNamara's proposal last year to eliminate high school ROTC and curtail the college program. The bill now goes to the Senate.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department has turned aside a Soviet protest against Pan American Airways' flights from New York to West Berlin. A State Department spokesman, press officer Richard L. Phillips said Tuesday, "These flights are continuing on a normal basis. The U.S. government will hold the Soviet government responsible for the safety of all American aircraft in the Berlin air corridors."

Airport Hearing Tonight

A public hearing is scheduled for tonight in the New Paltz Town Hall on an application for a permit to continue operations at the airport on Libertyville Road. The hearing was called by the Town Zoning Board of Appeals. The applicant is Carl E. Confer, who has operated the airport since 1958. He seeks a commercial airport permit. The airport has a 2,300 foot runway and a flight school. Abram W. Paradies, chairman of the appeals board, made known earlier that a couple of complaints have been received.

Assessment Rolls Gain in Dutchess

Arthur H. Marx, clerk of the Dutchess County Board of Supervisors reports the county's 20 towns have a tentative roll total of $221,587,305, an increase of $21,722,522 over comparative figures in 1963.

Marx noted that the tentative 1964 totals do not include special franchise and public service figures in any of the towns.

The largest increases in assessments, pending Grievance Day adjustments, are in the Towns of Poughkeepsie and Wappinger. In the former township the gain, subject to possible adjustments for grievances, is $9,423,261, and in Wappinger the increase, also subject to adjustments, is $4,938,669.

The newly formed Explorer Post 30 of Saugerties held its first business meeting since organizing at the meeting room of Saugerties Plaza Bowl, Barclay Heights.

James Coffey was elected president, Joseph Ruger secretary-treasurer, and Steven Gardner council cabinet representative.

Drowned Oysters

DAUPHIN ISLAND, Ala. (AP) — Freshwater flooding is blamed for a tremendous kill-off of oysters in Mobile Bay and the eastern end of Mississippi Sound. Chief George Allen of the State Conservation Department's Seafood Division said that the spring floods killed up to 90 per cent of the oysters in some areas.

He said that flooding upsets the critical balance of fresh and salt water in which oysters thrive.

Working Sculpture

NEW YORK (AP) — Sculpture doesn't always just sit quietly in museums and get looked at, any more. Some sculpture moves and makes sounds as visitors nudge the works or press buttons or throw switches. Steelways, a publication of the American Iron and Steel Institute, calls the phenomenon "synaesthesia," meaning hearing stimulated and accompanied by illusions of color and seeing stimulated by sound.

One in a series of messages to advertisers

300 homes are one inch thick

In addition to length and width, a newspaper advertisement has a third dimension — thickness.

Thickness is circulation, the number of advertisements printed and actually delivered.

You pay for an advertisement on the basis of length and width, but what you really buy is the opportunity to talk about your merchandise and service to a specified number of readers. Laid one upon another, a one inch stack of your advertisements in this newspaper equals 300 homes reached.

Thickness...or circulation...is the dimension that gives promise to your sales message, that it will reach potential customers. It is important for you to know whether this thickness is a promise or a fact.

The ABC insigne assures you that our circulation is measured by the highest standards in the advertising and publishing industry. It is the symbol of our membership in the Audit Bureau of Circulations.

ABC is an independent auditing association whose sole purpose is to give accurate and factual circulation reports. ABC audits are trusted by national advertisers and advertising agencies. ABC can be trusted by you.

Our tell-all ABC report shows how much circulation we actually deliver, where these copies are distributed, how much readers pay, and other information you should know about the thickness of your advertising here — facts, without opinion, compiled from a physical audit of circulation records by trained ABC auditors.

When buying advertising, be sure to measure all three dimensions — length, width, and thickness.

Insist on the facts. Be ABC-sure!

Naming Taylor Good Talking Point

Getting Into Direct Fight Might Hurt LBJ Re-election

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's tough talk about stiff-arming the Communists in Viet Nam and his appointment of Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor as ambassador there is doubly useful to him.

But what the rest of the country doesn't know—and perhaps the Johnson administration cannot tell, either—is what the United States is heading into in Southeast Asia.

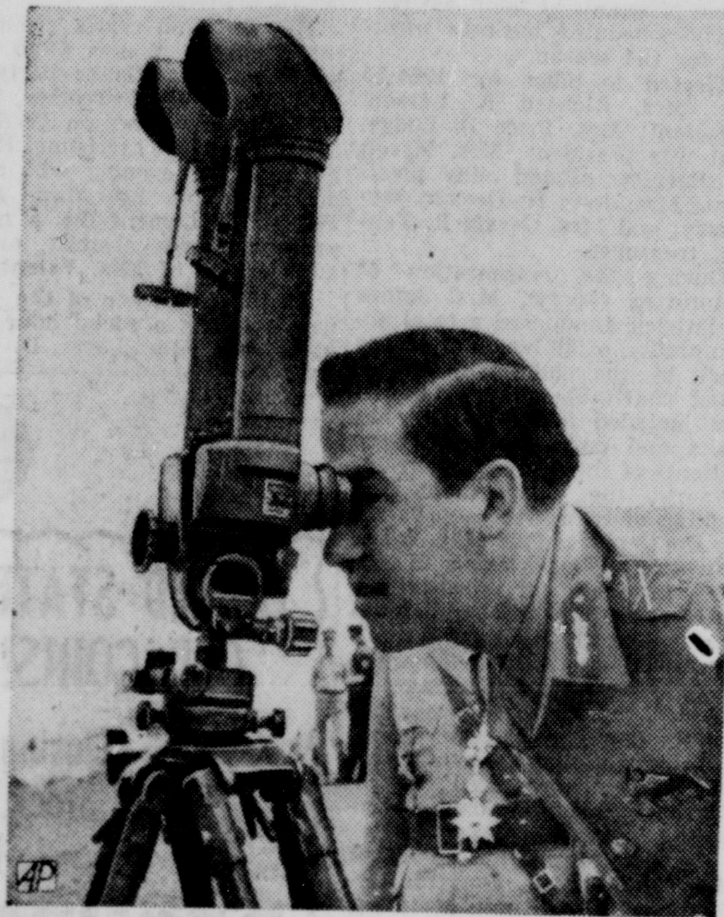

If this country gets directly into the fighting there—with a presidential campaign coming up—there's no way to predict what this will mean to Johnson's chances for re-election.

But the tough talk and the Taylor appointment will keep the Communists guessing, if it doesn't discourage them, and both will be talking points for Johnson if the Republicans complain he isn't showing enough muscle.

Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and this country's top-ranking military officer, is credited with being a tough and brilliant officer.

He succeeds Henry Cabot Lodge who resigned to come home and help Pennsylvania's Gov. William W. Scranton try to win the Republican presidential nomination against Sen. Barry Goldwater.

Goldwater has been acutely critical of the way the administrations of both President John F. Kennedy and Johnson have handed Viet Nam. He has suggested pretty drastic action, more than Kennedy or Johnson were willing to take yet.

REGAL CHECK — King Constantine, the new young Greek monarch, uses a periscope to watch artillery bursts during a visit to the military bases of northern Greece.

If Goldwater wins the nomination over the efforts of Lodge and Scranton, he won't have to soft-pedal his criticism.

But if Scranton gets the nomination, the Republican party in general will be in poor position to make Viet Nam an issue, and for this reason: Lodge in his letter of resignation to Johnson highly praised his Vietnamese policy.

Thoughts in Lodge Letter
In that letter Lodge said among other things:

"My thanks to you for your unflinching devotion to problems connected with American policy in Viet Nam, for your guidance, courtesy . . . although in a dangerous position, the republic of Viet Nam is on the right track . . ."

"Persistent and patient execution of existing civil and military plans will bring victory."
American talk about stopping the Reds from taking over Southeast Asia has become increasingly tough although how far the administration is actually willing to go has never been clear.

Nothing Rash: Johnson
Johnson told a news conference Tuesday: "The United States intends no rashness and seeks no wider war. But the United States is determined to use its strength to help those who are defending themselves against terror and aggression."

The Reds could read what they wanted to in that statement but Johnson seemed to assume they understood he meant business for he told newsmen: "I think they are aware of our attitude and that they have no doubt about our policy or our position."

Circle K Picks Delegates for 9th Annual Meeting

Joseph Bouchard and William Yates were recently elected delegates to the ninth annual convention of Circle K International. Duane Baxter and David Houck were named alternates to the convention. These students, all representing the Circle K Club of Ulster County Community College, will be among the 800 members of Circle K International from U.S. and Canadian colleges attending the ninth annual convention of the college service organization in Chicago, Ill., Aug. 31-Sept. 3.

Circle K International is a service organization for college men, sponsored by Kiwanis International, and maintaining the same ideals and objectives. There are more than 10,000 members on its rolls, representing a total of over 550 clubs on as many campuses.

Election Set Sept. 3

High point of the three-day meeting will be the election of 1964-65 International officers and trustees—a president, two vice-presidents, a secretary, and 12 trustees—on Thursday, Sept. 3. The presidential incumbent is John H. de Boisblanc, a student at Louisiana State University, Baton Rouge. De Boisblanc was elected to the post in Norfolk, Va., in 1963. He will preside at the Chicago convention.

Hosts for the ninth annual Circle K convention will be the Circle K Clubs in the Illinois-Eastern Iowa District. Assisting will be the Kiwanis Clubs in the Chicago area. Headquarters for the convention will be the Edgewater Beach Hotel in Chicago.

Principal speakers, in addition to de Boisblanc, will be Edward B. Moyland Jr., who is currently serving as president-elect of Kiwanis International, O. E. Peterson, International Secretary and Donald F. Blanchard, radio and TV comedian. Other leaders in Circle K and Kiwanis International and at least one other principal speaker will contribute to the program. Other highlights of the convention will be the annual Circle K International Achievement Award Contest, Single Service Award, and the Annual Oratorical Contest.

Activities judged will include service to campus, a service to community, and cooperative projects with Kiwanis clubs or other organizations. Winners will be announced at Chicago.

The subject of the oratorical contest will be the Circle K theme for 1963-64, "Elimination of the three top orators will compete publicly for the grand prize."

Other convention activities will include the adoption of convention resolutions and a theme and programs of service for 1964-65, a social program highlighted by special entertainment and the installation of newly-elected officers and trustees.

Mrs. Richard Larson Elected President; Local Organization

Kingston Welcome Wagon Club combined election of officers to serve for the forthcoming year with a silent auction as a means of raising money for their charitable programs at their last regularly scheduled business meeting for the season.

Elected to office for 1964-65 are: Mrs. Richard R. Larson, president; Mrs. Price B. Lodge, first vice president; Mrs. Myron K. Bernitz, second vice president; Mrs. John H. Decker, secretary; and Mrs. Gerald R. Yandle, treasurer.

During the presentation of committee reports, Mrs. James E. Patrick announced a total accumulation of 69 hours volunteer work by the club members toward charitable service. Activities included in this figure are visits and parties held for the patients of the Ulster County Infirmary; the development and making of speech-therapy games for the Cerebral Palsy Clinic, and providing transportation to and from the clinic for those requiring treatment who would otherwise be unable to secure treatment and/or therapy. The proceeds of an earlier silent auction enabled the club to purchase a pair of canes, and a pair of adjustable aluminum crutches which were presented to the Cerebral Palsy Clinic in February.

Retiring program chairman, Mrs. James E. Powers, announced that a family-style picnic to be held in June at Forsyth Park, would officially close the club's activities for the year. Further, it was announced that the first meeting of the fall and winter session would be a dinner and installation of officers to be held on September 15 in Britt's Community Room. Installations will be conducted by Mrs. Charles A. Selzo, Kingston Area Welcome Wagon Hostess.

The outgoing Board of Directors met with the newly-elected and/or appointed committee chairmen at a luncheon in the Alpine Restaurant, at which time Mrs. Larson introduced the following members: Mrs. William C. Schaaf, publicity; Mrs. William J. Rotunda, ways and means; Mrs. Homer L. Fitch, interest groups; and Mrs. Charles D. Slate, membership. Mrs. Ed-

WHITE TIE IN DAYTIME

Q: In the newspaper account of the recent marriage of Princess Irene of the Netherlands and Spanish Prince Don Carlos, it stated that the bridegroom wore white tie and tails. I was very surprised when I read this as the marriage took place in the morning at a nuptial mass. I always thought white tie and tails were strictly formal evening dress and not correct in the daytime. In fact, I'm sure I read this in your column. Will you please enlighten me on this?

A: In this country, white tie and tails are not correct in the daytime, but they are correct in Europe at a Royal wedding. Particularly so at this one because the bride and groom went directly from the carriage ceremony to a private audience with the Pope, at which white tie and tails are proper dress.

No Ticket Sold in Advance

Q: A club to which I belong is having a dance and I would like to invite a boy to go with me. There will be no tickets sold in advance; admission is to be paid at the door. Should I give the boy the money to pay for the tickets before leaving the house or should I pay for them myself at the door? I don't want to embarrass him.

A: It will be best to hand him the money before you leave the house and ask him to buy the tickets for you.

Addressing Clergyman and His Wife

Q: Will you please tell me the correct way to address an envelope to a clergyman who holds a doctor's degree, and his wife? A: The envelope is addressed, The Rev. Dr. John Smith and Mrs. Smith.

The Emily Post Institute offers readers booklets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you would like the booklet entitled, "The Bride's Trouseau," send 10 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Emily Post Institute, in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman.

Home Extension Service News

Phyllis W. Barlow, county home demonstration agent, submits the following article on dishwashers:

Most dishwashers feature greater convenience in loading and better washing action than ever before. Some models offer an automatic dispenser for rinse agents, a rinse and hold cycle, and extra acoustical insulation. Washing action in many dishwashers has been improved throughout the load as the shift in construction has been toward a spray or wash arm instead of an impeller to move the water against the dishes. Part or all of the washing action in many dishwashers now comes from some place other than the bottom of the dishwasher. This means less chance that one dish will block another and prevent the second one from being washed clean.

Because standard tests are now available for measuring the capacity of dishwashers, it is easy to compare different models for the number and kind of dishes that can be washed clean at one time. Recently the unit of capacity was changed from place settings to table settings. Place settings include specified china, silver and glassware for each person. Table settings provide a more realistic measure because they include serving dishes, such as bowls, platters, and gravy boats, as well as the place settings.

In some dishwashers rinse agents are automatically injected. These agents help the water to spread and to drain completely from the dishes, thus preventing water spots even in hard water.

The rinse and hold cycle found in some dishwashers is some dishwashers is liked by homemakers, who do not wish to operate the dishwasher after each meal and yet do not want the food soils to dry and harden on the dishes. With a rinse and hold cycle, the dishes can be rinsed automatically and then held until the homemaker chooses to wash them.

On the higher priced dishwashers, acoustical insulation is installed to keep the noise of the splashing water from disturbing the family.

Portable dishwashers are popular because they require no installation. Many of the portable ones now can be installed permanently when the family desires to do so.

"Known for Quality Merchandise"

The Mature Parent

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: Our girl, 14, was named Laura after my husband's mother. About eight months ago she started asking us all to call her "Rosalie" and now won't answer to any other name. She is also after her father all the time to get him to change her name legally to "Rosalie" instead of Laura. Because he won't do it, she hurts him by talking about how she hates her family name, too...

ANSWER: Try telling her that if she still wants the legal change made in her given name when she is 18, you'll help her get it done. As to her family, comfort her by reminding her that some nice man is going to come along who will change it for her.

Don't be hurt by her dislike of the names with which you have endowed her. The adolescent is in such a state of turmoil and uncertainty about his own identity that he explodes it in unexpected ways. Doubtful as your youngster is of her power to disconnect herself from your supporting strength and depend upon her own, she has given herself a name that disconnects her from you.

She is saying to you, "Oh, how I want to get away from these people who are always telling me who I am so that I can be free to discover who I am."

Please don't see anything bad in this want. We are all restricted by our families' views of us. Sooner or later we have to realize that their closeness to us made it quite impossible to get any true perspective on us as people. Like the growing, expanding creature she is, your youngster senses this truth.

I don't know what the name "Rosalie" means to her except that it must be the name of the very attractive person she thinks she can become. Unless you want to restrict her to your views of what she can become, you will let her be "Rosalie" instead of Laura. It is because the adolescent is trying too hard to find out who he is (apart from what we've told him he is) that he is so incensed by his childhood's nickname—his dependent, restricted identity. Your child has just made her resistance to restricted identity a little stronger than the nickname-resisting youngster.

I wonder why she's had to make her resistance so strong. Don't you want her to start being what she wants to become? If you'll let her be happy with this notion of the "Rosalie" she hopes to become, she will return to being Laura.

Culp Pitches Way Back to Phillies Starter; Smith's Bat Again Figures for Angels

National Leaders Will Now Have Five Starters

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ray Culp has pitched his way back into the Philadelphia Phillies' starting rotation. All it took was a near replica of teammate Jim Bunning's perfect game.

A first-inning base on balls and Len Gabrielson's sixth-inning single came between Culp and perfection, attained two days earlier by Bunning, as the 22-year-old right-hander blanked Chicago 9-0 in the second game of a doubleheader Tuesday night.

No other Cub reached base against Culp, whose early season troubles cost him a front-line job on Gene Mauch's leaded pitching staff.

Mauch, thoroughly impressed after Culp's effort, announced that the National League-leading Phils will go with five starters henceforth.

"With Bunning, (Dennis) Bennett, (Art) Mahaffey and (Chris) Short working so well," the manager said, "we just haven't been able to give Ray enough work. The doubleheader enabled us to use him more. Now he's pitching like he did last year."

Culp, a $100,000 bonus baby five years ago, won 14 games in 1963, his rookie season, and led Philadelphia pitchers with 176 strikeouts. He reported with a sore arm this spring, dropped five of six decisions and found himself in the bullpen.

But three victories—including the one-hitter—and two complete games in his last three appearances have vaulted the young Texan back into the Phils' pennant plan.

Split Two-Nighter

The second-game victory gave the Phils a split of the two-nighter. Chicago took the opener 2-0 on Dick Ellsworth's five-hitter.

Second-place San Francisco divided with Cincinnati, winning 4-0 before bowing 5-4 in 11 innings. Pittsburgh defeated New York 5-1; Milwaukee beat Los Angeles 5-2 and St. Louis nipped Houston 5-4.

Culp said after the game he relied mainly on his fast ball against the Cub hitters.

"I had arm trouble late last year and early this season because I threw too much breaking stuff," he recalled.

He said Gabrielson's hit, a golfed shot off a low fast ball, surprised him. "I jammed him down and in, and he sliced it to right."

Culp wasn't ecstatic about his performance. "We're on top and I'm not a winning pitcher. If I was 10-5 with this club I'd have something to be happy about."

Phillie hitters were beaming after their 17-hit supporting role in the second-game victory. Wes Covington homered, Richie

Allen cracked three doubles and John Hernandez had four hits, including a pair of doubles.

The opener was another story. Ellsworth breezed to his ninth victory in 15 decisions. Ernie Banks singled home one run and rookie Billy Ott doubled in the other.

Marty Keough's lead-off homer in the 11th inning earned Cincinnati a split with San Francisco and kept the Giants 1½ games behind Philadelphia. Jim Hart's eighth inning homer, his second of the game, had pulled the Giants even.

Juan Marichal scattered seven singles in the opener and ran his record to 9-3. The Giants scored all their runs in the third inning. Duke Snider and Jose Pagan singled home two each. Dick Schofield drove in four runs, three on a homer, and Vern Law pitched his fourth straight victory as the Pirates handed the Mets their 11th loss in 12 games.

Milwaukee snapped a seven-game losing string, rallying for three runs in the seventh on doubles by Hank Aaron and Felipe Alou and singles by Lee Maye and Joe Torre, to overtake the Dodgers. Frank Howard hit his 16th homer for Los Angeles and Ed Mathews his sixth for the Braves.

Rusty Staub's second error of the seventh inning allowed Tim Lincecum to score St. Louis' winning run after John Bates' homer had lifted the Cardinals into a 4-4 tie in the top of the inning.

New York Harness Racing Results

By The Associated Press

Cardigan Bay matched the season's fastest time for the mile on a half mile track at the Yonkers Raceway to high-light harness racing in New York Tuesday night.

The 8-year-old bay gelding posted a 1:59 1-5 mile in winning the $25,000 Tar Heel Pace by a half length over Country Don.

Returning $3.10, $2.80 and $2.30, Cardigan Bay tied the season record set by Henry T. Adios at Yonkers June 10th. Card Front was third and Henry T. Adios fourth.

At Saratoga, Ambro Doc completed the first quarter of the $45,000 Pace in 27.35, the fastest quarter ever turned in at the Saratoga Raceway. The pace proved to be too fast, however. Ambro Doc finished sixth.

Gold Cloud ($39.30) won by two lengths in 2:05 2-5. True Adios was second and Gallant Knight third.

Other feature winners:

Vernon Downs Belle Court ($10.20) won the $1,300 Pace in 2:00 4-5.

Monticello — Devon Goose ($10) took the $1,200 Pace in 2:03 3-5.

Buffalo Raceway—Lofty Hanover ($7.40) won the $1,700 Trot in 2:09 2-5.

PITCHING—Ray Culp, Philadelphia, pitched a one-hitter and allowed only two base runners as the Phillies clobbered the Chicago Cubs 9-0 in the second game of a two-night doubleheader.

BATTING—Willie Smith, Los Angeles, a pitcher converted into an outfielder, hit a two-run homer and added two singles in the Angels' seventh straight victory 2-0 over Washington.

Orioles Score Seven Runs In Eighth to Beat Yanks

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

When Hollywood made the movie, "Angels in the Outfield," they weren't talking about Willie Smith. All of the Angels, however, are talking about him now.

The movie was a story of the heavenly kind of angels in the outfield of the Pittsburgh Pirates. But Smith, a Los Angeles Angel, has been a devil at bat.

The pitcher turned outfielder lashed two singles and a two-run homer Tuesday night, sparking Los Angeles to a 2-0 triumph over Washington. The victory was the seventh straight for the Angels, equaling the longest winning streak in the majors this season.

It also marked the second consecutive night Smith won games with his bat. His pinch-hit single the night before drove in the tie-breaking run in a 5-2 victory over the Senators.

The 25-year-old lefty was a pitcher until Manager Bill Rigney decided Smith deserved a trial as a hitter. Rigney now believes there's never been anyone more deserving.

Smith reached the majors last year with Detroit. He pitched in 11 games, gaining a 1-0 record and a 4.50 earned-run average. The Angels acquired him April 29 in a trade for Julio Navarro.

As a southpaw hurler this season, Smith has a poor 1-4 record in 14 relief appearances and one start but has a respectable 2.81 ERA.

When Smith was inserted into the line-up for his hitting, Rigney didn't fool around. The manager placed him in right field and made him the No. 1 hitter. Smith's performance Tuesday night rocketed his average 40 points to .319. He has two home runs and 10 runs batted in for 47 times at bat.

His pinch-hitting record is even more amazing. He has hit seven hits in 14 chances, with five of the hits coming in his last seven tries.

That's pretty heavenly in Rigney's book.

Elsewhere in the AL Tuesday night, Baltimore nipped New York 9-8. Chicago blanked Boston 2-0. Minnesota whipped Cleveland 6-2 and Detroit trampled Kansas City 9-3 after losing 2-1.

Smith's homer in the eighth inning broke up a scoreless pitching duel between the Angels' Dean Chance and Bennie Daniels. Chance wound up tossing a four-hitter for his fifth victory against three defeats. The shutout reduced his ERA to 1.91.

Seven in Eighth

The Yankees appeared well on their way to an easy victory when the Orioles struck for seven runs after two were out in the eighth. Pinch hitter Charley Lau ignited comeback with a single and cleaned it with a run-scoring double.

Brooks Robinson and Willie Kirkland each singled home two runs in the inning. When it was all over, Baltimore was in first place one-half game ahead of New York. Elston Howard, Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris homered for the losers.

Fred Talbot scattered eight hits for the White Sox. Pete Ward homered, and J. C. Martin knocked in Chicago's second run with a double in the sixth inning.

Harmon Killebrew smashed his 23rd homer in the Twins' triumph. Jim Kaat hurled a five-hitter, losing a shutout in the ninth on Bob Chance's two-run single. Kaat singled home one of Minnesota's three runs in the second.

The Tigers salvaged a split of their doubleheader with the Athletics behind the hitting of Dick McAuliffe and Al Kaline. McAuliffe connected for a grand slam homer in the eighth while Kaline batted in three runs, two with a single in the second.

Rocky Colavito's two-run single in the fifth inning won the first game for Kansas City. His hit was only the second off Joe Sparma, who was making his first major league appearance.

Nicklaus Eyes Cleveland Open

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer
CLEVELAND (AP)—The big-money golf tourists are beginning to bunch up, but youthful Jack Nicklaus is taking steps to stay on top.

The 24-year-old Columbus star who paces the pack with $14,426 despite picking up only $400 in last week's National Open, has an eye on the $20,000 top prize in the $110,000 Cleveland Open, which starts its four-day, 72-hole medal-play grind Thursday.

While runner-up Arnold Palmer ($49,651) and fourth-place Tony Lema ($40,361) passed up practice rounds Tuesday over the 6,821-yard, par-71 municipal layout, Nicklaus measured every inch of it.

Instead of cooking up a skin game with some of the other competitors, Nicklaus went out alone with only his caddy tagging along. He kept no score, but he had a score card full of notes when he came in.

Also missing the practice jaunt were Ken Venturi, last week's surprise winner of the National Open, and classy Dow Finsterwald. The temperature was in the 90s, and tornado warnings were flying to discourage much of the talented field of 149 professionals and 10 amateurs.

Fifty of the pros had a picnic today as each teamed with three amateurs in a best-ball handicap round with $10,000 going to the play-for-pay group. The professionals paid no entry fee, but each of the 150 amateurs tossed $200 into the pot.

The professional shooting today's best round was due for a $1,000 prize and the pro in the leading foursome had an $800 payoff on tap. So one of them could possibly pick up $1,800.

BOWLING with the BEST

Sanford, Ferraro Are Two Winners In Royal Contests

A 648-pin tie in the first game and a slight 6-pin edge in the second looked as though Ben Sanford's team might have some trouble clipping past By Pass Pizzeria, but a 691-631 margin in the third clinched Sanford's win in the Mid-City Royal Four-some meet Tuesday.

Sanford scored a high third game of 215 which he contributed to his squad's 2016-1970 victory. Ernie Dousharm, 204 and Bruce Hinkley, 235 had high first and second games for By-Pass. Jack Ferraro's team scored the highest game of the night, 736, as they squeezed out Lamoureux Atlantic 1962-1951. Lorraine Ferraro led the women with high total of an even 500. The winners took the first game with 629 and let their opponents win the last with 623.

WGB's Oil knocked out Marie Bechtold's team with a 2072-1979 margin, rolling high first and second games of 715 and 676. The losers came up in the third with 693 to WGB's 681. Frank Kopp of the winners had high score of 224 in the first.

Jewel Tea won their last two games but their total scores weren't high enough to offset Kingston Ornamental Iron Co., who grossed a clean 1945 to their opponents' 1902.

The losers rolled a mere 533 to the winners' 621 in the first, and then made an effort to emerge as they won the last two with scores of 697 and 672. But Ornamental was right behind them all the way with 660 and 664. George Glaser had high game for Jewel Tea with 222 in the second, and led with a triple of 579.

Sanford Rolls 790 In Invitational

Marion Sanford rolled a 172-167-225 and 226-pin handicap to a gross a 790 in the Ferraro Woman's Summer Invitational at Ferraro's Bowlerama Sunday.

Other high scorers included Rose Schatzel, 735; Martha Petersen, 658 and Anne Sickler, 656.

Results: WGB, 1; Kingston Glass, 0; Petersen Construction, 4; Roland A. Augustine, 3; Drive-In Motors, 4; Lillian's Beauty Salon, 0.

White, Bahr High In Mid-City Meet

George White and Carol Bahr rolled high scores for men and women in the Monday Nite Mid-City Mixed League, with 529 and 493 triples.

Al Bagatta and John Hanaman came next with 526 and 525. Norma Polacco rolled the first 200 game of her career. Results: C&R Grocery, 1; WGB Oil Clarifier, 1; EZ Do Tubs, 2½; Lincoln Park Inn, 0; Hone Street Launderette, ½; Lawrence Ricci Used Cars, 1; Allyn Construction, 3; Tropical Inn, 2; Alpine, 2; Tudoroff Bros., 2.

Lewis Converts 4-7-6-10 Split In Summerettes

Pat Lewis converted a 4-7-6-10 split as her team overcame Woodstock Meats 1878-1763 in the first set of the Summerettes League meet at Woodstock Lanes Monday.

Deanie's took the second and third games with scores of 653 and 644. Woodstock wiped out the winners in the first with a 617-581 margin.

Trouncing Hami Hon's Vertebrates in the first and second games with 683-627 and 632-596 margins, Forno's Pharmacy outrolled their opponents 1914 to 1905. The Vertebrates took the third with 682. High scorer was Pat DeVore with 556 total.

A 108-pin handicap wasn't enough for Simmons Plaza to keep Woodstock Garage from winning 2212 to 2114, taking the first and final games with scores of 781 and 734. The losers rolled a 749 gross total to win the second game. Merrill Smith grossed a high of 543 for the winners.

One International Auto Racing Event

NEW YORK (AP)—The United States Auto Club, one of three national organizations forming the major part of the Auto Competition Committee for the U.S., has been allowed only one international event for 1965 as a penalty for violating "the principle of the international sporting code."

G. William Fleming, executive director of the Committee which is the American arm of organized world auto racing, said that the USAC event would be the Indianapolis 500-mile classic next Memorial Day. That assures the participation of foreign drivers such as Scotland's Jimmy Clark, the world champion.

Fleming said Saturday night USAC had been deprived of the U.S. Grand Prix, only American race counting toward the world driving championship. This was supposed to be switched from Watkins Glen, N.Y. to Indianapolis Raceway Park, a road-racing course partially owned by Thomas Binford, president of USAC.

Panic Favorite In Oval Feature

MONTICELLO, N. Y.—Panic, a seven-year-old brown gelding which has been to the winner's circle four times this season, has been installed the 3-1 morning line favorite for tonight's feature dash at Monticello Raceway.

To be contested as the seventh race, the one-mile test will carry an $1,100 purse.

The favorite has drawn post two and will be reined by Frank Poppinger, the second high dash winner here this season. Panic cut out a near gate-to-wire winning effort in 2:07.2 at the Mighty M last week.

All Told, the Canadian-owned sidewheeler has been in the money seven times in 15 starts.

Lotta Carlotta and Dundee, both winners here their last times out, head up the opposition. Chester Page will take Lotta Carlotta, a 4-1 shot, from post four, while Bobby Camper will be in the sulky behind Dundee, 5-1 from the seven hole.

Lotta Carlotta clicked off a 2:07.4 win time here last week from the outside eighth slot. Dundee's triumph was clocked in 2:06.4.

Funds Voted to Reopen Prince Edward Schools

FARMVILLE, Va. (AP)—One of the last barriers has been cleared away for reopening public schools in Prince Edward County, closed five years ago to avoid desegregation.

The County Board of Supervisors, acting under a federal court order, voted 4-2 Tuesday to appropriate school operating funds for this fall.

Thursday Was Deadline
U.S. Dist. Judge Oren R. Lewis, carrying out a mandate from the U.S. Supreme Court, had given the Board of Supervisors until Thursday to act.

The $189,000 county appropriation, plus state funds, will provide classes for about 1,600 pupils — the number of Negro school-age children in Prince Edward.

Public schools will be operated "without racial discrimination," said the board, but most white children are expected to continue classes in the private, segregated schools they have attended since 1959.

An appropriation of $375,000 was approved for tuition grants, which will go to white children attending private schools, if and when Judge Lewis lifts an injunction against continued use of the schools. The private schools had an enrollment of 1,242 for the term which began last September.

The supervisors raised personal and real property taxes from $1 per $100 to $2.50 and doubled the 30 cents per $100 merchants' capital tax. Judge Lewis had ordered the supervisors to levy taxes if necessary to raise school funds.

The County School Board had asked for $339,000. The $189,000 is less than a third of the $739,000 in state and county funds appropriated for public schools the last year the county operated them.

Teachers Last Obstacle
County School Supt. T. J. McIlwaine, said he did not know if the $189,000 voted by the supervisors would be adequate.

One remaining obstacle to reopening the schools is the hiring of teachers. The term begins in less than three months.

The supervisors' action was welcomed by Gov. Albert S. Harrison Jr., who said, "It would appear that this represents a bona fide effort by the governing body of Prince Edward County to comply with the order of the federal court."

Negro children went without formal education for four years. Last summer a system of free schools supported by public contributions was organized. It is to end in August.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—A vigorous rally by rails and strength in American Telephone's new, split stock featured a stock market advance early this afternoon. Trading was moderately active.

Gains of most key stocks went from fractions to a point or better. Du Pont added considerable beef to the averages by advancing about 4.

Cigarette issues were uneasy as news came from Washington that the Federal Trade Commission issued a rule that by next year all cigarette labels and advertising be labeled to the effect that cigarette smoking is dangerous to health.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 7 at 308.9 with industrials up 1.3, rails up .4 and utilities up 1.1. The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 3.98 at 826.68.

As rails rallied, Pennsylvania Railroad spurted about 2 points. AT&T's new stock climbed nearly a point.

Motors steadied and moved higher on balance after declining briefly at the start. Airlines widened gains.

Control Data gained about 2. Up a point or so were Xerox, IBM and Polaroid.

Prices were higher on the American Stock Exchange. Corporate bonds were irregularly higher. U.S. government bonds edged higher.

CAR IN FATAL CRASH—Troopers and Town of Shandaken Constable Robert Grennie (right) inspect the twisted wreckage of a 1958 foreign sports car in which a passenger, Arthur Alsdorf, 18 of Allendale, N. J. lost his life during a one-car crash early Tuesday morning on Route 28. The youth was Ulster County's eighth highway fatality of the year. Kingston troopers are Charles Bundschuh (left) and John McMickle. The driver of the car, the youth's uncle,

Michael Alsdorf, 20, also of Allendale, was reported in serious condition today at Kingston Hospital. Trooper McMickle, who witnessed the mishap said the car was heading west on Route 28, just west of Route 214 near Phoenixia, traveling at a high rate of speed. He said the vehicle swayed from side to side and went out of control, left the north side of the highway, hit a tree and rolled over.

Seven Drivers Fined For Speeding Today

They were: Ronald J. Ellis, 19, of 40 Prince Street; Charles M. Connock, 63, of RD 2, Box 375, Kingston; Alfred Monteleone, 20, Dogwood Drive, Shokan; George Bunt, 17, of 339 Abel Street; Robert Styles, 24, of 87 Abruy Street; Ralph Mergendahl, 22, of 162 Clinton Avenue, and Walter Maurer, 41, of 17 Fairview Avenue.

William Coley, of Gill Street, charged with a double traffic line violation, was fined $10.

Two Charges Are Made Following Chase by Police

A police chase early today resulted in the lodging of charges of driving while intoxicated and reckless driving against a teenage driver.

Caught in the Town of Esopus after he allegedly eluded local police, Peter B. Decker, 19, RFD, Box 297, Saugerties, was charged by Constable Frank Bartroff, who apprehended him, with driving while intoxicated, and the other charge followed in the city.

Sentencing Deferred

Decker pleaded guilty later today in city court to the reckless driving charge and sentence was deferred to July 1 to permit a pre-sentencing investigation. He was released in his own recognizance.

A local police report at 1:05 a. m. noted that officers George Barringer and Albert Johnson were chasing a car through Port Ewen. They reported losing trace of it near the Hi-Lo department store, and a short time later were notified that it had been stopped in the Town of Esopus.

The reckless driving charge was lodged by Officer Barringer.

Case Before Dargie

A summons issued by Bartroff, charging drunken driving, is answerable July 3 before Justice of the Peace Allan Dargie, of New Salem.

Bartroff said he caught up with Decker, who, had been traveling at high speed, after the car struck a large timber along a driveway near the Capri Restaurant.

Thruway Has 10th

the opening of all toll booths along the new link between Lowell, west of Utica, and West Henrietta, near Rochester.

To Be Dewey Memorial

In April, Gov. Rockefeller signed a bill, passed by the 1964 Legislature, that said the highway would be known officially as the Gov. Thomas E. Dewey Thruway, effective Sept. 1.

Rising expenses and revenues below estimates required an increase in tolls in 1959. The price charged for cars rose from 125 to 1.6 cents a mile.

The fatality rate has averaged 2.23 deaths a year per hundred million miles, compared with a national rate last year of 5.4 per hundred million miles.

Disposal of Worry Shares Depends on Growth

Q) "My worry stocks for growth are Phillips Petroleum bought at 56 and Great Western Financial bought at 20. Please advise as to whether I should hold or sell." G. B.

A) If you are really worried about stocks, it is usually best to dispose of them. However, I would not be inclined to do so in the case of Great Western Financial at current levels.

This stock has sold off partly because its group has temporarily lost favor and partly because its earnings — after resting on a fairly high plateau for three years — declined in the March quarter. The drop appeared to be due in large part to Federal income tax payments amounting to about 6 1/2 cents a share in that period as against none a year earlier. I look for ultimate recovery for this stock and the entire group.

Phillips Petroleum is not very attractive from a growth standpoint and faces large potential dilution. I would switch this issue into Texaco.

Q) "We have $30,000 in mutual funds. Would it be wise to sell some of these shares and put the money in H bonds? We are told that these bonds are tax-exempt until you sell them. Is that correct? Can we purchase them through banks?" — G. B.

A) If the $30,000 in mutual funds represents your entire estate, it would certainly be prudent policy to sell part of your shares and invest $5,000 in H bonds for stability and utmost security.

H bonds pay interest semi-annually, fully subject to Federal income taxes for the year in which interest is paid. If I may say so, I think that you have confused series H bonds with series E. The latter are purchased at a discount, pay no current interest, and you are not required to pay income tax on accruals until the redemption date.

Both issues yield 3 1/2 per cent if held to maturity and each can be bought through your bank. Mr. Spear cannot answer all mail personally but will answer all questions possible in his column.

Lunar Eclipse Scheduled at 6:48

MOUNT DESERT, Maine (AP)—Moonwatchers expect an excellent view of a reddish glow in the sky tonight.

It will be the first of two total eclipses of the moon this year. Many parts of the world will view the phenomenon, but one of the finest vantage points is expected to be on 1,530-foot Cadillac Mountain on the island of Mount Desert off Maine.

The eclipse begins at 5:48 p. m. EST when the moon enters the earth's penumbra — the almost invisible shadow of the earth. Totality will last from 7:16 p. m. to 8:37 p. m. The moon will leave the penumbra at 11:14 p. m.

The next total lunar eclipse comes Dec. 18.

Cows as Bad as Goats

ITHACA, N. Y. (AP) — Cows often suffer from a stomach ailment known to farmers as "hardware disease." Veterinarians, who know that cows eat fence wire, nails, nuts, bolts, pieces of wood and tin cans, call the disease "traumatic gastritis."

The hardware punctures the lining of the second of the cow's four stomachs. It can be fatal. Dr. Donald D. Delahanty, professor at the New York State College of Veterinary Medicine at Cornell University, says the cause of the trouble is lack of "oral discrimination in cattle that leads to their swallowing foreign bodies that would normally be rejected by other animals."

Dr. Delahanty has operated on 600 cows for hardware disease. He says about 60 per cent of his cases have been caused by lengths of wire and adds that about the only things he has not found in a cow's stomach are broken glass.

Mme. Nhu Wants In

PARIS (AP)—Mrs. Ngo Dinh Nhu appealed today to President Johnson to overrule the State Department and allow her to enter the United States as a visitor.

The outspoken former First Lady of South Viet Nam wrote to the President after announcement Tuesday that her request for a visa had been refused.

Mrs. Nhu, sister-in-law of the late President Ngo Dinh Diem and widow of Saigon's onetime chief of internal security, sought the visa to speak July 7 at a "truth rally" of the Conservative Party Club of Flushington, N.Y.

Called Best Team

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, assistant Senate Democratic leader, said the President had assembled "the best team we could possibly place in Viet Nam."

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, front-runner for the GOP presidential nomination, made no comment on the political implications of Lodge's return. He said "Ambassador Lodge is to be congratulated for bearing up this long under such adverse conditions."

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, who has thrown his support behind Scranton, hailed Lodge's decision and said it "should materially help the moderate Republican cause."

There was no immediate comment from former President Dwight D. Eisenhower or former Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara praised the choice of Taylor. McNamara, more than any other top government official, has become identified with the long-drawn-out effort to suppress Communist guerrillas in South Viet Nam.

Appointment of Taylor comes at a time when the Western position in Viet Nam and Laos appears to be deteriorating, and the government is considering possible pressures against Red North Viet Nam.

Sucked Out of Plane

LEWISVILLE, Tex. (AP)—An Air Force navigator was sucked out of his B52 when a hatch door blew off Tuesday. He was not wearing a parachute and fell six miles to his death.

The body of Capt. Richard Carroll, 35, was located on a farm northwest of here during a search by a posse of state and county officers.

Army Offering Program to Grads Of High Schools

The Army has many enlistment programs available to the high school graduate under its "Graduate Specialist Program." Sgt. Malenski of the Kingston Army Recruiting Station is presently talking to young men and women and stressing the opportunities offered them in the service of their country.

According to Sgt. Malenski, the Graduate Specialist Program is designed to allow a qualified high school graduate to pick a field of training or an actual school of his choice prior to enlistment. Following the selection of the job assignment, a verification call is made to Washington, D. C., and then the applicant receives a guarantee of his choice in writing.

"The Army," said Sgt. Malenski, "is the only service offering a program which guarantees prospective service men and women their choice of job or assignment prior to their enlistment." These men and women will get valuable training and experience in numerous jobs which are vital to the military and to civilian industry.

All high school graduates interested in more detailed information about the Graduate Specialist Program may obtain it by visiting Sgt. Malenski at the Army Recruiting Station, the Central Post Office.

Almost Lost Him, Senator's Press Secretary Claims

NORTHAMPTON, Mass. (AP)

An aide to Sen. Edward M. Kennedy said Tuesday night that Kennedy had no pulse and his blood pressure "was almost nonexistent" when he was brought into Cooley Dickinson Hospital early Saturday after a plane crash.

"We almost lost him," press secretary Edward Martin said. Martin credited Dr. Thomas F. Corridan with saving the life of Kennedy, 32-year-old Massachusetts Democrat and brother of the late President John F. Kennedy.

Sen. Kennedy's administrative aide, Edward S. Moss, and the pilot, Edwin T. Zimny, were killed in the crash. Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., and the latter's wife, Marvella, were injured. Kennedy is immobilized in an orthopedic bed to permit his injured back to heal. His press secretary said he will be kept in this apparatus until about July 6.

QUESTION: Why are juries awarding such terrific amounts in personal injury damage suits? Are they getting more sympathetic or are the plaintiffs' lawyers getting better or what?

ANSWER: There are several reasons. Medical and hospital costs are higher and other expenses and property costs are higher. Also the earning power of most people has increased and the loss of that income due to accident can reach staggering figures.

Girls State Nominate

conventions, nominating speeches and political rallies were on tap today for delegates to the annual Empire Girls state meeting.

The two parties—Federalists and Nationalists—will select nominees for state officers and rallies will follow on the Elmira College Campus. Elections will be held Thursday.

Wallace Rebuffed In Jaycee Speech

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Delegates from Connecticut and Massachusetts rebuffed Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace as he delivered the keynote address Tuesday to the national Junior Chamber of Commerce convention.

Expressing "shock and disbelief" that Wallace would keynote the convention, the 75-member Connecticut delegation stayed away from the Dallas Memorial Auditorium.

The Massachusetts delegation remained seated as some 7,500 other delegates gave Wallace a standing ovation.

Robert E. Joyce of West Haven, Conn., said the Connecticut delegation did not object to Wallace's addressing the convention as such. But he said they were opposed to his making the keynote address.

"The function of the keynote speaker is to set the tone of the convention," the statement said.

Wallace criticized the U.S. Supreme Court in a prepared speech that was often interrupted by loud cheers. One man shouted "Go, George, go!" and several Confederate flags were waved in the audience.

The Alabama governor, who said earlier in the day that he was still actively seeking the American presidency, said recent decisions of the high court and other federal courts have resulted in a "judicial oligarchy."

He was highly critical of the new civil rights bill and referred to the measure as "the federal penal code."

Welcomes Prince

PARIS (AP) — French President Charles de Gaulle personally welcomed Cambodia's chief of state, Prince Norodom Sihanouk today for a three-day state visit.

De Gaulle and the Cambodian ruler are expected to stress neutralization for Southeast Asia. Both France and Cambodia support neutralization as the only feasible solution to the war in South Viet Nam.

Sgt. York Now On Critical List

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — World War I hero Sgt. Alvin York has been placed on the critical list at Veterans Hospital here as the result of pneumonia in his right lung.

"He has developed pneumonia and his blood pressure has fallen," said a hospital spokesman. "This may be due to a blood clot in the lung, which he has had before, or a blood stream infection. He is a sick man."

Until pneumonia developed Tuesday, York's doctors were beginning to hint that he might soon return to his home in tiny Pall Mall, Tenn., about 140 miles northeast of here. The 76-year-old medal of honor winner was rushed here June 19 after suffering a recurrence of internal bleeding.

Expect Taylor to Provide Tight Command; 'Free World at Our Side,' Khanh Vows

Dulles in Hunt For 3 CR Agents

PHILADELPHIA, Miss. (AP)—Allen W. Dulles, former chief of the Central Intelligence Agency, flies to Mississippi today on a White House mission to look into the mysterious disappearance of three young civil rights workers.

The charred hulk of the station wagon used by the trio was found by FBI agents late Tuesday at the edge of a swamp off a lonely road northeast of this central Mississippi town.

Philadelphia is the seat of justice for Neshoba County, called "Bloody Neshoba" by Mississippians for its history of settling feuds by gunfire.

The FBI clamped a lid on most of its investigation. A Mississippi highway patrolman told a newsman: "The FBI has taken over entirely."

Highway patrol units conducted a house-to-house search late into the night. More patrolmen were expected today.

Missing are Andy Goodman, 20, and Michael Schwerner, 24, both of New York City, and James Cheney, 22, Negro from nearby Meridian.

They were last seen Sunday night in Philadelphia after Cheney paid a $20 fine for speeding.

The White House announced that President Johnson had ordered Dulles to the state to coordinate the probe.

Dulles will confer with Gov. Paul B. Johnson, other top state officials and the FBI on the progress of the investigation.

Gov. Johnson, who earlier had told a news conference the highway patrol would search unrelentingly for the missing youths, said he would welcome Dulles.

"So long as Mr. Dulles is objective, I have no doubt that he will find that law and order prevail," the governor said.

The station wagon was found about 100 feet from State 21, 15 miles northeast of Philadelphia, where Owl Creek backs away to form a backwater slough.

Speculate on Death
There was speculation that the bodies of the three civil rights workers were somewhere under the dark, cold waters. The station wagon was towed to a garage here and kept under guard. Two FBI laboratory technicians were to study it today.

Schwerner, who had been working in the Meridian area for several months, Cheney and Goodman were last seen about 10:30 p.m. Sunday, leaving Philadelphia in a southerly direction.

An FBI agent said the station wagon apparently was burned Sunday night or before dawn Monday.

Goodman was one of 175 out-of-state volunteers who arrived in Mississippi over the weekend to take part in Negro voter registration and education projects after training at Oxford, Ohio.

Fair St. Pastor Will Serve for Human Relations

Mayor John J. Schwenk today announced appointment of the Rev. Edwin C. Coon, pastor of the Fair Street Reformed Church, to the Mayor's Advisory Committee on Human Relations.

He fills a vacancy left by the recent resignation of the Rev. Roy A. Hassell, who has been transferred to the Methodist Parish in New Paltz, from Trinity Methodist Church here.

A Poughkeepsie native, the Rev. Mr. Coon attended schools there, was graduated from Hope College, Holland, Mich., and the New Brunswick (N.J.) Theological Seminary. He has resided in Kingston since October of 1960.

Church Council Officer
Vice-president of the Council of Churches, he has been chairman of the Christian Church and the Work Committee for the past two years, president of the Classis of Ulster County, and a member of the Rotary Club, where he is serving as chairman of the Four-Way Test Committee. He is married to the former Betty Luhrs and they have three children, Carol, Merry and Janet.

Mayor Schwenk, in announcing the appointment, said: "While I deeply regret that the Rev. Mr. Hassell will not be with the committee any longer, I sincerely appreciate his willingness to serve as chairman while he was able to."

Grateful to Rev. Hassell
"I personally, and on behalf of the citizens of Kingston, am grateful for his efforts and the splendid job he did as a member and first chairman of this committee, for with his guidance, it has served our city effectively from its very inception."

"His work has been outstanding in both the religious and civic fields, and warrants the commendation of all."

"However," the mayor noted, "it is my belief that the Human Relations Committee will continue to function as smoothly in the future as it has in the past, and I know that the Rev. Mr. Coon will be an asset to its effectiveness. He is a man of high integrity and great dedication. The committee is fortunate to have him as one of its members."

GOP Assails 6-Day Congress Schedule

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson's call to Congress to go on a six-day work week until next month's Republican national convention brought angry protests today from GOP House leaders.

"It just isn't fair play," said Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana.

Sabotage: Laird
"This looks like an attempt by the President of the United States to sabotage the Republican convention," commented Rep. Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin, chairman of the GOP Platform Committee.

The committee starts its sessions in San Francisco July 6, one week before the convention opens. Many members of Congress are on the committee. Many others want to air their views before it.

Republicans had counted on the House being in recess the entire week starting July 6, with the Senate holding only token sessions.

It has been announced that 475 students will receive their diplomas from Dr. David Kline, president of the Board of Education.

The class will be presented by Dan Allen, principal. Dr. W. Wendell Hoover, superintendent of schools, will present the awards.

Extension of the debt limit and emergency excise taxes, the international coffee agreement, aid for highway construction, interest equalization taxes on foreign investments, the anti-poverty program, medical assistance for the elderly, rehabilitation of the Appalachian region, housing, nurse training assistance, immigration law revisions, land conservation, juvenile delinquency, sales of surplus food abroad and water resources research.

Both Communist and non-Communist papers in Hong Kong predicted the United States will step up its military activities in Southeast Asia.

The President said at a news conference Tuesday he wants Congress to work longer and act on about 30 "desirable" proposals before adjournment.

Indochina Warning By Peking Proof Cited U. S. Action Is Sincere

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Premier Nguyen Khanh told his people today: "The free world countries are right at our side and if necessary will tackle the problem of communism right at its roots."

His statement coincided with a declaration from Peking that "the situation in Indochina has become increasingly grave in the past few days." Japanese papers were expressing concern over U.S. policy.

Appointment Proof
Khanh said appointment of Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor as the new U.S. ambassador to Saigon "is proof of the U.S. administration's determination to continue exterminating communism to preserve freedom."

Khanh spoke at the Gulf of Thailand town of Rach Gia, at the end of a two-day tour of the southern Mekong River Delta.

Henry Cabot Lodge, who is retiring as ambassador, said he does not see how the war here can be an issue in the U.S. presidential campaign. "It involves the Eisenhower administration and the Kennedy and Johnson administrations," he said.

Chen Mentions About War
A Red Chinese broadcast from Peking said the Communist vice premier, Chen Yi, spoke of U.S. preparations "for new military adventures."

"The situation in Indochina has become increasingly grave in the past few days," he said. "In disregard of the serious protests of the Laotian and Chinese people, the United States is continuing its wanton bombing in Laos and stepping up its preparations for new military ventures in southern Viet Nam."

Cites Policy of Force
Following Taylor's appointment, editorial writers in Tokyo were taking a close look at Indochina—which Japan ruled in World War II.

The paper Asahi said the United States seemed to be adopting a policy of force in order to improve its position for a presumed political situation after U.S. elections. The Daily Yomiuri said there is the possibility that Chinese "volunteers," in the style of the Korean War, will go to North Viet Nam if the United States bombs its capital, Hanoi.

The Japan Times spoke hopefully of a policy that will result in expansion of the area of conflict.

Both Communist and non-Communist papers in Hong Kong predicted the United States will step up its military activities in Southeast Asia.

To Hear Judge's Appeal
PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The state Supreme Court will hear an appeal here July 1 by Justice Michael A. Musmanno against a ruling which discounted votes cast in wrong spaces in the primary election April 28.

Musmanno trails Genevieve Blatt, secretary of internal affairs, by 636 votes in the statewide count for the Democratic nomination for the U. S. Senate.

He sits on the Supreme Court bench, but has been on a leave of absence since before the primary election.

To Watch Military, Civilians

Washington Glad General Selected

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, who has never known defeat, flies to war-torn South Viet Nam soon to take over as U.S. ambassador. He is expected to provide a single tight and unified command over U.S. civilian and military efforts.

The soldier-diplomat was named to the Saigon post Tuesday by President Johnson after the resignation of Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge. Taylor plans to leave for his new post in 10 days or two weeks.

Lodge said he was coming home to help Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton try to win the GOP presidential nomination.

Not Conniving
In Saigon Tuesday night, Lodge declared: "I am not a candidate at all and I am not going back at all in order to connive at anything for myself. I cannot be drafted and there are no hidden meanings."

Scranton said he was delighted at Lodge's decision and added, "This is another big boost for this rapidly expanding campaign."

Johnson's selection of Taylor for the hot spot assignment won strong approval in Capitol Hill. Democrats and Republicans joined in predicting overwhelming Senate confirmation.

Two Friends With Him
In South Viet Nam, Taylor will have under him two old friends in key spots—Lt. Gen. William C. Westmoreland as U.S. military commander and veteran diplomat U. Alexis Johnson as his political deputy.

Westmoreland, one of the most promising of the Army's younger generals, has been considered a "Taylor man" for about a decade. Westmoreland served on Taylor's staff when the new ambassador was the Army's chief in the mid-1950s.

Johnson, deputy undersecretary of state for political affairs, has been close to Taylor for about 30 years. He said in an interview, "We have no magic answers but we are determined to do our best."

Wheeler Is Chosen
Stepping in behind Taylor as the new chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff will be another Taylor "disciple," Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, who now is Army chief of staff.

Although congressional reaction to Taylor's appointment was mostly enthusiastic, Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., called Johnson's decision to nominate a military man "a calamitous mistake." Morse served notice he will fight Taylor's confirmation in the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and on the Senate floor.

Future of World
Rests on Reliable
News Reporting

"News reporting is an ever-expanding, growing and vibrant profession upon which the future of the world depends," Doug Lovelace of The Associated Press told the Kingston Lions Club yesterday.

Lovelace, New York bureau chief of the AP, described the news gathering and distributing facilities of the world's largest news agency.

He told how a story that originates in The Kingston Daily Freeman gets into the world-wide news channels of the AP, and through it can be delivered to more than 1,700 newspapers and 2,500 broadcast stations in the United States and more than 4,000 outlets abroad.

Such an example was the dedication last Saturday of the chapel at Napanoch, built with the proceeds of thousands of gift trading stamps.

Lovelace said the business of informing the public is of paramount importance to the future of the country.

"We must be taught as a nation to put aside preconceived notions and prejudices," he said, "and base decisions instead on solid, reliable information."

Thruway Has 10th Birthday, Earns $426 Million Total

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—The New York State Thruway, alias the Gov. Thomas E. Dewey Thruway, is 10 years old today.

A lot has happened on the world's longest toll highway system since Omere C. Catan of Teaneck, N.J., drove the first 11 miles on the new road.

Catan's two dimes have swelled to revenues of $426 million. The State Thruway Authority, which operates the 559-mile toll system, reported Tuesday its financial condition was excellent.

More than 600 million drivers have rolled up nearly 20 billion miles on the superhighway network.

Good Safety Record
A safety record—twice as good as the national average for all roads—has been established.

The cross-state highway was to be toll-free, according to the concept at the end of World War II. But when work was begun on the scattered sections, soaring costs made it clear that a toll-free road would require major tax increases.

In 1950, the Thruway Authority was created to handle financing. The authority sold bonds that are being redeemed with toll revenues.

Cost Under Billion
The final cost of the Thruway is just under $1 billion, and a $38 million rehabilitation program already is under way.

The first 115 miles of the new highway were opened June 24, 1954. While Democrats grumbled on the sidelines, Republican Thomas E. Dewey, then governor, pressed a button at a dinner in Rochester that signaled

McKeon Plan Would Add 30 New Assembly Seats

NEW YORK (AP)—William H. McKeon, democratic state chairman, proposes redistricting the State Legislature before November and adding 30 more assembly seats. The increase would benefit mostly the New York City area.

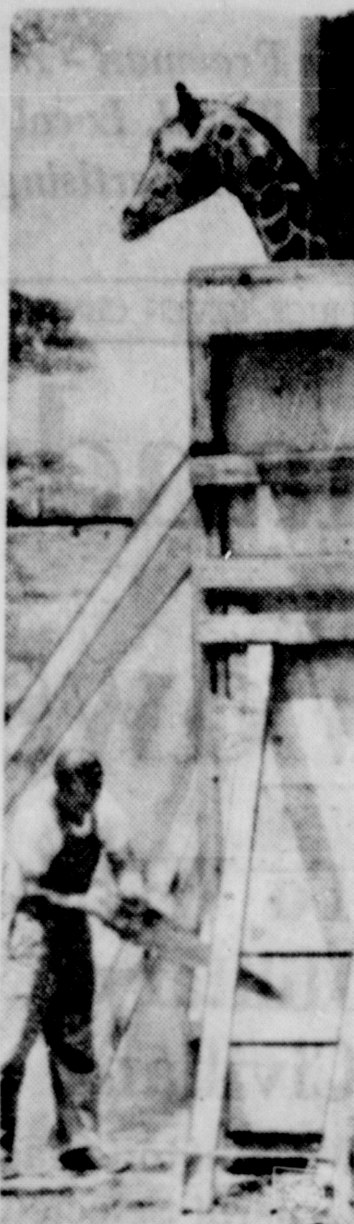

Upstate counties would lose seven assembly seats, although some with big cities would gain.

McKeon wants to give New York City 17 more assembly seats, suburban Westchester County three more and the two Long Island counties a total of 12 more.

New York City also would gain three state senate seats under the McKeon plan, while Up-

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market chartists are eyeing every price flurry for signs of the traditional summer rally.

Steel production is sliding fast toward the still more traditional July doldrums.

Many factories are preparing for the newer but growing tradition of a vacation shutdown of one, two or three weeks.

The auto industry is preparing for the summer model changeover.

Hot weather sport and recreational items are selling fast.

Tourists jam New York streets and scramble for hotel rooms. Summer camps shore themselves up for the annual rush of school-free youngsters. Highways to beaches and mountains are even more jammed than ever.

Summer is coming in just like always — almost. There are some differences this time. Stock prices already are around record highs — if you measure them by the popular averages. But many shares are far below their highs. It's the blue chip type, favored by the popular index and by many institutional buyers, that has attracted most buying interest this year.

Fall Upturn Likely

Steel's output slide — already some 6.5 per cent from its year's high of late May — seems sure to go on into July. But this summer the steelmen think the dip, however steep it seems now, may prove to be comparatively shallow and short-lived. Optimism, born of a good cushion of orders, is strong for a big fall upturn.

The factory shutdowns for vacations are taking a new look also. The trend toward longer vacations continues, and so does the practice of closing down so that everyone takes them all at once. The total of idle production days may be greater. But because of the business upswing some companies are trying divided vacations — a week in July, another at Christmas, or at some date in the backlog of unfilled orders is less impressive.

The auto changeovers this summer are complicated by reports that models revisions will be more extensive than in many years. But even more unsettling is the labor negotiations soon to start. Because of this, production right now is probably higher than it would otherwise be, and the chances of a strike cloud the late summer prospects.

Rifle Range Approved; Other Requests Sanctioned by Board

NEW PALTZ—The New Paltz Town Board has approved the application of Lawrence Koller for a rifle range on the North Ohioville Road. A franchise has been granted to Mr. Koller by the Winchester Division of the Olin-Mathison Corporation. Mr. Koller explained that the "Winchester Gun Club" as it will be called, will be operated by himself and two other parties.

Preliminary sketches were presented to the board of the rifle range and clubhouse and it was found that the shooting range and other facilities were to meet the planning board's specifications and that the shooting range held no dangers to the surrounding areas as the shooting area is in a bowl-shaped location and the perimeter is a heavily wooded area.

The board has acknowledged the donation of $100 from the Culinary Home Foundation, Kingston Road. The Culinary Home is a home for retired chefs and therefore tax free, but the foundation donates $100 each year to the town.

Approval was given Robert Reid's plan to establish his oil and heating service on a portion of the old Route 299. His request for a name for the road so that he may prepare his business forms was granted and the name given is Terwilliger Road.

Interim Census Planned
The board, at the request of Supervisor Peter Savago, has agreed to an interim census to be taken in New Paltz in 1965 since State aid is paid on a per-capita basis.

The board has accepted three new roads in the Frank LoCicero development. They are Bruce Avenue, Howard Street and College Street.

The board has established a new resolution governing building permits. Previously there was a charge of five dollars for any construction over the one thousand dollar mark, but it was felt that many were doing their own work and not purchasing any permit, so it has been established that there will be a five dollar charge for any building permit. The town took in $900 last year on building permits.

To Amend Zoning Rule
The board has decided to hold a hearing regarding a change in a section of the zoning ordinance. The board plans to amend section 15, by deleting subdivisions (a) and (b) and substituting new wording. Several amendments are anticipated as soon as the means for amendments are clarified. Peter Harp, town attorney, has been instructed to prepare the exact text, and this to be published with a notice of the hearing for two weeks prior to the meeting which has been set up for Wednesday, July 8 at 7:30 p. m.

A request that a stop sign be placed at the corner of Fulton Street and Millbrook Road has been granted, and will be done by Isaac Pole, town superintendent of highways.

Approval was given of an agreement with the county to rent machinery from the county for town use and to rent town machinery for county use. This plan was used last year.

The board has announced that a revision in road specifications is currently underway. Superintendent Pole has suggested that two coats of oil instead of one should be required on road surfaces before the town accepts them. It was decided to send letters to area contractors informing them of proposed changes in road specifications.

To Tour Russia

Robert Bennett, world history teacher at the New Paltz Central School, will leave Wednesday for a tour of the Soviet Union. While in Russia he plans to visit collective farms, factories, schools and colleges and general points of interest. Mr. Bennett has received from Soviet authorities permission to have almost unlimited freedom of travel while in that nation and also to have unrestricted use of cameras while traveling.

He will visit such cities as Leningrad, Moscow, Kiev, Odessa as well as various villages throughout Russia. He will travel by train, bus, and plane.

While on route to the Soviet Union he plans to visit England, Scotland, Sweden, Finland, and Norway. Mr. Bennett is a member of the board of education in the Valley Central School, Walden. He will return to the United States September 1st.

NEED VICE PRESIDENT

In the matter of security for the President of the United States, one fact is increasingly clear.

There is no way to give him complete protection. No way at all. Especially with a gregarious, outgoing man like President Johnson.

This being the case, it is beyond comprehension why emergency steps aren't taken at once to name a vice president.

This is not to suggest that harm is going to befall President Johnson. It is to point out realistically that harm could come to him.

One crackpot—just one—among the millions of people to whom the President is being exposed to on his frequent public appearances could be enough. And all the security precautions in the world might not stop that one fanatic.

One enemy of the country, one zealot with more zeal than brains. One gun, one bullet, one knife. That's all it would take.

And no vice president to step in and soften the shock and dislocation as Vice President Johnson did when President Kennedy was assassinated.

There is no plausible, logical or acceptable reason why a way to correct this situation can't or shouldn't be found immediately.

The country's welfare simply can't be served unless such a step is taken now—and to heck with the technicalities and inertia that are delaying it.

The whole nation is praying for the President's safety and health. Regardless of politics, personal preferences or party loyalty America needs its President—and never more than now.

But along with our prayers, let's have action on a vice president. And let's have it now.

To postpone such action amounts to deliberate and dangerous disservice to our country.

Cement prices are the lowest in eight years, say leaders in the industry. No statement could be more concrete.

MADE IN JAPAN

Fellow went into a radio store the other day. After examining and listening to the models on display, paying no particular attention to their makes, he selected the one which seem to him to offer the best combination of good looks, good workmanship, good tone and good price.

When he was handed the radio in its carton, prominently emblazoned on it were the words "Product of Japan."

The man, a veteran of the Pacific war, didn't bat an eye, though he was old enough to remember the days when the words "Made in Japan"—usually small and hidden away somewhere on an article—were synonymous with shoddy. People used to search out the label in order to avoid buying Japanese goods, and not because of ideological reasons.

Today the Japanese have captured, through peaceful initiative, not military might, a large share of the market in precision-made products such as radios, cameras and electronic and optical equipment once dominated by the Germans and Americans.

That's how long ago World War II was fought—not just a couple decades but a whole era.

CAPITAL 'B' PLEASE

Scotland has its Scotch, Canada and Ireland their own whiskies, France its Cognac brandy. Now the United States has its Bourbon.

Note that it's spelled with a capital "B"—the result of a concurrent congressional resolution honoring Bourbon as "a distinctive product of the United States."

What it means is that Bourbon will henceforth be internationally recognized and protected, as are the other national drinks, from the manufacture, importation and sale of imitations.

Fittingly, 1964 marks the 175th anniversary of the first concoction of Bourbon in

WHAT KIND OF REPUBLICAN PLATFORM?

Fears have been expressed by Republican conservatives that the liberals of the party will try to come up with a platform expressly designed to embarrass Barry Goldwater if he becomes the nominee. But it is hardly in the character of Melvin Laird, who heads the 1964 Republican Platform Committee, to embarrass anybody save the Democrats.

Mel Laird, a congressman from Wisconsin, is a scholarly fellow who thinks a platform should be developed out of "position papers" that have been slowly matured by genuine authorities on various problems of government. He has asked a number of professors to prepare detailed statements which will be presented to the resolutions committee at the San Francisco convention for approval. The papers will, however, not become a formal part of the platform, which Laird hopes will be "somewhat shorter." Laird's idea is that the Republican nominee will make the final decision about releasing the papers for publication or using their substance for campaign purposes.

As for Laird's own philosophical predilections, they are no mystery. He has already served as the chairman of an Ad Hoc Congressional Committee which has sponsored a collection of papers by men of academic stature. On his committee were Gerald Ford of Michigan, Thomas Curtis of Missouri, Peter Frelinghuysen of New Jersey, John Rhodes of Arizona, Glenard Lipscomb of California, Charles Goodell of New York, Clark MacGregor of Minnesota, and Robert Taft, Jr., of Ohio. These men are not hatchet wielders by temperament.

The papers that came out of the Laird Committee's sponsorship have been gathered together in a paperbook, with an introduction by Laird himself. Called "The Conservative Papers," this collection may offer some clues to what will be presented to the platform makers at San Francisco. The articles are not identical with the position papers now being worked up for the Platform Committee, but they do show much insight into what Laird considers to be "the conservative position" which he hopes "will come to be known more accurately as the American position."

The statements in "The Conservative Papers" are not of a nature to embarrass any Republican who wishes to offer himself as an alternative to Lyndon Johnson. The only danger to Republicans is that Johnson, if he is certain that the resurgence of U. S. conservatism is the key to victory, will choose to adapt these papers to his own uses.

Take David Nelson Rowe's paper on Asia, for example. Rowe is an excellent professor of political science at Yale who is pretty generally ignored by people like Senator Fulbright when foreign policy is being discussed. "As of now," says Rowe, "the right place to initiate an aggressive defense in Asia is in South Vietnam. It will probably be forced on us later on, at any rate. For if and when the enemy there becomes convinced of what we are trying hard now to convince ourselves, namely, that we are winning in South Vietnam, he must prevent it. He must put in what it takes to do this. With Laos secured, he can easily do it. If we wait until then to put in divisions of our own, we will find necessary a commitment far greater than we previously made in Korea."

This makes excellent strategic sense if we really mean to hold the line against Communism where it is now drawn. If Lyndon Johnson flubs in Laos, the Rowe position papers will become good Republican ammunition for any Presidential nominee. But Johnson knows this, too, as witness the firing on the Laos Communists when they seek to stop our reconnaissance flights over their positions.

Other papers in the Laird collection stress the need to keep "a constant pressure on the Soviet Union," and to beware of "flexibility in the abstract" lest we create a "political style" that will cause our allies to doubt our reliability. In domestic matters the papers remind us that "a centrally controlled economy can work—to further the special interests of those in control of it."

Nothing here is embarrassing to any Republican who is at least two degrees to the right of Senator Jake Javits of New York.

Water, Like Highways,
Calls for Safety Steps

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

As boating becomes more and more popular, boating accidents are becoming more common.

As with many other pursuits, the highest toll is among the newcomers who have not yet learned what the hazards are and how to avoid them. Even before you get your boat to the water, you must put it on a trailer and tow it behind your car. This calls for reduced speed, especially on curves and in a high wind. Otherwise, your trailer can literally pull you off the road.

Once on the water, consideration for others and common sense will go far toward increasing your safety and enjoyment. If you want all your friends to share your pleasure, take them aboard in relays. Overloading greatly increases chances of capsizing.

In any small craft avoid standing up or changing seats while the boat is in motion. If speed is your passion, don't buzz a dock or other boats, either anchored or moving. And keep a close lookout for swimmers and water skiers, who are the pedestrians of the water.

Is it unsafe to jump or dive from a moving boat because you may hit a floating or submerged object or even hit the surface at an angle that will knock your breath out. For maximum safety insist that everyone aboard has a life jacket. Children should wear a life jacket at all times. It is wise not to get too far from shore, especially in a small boat, because squalls often arise on very short notice. If your boat does capsize, stay with it. This will improve your chance of being seen and picked up. Besides, the shore may look closer than it is and even the best swimmers have trouble swimming any great distance in cold water, especially if it is rough.

Learn all the rules and obey them. Then, if you are not the seafaring type, have yourself a ball.

Q—My doctor prescribed Mellaril for me. What is it for? Is it habit forming?

A—Mellaril is a phenothiazine derivative that may be used as a tranquilizer. It is not considered habit-forming, but should be taken only under careful supervision by a physician.

Q—Our doctor has my husband taking Metamine. What does this do?

A—Metamine is a brand of trinitrate phosphate. It is given to prevent attacks of angina pectoris. It gives more prolonged action than nitroglycerin.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Plans are being made in the State Department and Pentagon for a quiet but drastic overhaul of key U. S. officers and civilians in South Viet Nam.

This reshuffle has already begun. Officials and officers have been moved out, new and quite different men sent in.

Lt. Gen. William C. Westmoreland has been selected to replace Gen. Paul Harkins as commander of U. S. forces in South Viet Nam. Some high officials of the State Department have been working to get Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge brought home and succeeded by a career diplomat. Shifts of Agency for International Development (AID) officials are in the offing.

The belief here is that somehow the high officials and officers in Saigon have been fighting the wrong kind of war—a conventional European type war—and following the kind of diplomacy that goes with it. They haven't understood the kind of guerrilla war that's going on in South Viet Nam. They've gone too much by the book, haven't been flexible or unconventional enough. "Some very able men just haven't been able to adapt," says one official wryly.

THE NEW AND TOUGHER POLICY is going to be that if an official or an officer doesn't get results, he'll be brought home.

Specialists are running tests to determine what type of officer and civilian works best in South Viet Nam. Some very able men haven't made the grade. Others who couldn't get along in conventional roles seem to "find" themselves in this irregular war.

THE KILLING — PART TWO

Helen McGrady said that she wanted to pick the 8th race. Her husband had selected the winners of the 5th and 6th in the twin double, now she wanted the right to pick the 8th. The man to whom the McGradys sold half their ticket for $175, George Berger, finally relented.

"I like Rough Territory in the eighth," she said, "because that's where we all are right now." Berger liked the number one horse, but agreed to Rough Territory. The loud speaker said "The horses are now nearing the starter's gate," as Berger yanked out a fistful of form charts and began to study the ninth race. He picked the 4 horse — Expresso.

Helen ran to the window, but a lot of people were waiting. The clerks were in no hurry. If the horses got into the starting gate before she made her selection, the ticket was dead. She began to perspire. When she got to the window, she shoved the ticket in and said "3 and 4, please." The man punched the proper numbers. The announcer said: "The horses are now in the gate." The window slammed shut.

She had barely made it. She and Alfreda and Berger ran out to watch the race. John McGrady stood at the bar, ordering one beer after another and telling himself that he wasn't nervous, that his family was nuts. He heard the roar of the crowd, heard the announcer call Rough Territory, and he ordered another beer. "I think I'm in shock," he said to himself. "I feel so calm."

Helen and the others came back screaming. Green Creek and William E. had been the favorites, but Rough Territory had won. Berger was jumping up and down McGrady said: "You're going to have a heart attack." Alfreda said that it had just been posted on the odds board that there was only one ticket out on Expresso in the 9th race and, if the horse won, it would pay $84,692.20, the biggest payoff in racing history.

Helen was choking. Alfreda was wringing her hands. Berger was jumping. McGrady said to the Irish bartender: "Say a little prayer." He kept his back to the track. The bartender could see the stretch. He watched. He polished a glass and whispered: "My God, your horse is out in front by four."

McGrady finished the beer. His gang came running back, incoherent. Helen had the ticket in her hand, clinched so tight that it was wrinkled. "I think I'm in shock," McGrady said. He and Helen and Berger and Al-

Under Court Rule, Senate Could Grow to 624 Members

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—Maybe if the ruling just announced by the Supreme Court of the United States—providing for "one person, one vote"—is applied to the Federal government, the Senate of the United States some day may be composed of 624 Senators. The Supreme Court says that population must be the basis for the apportionment of the state legislatures but defends the present imbalance in the national Congress as "traditional." Yet traditions aren't always maintained, and the Supreme Court in many decisions has frequently taken the liberty of adjusting them to "the spirit of the times."

Applying the concept of "one person, one vote," it would be relatively easy for the Supreme Court to rewrite Article I of the Constitution, which provides for two Senators for each state. The language could be interpreted by the high court to mean that, while the Constitution intended each state to have not less than two Senators, this doesn't prevent a state from having more Senators, especially if population is taken as the yardstick.

Under the 1960 census, there is an average of about 300,000 population in the four least populous states—Alaska, Vermont, Wyoming and Nevada. If one additional Senator is granted in all the other states for every 300,000 of population above the initial 300,000, there would be a total of 624 Senators.

A simple majority of the Senate would then be controlled by 313 votes, which could come from only 10 states — namely, New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Ohio, Michigan, Illinois, Nevada, Texas, California and Pennsylvania. A two-thirds vote of a Senate made up in this way could be obtained by the votes of only 18 states.

The principle back of such an imbalance is recognized by the Supreme Court in its recent ruling on how the districts in the various state legislatures shall be composed. The court's theory is that population was the only basis on which the representative system was inaugurated. It is difficult to see, however, how the Supreme Court can continue to apply the rule to state legislatures without some day feeling obliged to do the same with respect to Congress. The Court has relied on the doctrine that citizens must have "equal protection of the laws" and that the apportionment must be on the basis of the actual number of voters so that the formula "one person, one vote" is made effective.

The court went on to say, in connection with state apportionments, that it could "perceive no Constitutional difference, with respect to the geographical distribution of state legislative representation, between the two houses of a bicameral state legislature." It added that the concept of a two-house system is not rendered meaningless because population is used as the predominant basis of representation. The court added:

"Different constituencies can be represented in the two houses. One body could be composed of single-member districts while the other could have at least some multi-member districts."

This suggestion could just as readily be applied to Congress. The lower house could continue to have more members, and the Senate could be composed of either 624 members or even more, depending upon what basic unit of population would be considered adequate for each state.

The whole emphasis in the latest Supreme Court ruling is on numbers. If a state, for example, attempted to limit the number of voters on the basis of intelligence qualifications, the argument would be raised that this is a form of discrimination. Nowhere in the recent Supreme Court opinion is there any recognition of the fact that, although the population has grown, this doesn't necessarily mean that the number of citizens with sufficient knowledge to vote intelligently on public questions has been correspondingly increased.

Members of Congress are beginning to hear from back home murmurs of real discontent over the recent Supreme Court decisions which dictate to the states of the Union how they shall apportion representation in both houses of their respective state legislatures.

Apparently people in the farm and rural sections are afraid that domination by the cities may prove injurious to their properties and that legislation beneficial to them which has hitherto been passed by the states will be discarded if the state legislatures are entirely rebuilt with another system of representation. It is feared also that the country will be governed by the political machines of a few big cities. Sen. Dirksen, Republican leader, has already said publicly that a constitutional amendment may be necessary to clarify the limits of the Supreme Court's ruling.

Quick Quiz

Q—For whom did New York City give its first ticker tape parade?

A—For the Prince of Wales, now the Duke of Windsor, in 1919 on his first visit to the United States.

freda and the man who wanted to buy half the ticket all walked up to the office of John Matthews, the Mutuels Director. Helen gave him the ticket. Flashlights were popping. Reporters hit the McGradys with questions. Berger stood aside in silence. The reporters were not interested in John. They wanted a story about a housewife winning the largest amount ever paid at a track.

McGrady got Matthews aside, and told him the real story. The track made out two checks to Helen McGrady for $40,000 each, and gave her $4,692.20 in cash, mostly in hundred dollar bills.

She endorsed one check over to George Berger, and gave him $2,000 in cash. She was about to split the $692.20 with him when he waved her away. "I owe John $175 for my half of the ticket," he said. "And you keep the rest."

Don't forget the tickets to Europe," John said. "I have never traveled." In the morning all the parties were at the office of the Bureau of Internal Revenue in Fort Lauderdale. The agents questioned the parties separately, to find out who owned how much of the ticket, and how much Uncle Sam—the only sure winner—could take.

The cost came to about $14,000 on each half of the ticket.

Berger told the agents that he owned only ten per cent of his half, that he had sold the rest.

The Bureau told him to get a lawyer and come back.

John and Helen McGrady were left with $29,692.20, plus the $66 she had won on Bilro. He put the $7,000 aside to pay the mortgage on the house in Miramar and bought some A. T. & T. stock. For a bail captain, he was in good shape.

The next morning, John McGrady went to the Diplomat and put on his bellman's uniform. One of the secretaries saw him in the lobby. "Don't tell me you're still working here," she said. McGrady thought about it. He sees nothing funny in working "Of course I'm still here," he said. "Also, I expect to continue to work here."

He shook his head sadly. People, he felt, worship money. He and Helen had made out well — $29,000 and a trip to Europe—but it was all wild luck. The job? Well, that made some sense. It was steady.

Don Cuddy, the public relations man, walked out of the lobby. McGrady held the glass door open for him. "Bet a buck it rains," said Don, squinting at the sky. McGrady shook his head.

"Nothing doing," he said. "I'm not a betting man."

Drought Farmers Turn to Science For Needed Rain

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Desperate farmers in three drought-stricken counties in Northeastern New York have turned to scientific rain-makers in a continuing quest for aid.

Earlier in the week, farmers in Washington, Rensselaer and Saratoga Counties, where crop damage has been greatest, had asked the federal government for assistance.

Pool $2,800 for Job

Tuesday night in Salem, 180 farmers from the three counties met and collected $2,500 to hire a professional rain-making firm to seed clouds with silver nitrate crystals.

The Lexington, Mass., firm charges $2,000 to set up its equipment and $200 a day while in operation. The company said it would begin setting up today, a process that takes 10 days.

Meanwhile, the weatherman predicted the clouds over Northeastern New York would yield scattered showers on their own, but not enough to relieve the general drought conditions.

Wide Areas Hurt

The rain shortage has hurt crops in counties from Washington through Saratoga and Herkimer, south of Herkimer into Otsego, Delaware, Sullivan and Orange, and also in Suffolk on Long Island, the State Agriculture Department reported Tuesday.

Rainfall in Central and Northern New York has been slightly below normal, with lawn sprinkling rains reported in effect in widely scattered areas.

Adequate in West

The picture is different in Western New York, where rain has been adequate. Tuesday night thunder storms that brought lightning, high winds, rain and hail swept across much of the area, hitting hardest in Niagara, Chautauque and Erie counties.

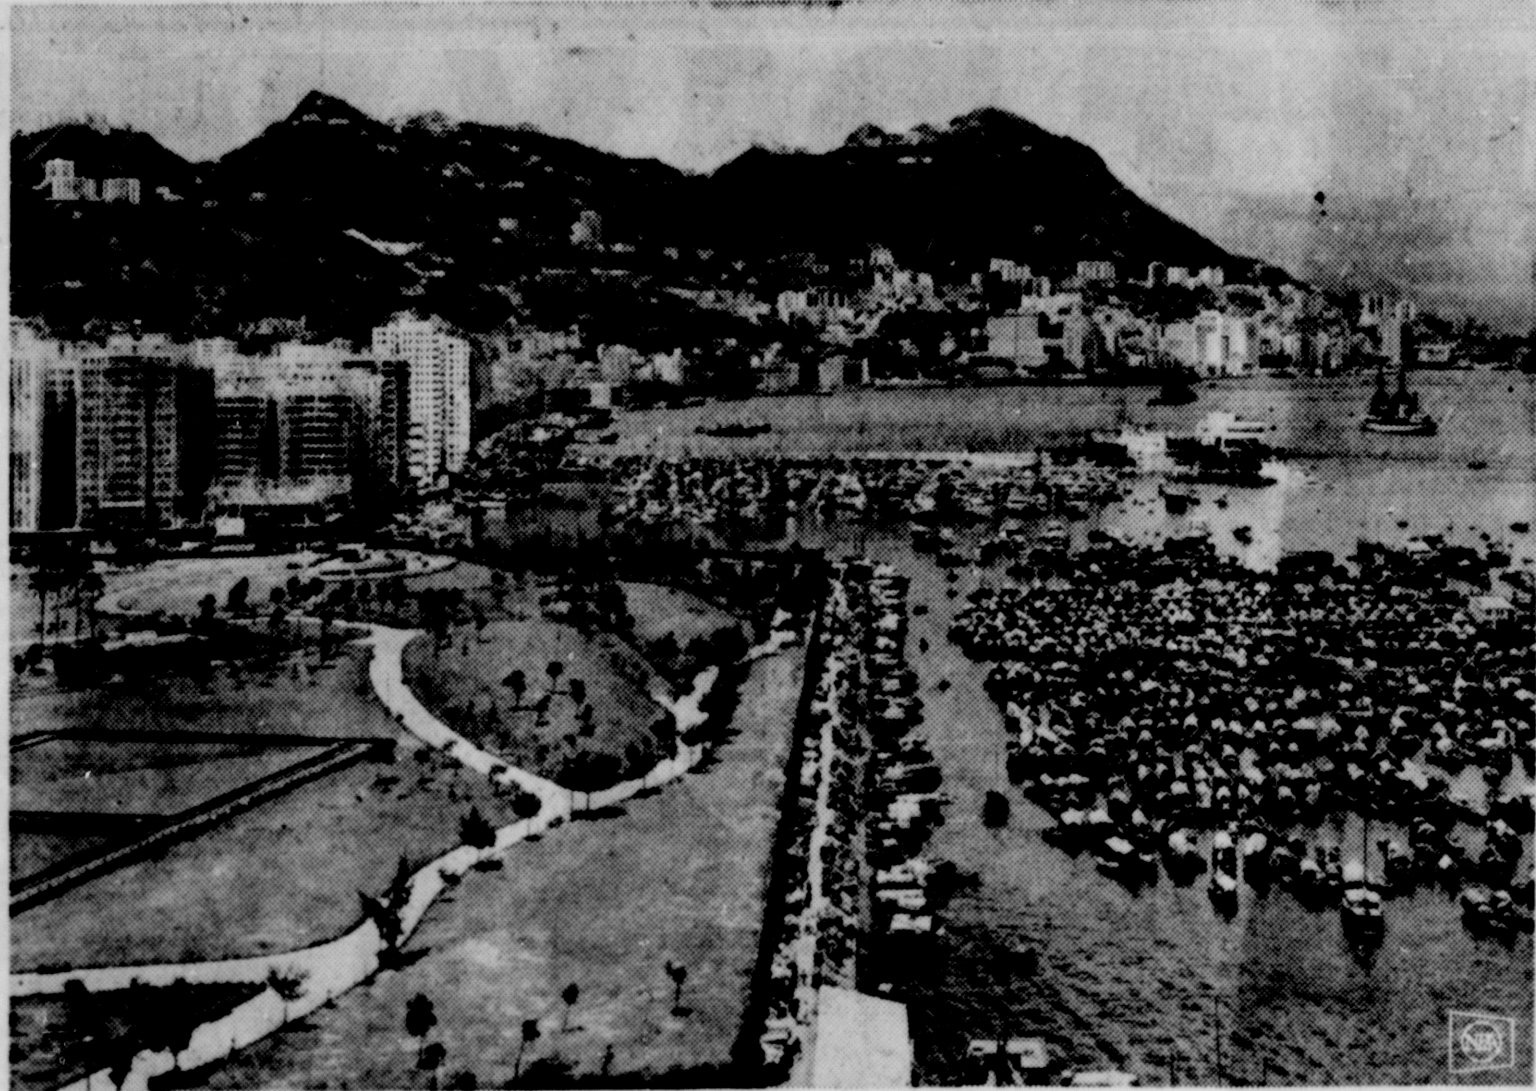

A spokesman said this is the first time that cloud-seeding has been tried in Northeastern New York. The technique was used successfully several years ago by fruit-growers in the Lower Hudson Valley, however.

Will Ask Ban on Arms

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor Robert F. Wagner said today that at the request of Police Commissioner Michael J. Murphy he will as the city council to enact a local law prohibiting the possession of or carrying of a loaded rifle or shotgun in public.

The proposed law also would prohibit the possession or carrying of an unloaded rifle or shotgun in public unless the weapon was enclosed in a carrying case.

Present law allows a person to appear in public openly carrying a loaded rifle or shotgun.

Hilton Corp. Is Sued by Judge, Day Wait for Room

DETROIT (AP) — A judge who staged a sit-in with his family at a New York hotel last week has brought a $3 million suit against the Hilton Hotel Corp.

Municipal Judge John J. Kadela of suburban Dearborn, his wife and their four children had to stay in a private dining room at the Statler-Hilton Hotel for 24 hours until a room was found for them.

Hotel rooms in New York City have been difficult to obtain because of the influx of World's Fair visitors. The Kadelas were among the fair-bound tourists.

In his circuit court suit filed Tuesday, Kadela asked that the $3 million be put in trust for all the minor children of Michigan who might receive similar treatment from the hotel firm. He asked that he be named their guardian.

Kadela asked $1 in damages for himself.

Roofs were ripped from buildings, trees toppled, electric and telephone lines were broken, hundreds of basements were flooded in several cities and boats were smashed along the shores of Lakes Erie and Ontario.

Monaghan Must Return Deposit On Defunct Deal

NEW YORK (AP) — A former New York City police commissioner faces a possible jail sentence unless he returns nearly $7,000 in deposit money.

George R. Monaghan, also a former state harness race commissioner, was held in contempt of court Tuesday and fined $7,000 for failing to return the funds after a World's Fair deal fell through.

State Supreme Court Justice Abraham N. Geller said Monaghan could purge himself of the charge if he returned the escrow money at $1,000-a-month, starting in two weeks.

Avalon East, Inc., a food distributing firm, contended Monaghan had failed to give back the funds despite a court order.

Geller said Monaghan had represented Fun Food, Inc., in a deal to sublease space to Avalon at the fair.

He said Monaghan later informed Avalon that Fun Food had been unable to obtain space for leasing but then refused to return the escrow money given to launch the deal.

New Cars Fill

Up Storage Lots, Delivery Halted

NEW YORK (AP)—New cars rolling off assembly lines in the East were filling storage lots today. A strike by Teamster Union locals has stopped delivery of the cars to dealers.

The strike, begun by several locals Monday night and Tuesday, was described as a revolt against Teamster Union President James R. Hoffa's plan for a nationwide contract in the car-carrying industry.

Involved in the dispute were car-carrying terminals, usually located near assembly plants, from Framingham, Mass., to Baltimore. At least eight plants were affected.

General Motors, Ford and Chrysler plants were expected to keep operating at least until the end of the week. Most were looking for extra storage space for new cars.

FOOD FOR AMERICANS

Keep Cool With a Key Lime Pie

By GAYNOR MADDOX

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The cooling flavor of fresh limes is hard to beat when the thermometer goes sky high. But limes are not always in the market or else cost a little too much. That's why it is good news that there's a new Key lime pie filling on the market that turns out desserts not quite but almost as delightful as fresh limes.

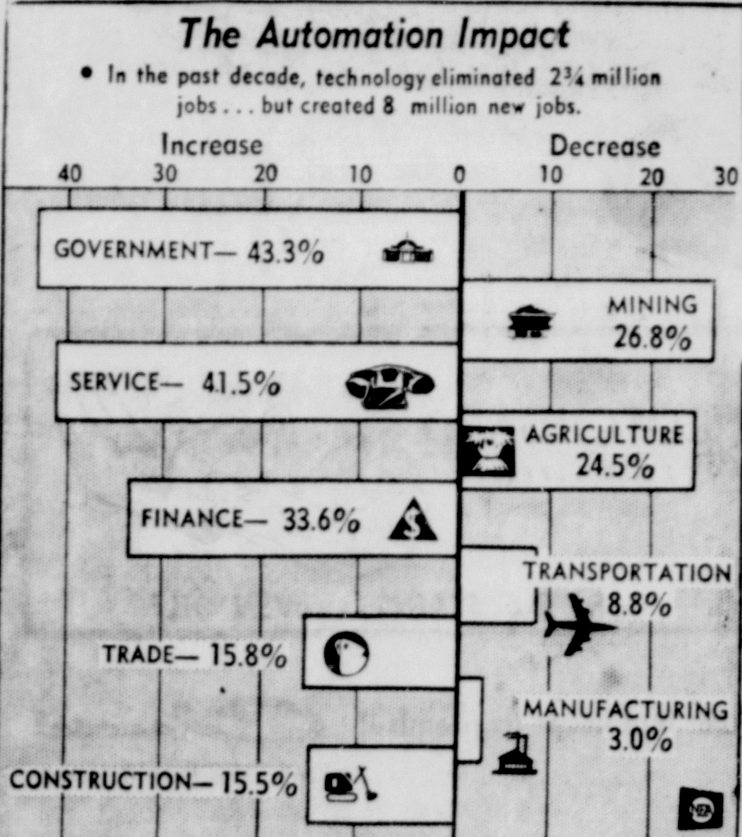

This Key Lime Meringue Pie recipe is a modern version of a famous pie originated in the Florida Keys centuries ago. The original pie, food historians say, was a custard filling in a pastry shell with a lightly browned, baked meringue topping.

KEY LIME MERINGUE PIE

(1 9-inch pie)

- 1 package Key lime flavor pie filling
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 2 1/2 cups water
- 2 egg yolks, slightly beaten

Can't Be Draft, Lodge Declares

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — Henry Cabot Lodge's return from South Viet Nam might offer Republicans a choice of candidates to oppose Sen. Barry Goldwater in the GOP presidential nomination.

Lodge announced in Saigon Tuesday he was quitting his ambassadorial post and coming home because he felt it was his "duty to do everything that I can to help Gov. Scranton to win for president." Later, he said "there are no hidden meanings" in his decision to return to the United States and he is "not a candidate at all." He added, "I am not going back at all in order to connive at anything for myself. I cannot be drafted."

Decision Heralded
Lodge's decision to jump into presidential politics was widely heralded by the backers of Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton as a major development in his efforts to win delegates away from Goldwater. Scranton said he was delighted by Lodge's decision to return and added, "This is another big boost for this rapidly expanding campaign." He said he hoped to have Lodge "go around and tell the people why they should be for me."

Discounted by Goldwater
Supporters of Goldwater, who has more than enough publicly committed convention votes to win the nomination if his delegates stand pat, generally discounted Lodge's move.

Goldwater, in a statement issued Tuesday, avoided any reference to Lodge's declaration that he would campaign for Scranton.

Instead, the Arizonan said, "Ambassador Lodge is to be congratulated for bearing up this long under such adverse conditions. The Johnson-McNamara program of indecision and vacillation has made it impossible for him to carry out his ambassadorial functions properly and undoubtedly motivated his resignation." Lodge gave no hint of such a factor in his letter of resignation.

Look at Lodge Popularity
While nobody questioned the sincerity of Lodge's commitment to back Scranton, some party strategists noted there were elements present that could lead to unpredictable developments.

This would be true particularly, they said, if there was a resurgence of Lodge's popularity in the national polls. These listed him as top choice of the rank and file for the nomination before he ran second to New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller in the May 15 Oregon primary. Some polls still give Lodge high ratings.

Scranton, whose name was on the Oregon ballot, got only 2 per cent of the vote. His meager total there and his low rating in the national polls were viewed by his friends as the natural result of his position then that he was not a candidate and that he would only accept a nomination tendered him as the result of a genuine draft he did not think would come about.

Subsequently Scranton announced he was an active candidate against Goldwater and most of Lodge's backers said they would support the Pennsylvania governor.

Not Widely Known
One of Scranton's principal problems in his belated scramble for the nomination has been that many Republicans just do not know much about him and haven't learned where he stands on the issues.

As the 1960 GOP vice-presidential nominee, Lodge has general recognition among the party organization workers whose voices will be heard in delegation caucuses and whose votes will be recorded in the convention balloting.

Whether a significant number of them might decide that Lodge rather than Scranton, was the nominee they wanted remains a question to be answered at the convention.

Traver Trial Is In Third Day

Trial of suspended Poughkeepsie Police Lieut. George H. Traver, 51, went into its third day this morning before Dutchess County Judge John R. Schwartz and a jury.

The defendant is charged with second degree assault. He is accused of shooting John Phillips, 32-year-old Highland taxicab driver, during an argument last Nov. 17. Traver, represented by Attorney Edward Filipowicz, has previously pleaded innocent and is on $5,000 bail.

District Attorney Raymond C. Baratta is prosecuting the case. He called several witnesses on Tuesday before court recessed shortly before 5 p. m. until today. Detective Lieut. Richard Hellman of the Town of Poughkeepsie police, who assisted in the preliminary investigation and arrest of Traver, testified that during questioning of the defendant on the night of the alleged assault, Traver remarked,

"Okey, I shot the guy. I don't want any bail, lock me up." Hellman also reportedly testified that Traver was hostile, excitable and vindictive.

Another prosecution witness, Ralph Yando, a bartender at McAuley's tavern on Hooker Avenue, where Traver visited the night of the alleged assault, reportedly replied when asked if in his opinion was Traver intoxicated, "definitely not."

During testimony of Lieut. Hellman, the witness said police obtained a search warrant and entered Traver's home where they found a .32 caliber revolver under a dresser. Police said Traver allegedly hit Phillips with the gun and it discharged, wounding the taxicab driver's shoulder.

Other policemen who participated in the investigation, and a physician who treated Phillips for the wound, testified as prosecution witnesses. Traver, a veteran of 27 years of service as a Poughkeepsie policeman, has an unblemished record as an officer.

The defendant was suspended by Police Chief John L. Martin immediately after his arrest. After the case is disposed of in county court, Traver must face departmental charges before the Police-Fire Trial Board.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

I do not know what would happen to the modern educated youth, if they had to start house-keeping as the Colonists did when they first came here. Now-a-days when the electric power goes off, like it did not too long ago, because of an ice storm, the householder is left without lights, heat, and cooking facilities if they have an all electric home. Often not only do they sit in a cold, dark home, but even the telephone wires may be down, and no radio or TV with the outside world isolates each little modern home. It would not have bothered the colonists one bit. Each household was self-sufficient, often for the winter or several months.

Clayton R. Smith, in his manuscript written sometime in 1925 writes about water power development around here. He writes in part: "As soon as the colonists settlements were made in this vicinity, water power along the Rondout was utilized. There was the grist mill of De Witt at Greenkill, and that of Vernoooy on the Vernoooy Kill, besides numerous saw-mills, tanneries, hat works, knife works, Deputy's Grist Mill at High Falls which was used to grind the cement used in building the canal. With the advent of cement manufacture the power was used in the various mills. Around 1800, Southwick had a tannery and grist mill just below where the Honk Falls power house is located. At the present time there is a tobacco, knife works and paper mills at this point. "This was written in 1925. He mentions that the history of the development of water power along the Rondout by C. P. Dickinson, who owned the Honk Falls Power Co., is very interesting.

Mr. Smith further writes: Thomas Gray, was in the employ of the Thompson-Houston Co., of Boston, Mass. the predecessors of the General Electric Co. They received a contract to install a Hydro-Electric Plant and distribution system for the village of Ellenville. Mr. Gray was sent to install the set up. The installation consisted of a 50 KW generator and water wheel, distribution system 1100 volts at 125 cycles, the first installation of type F. dry transformers and the first constant current transformer for the street lighting system."

Mr. Smith's article further explains: "The house lighting was at 55 volts. The generator was installed at the tobacco knife works. Mr. Gray saw the power possibilities which had not been developed at this time at Honk Falls and as C. P. Dickinson was a great friend of his, he spoke to him about it. Mr. Dickinson took a trip to Napanoch to look the thing over. He was favorably impressed and as he had just inherited a large sum of money he decided to purchase and develop the falls. In 1897 the land was purchased and the equipment ordered. At this time the Napanoch Reformatory was being constructed and the Honk Falls Power Co. Power House was built of surplus stone from this building which was quarried on the site."

"This plant was completed and took load for the first time Dec. 8, 1898. The generating equipment consisted of 2-300 KW and two Impulse Turbines, operating under 145' head. The current was generated at 2300 volts, 60 cycles. The load supplied was the Napanoch Reformatory and the Village of Ellenville."

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Ray (Crash) Corrigan, who endured hundreds of battles in his career as a Western actor, is engaged in the fight of his life. His opponent: his ex-wife.

The prize is the Corriganville movie ranch, 1,611 acres of rock-strewn hills and Western sets 25 miles north of Hollywood. Crash paid $11,000 for it in 1937. A fortnight ago the former Mrs. Corrigan outbid him in court with an offer of $2,506,000 for the property.

Crash has his aces in the hole. If his ex-wife comes up with the purchase price, he'll get half as his share of ownership. His production company holds a 23-year lease on the ranch, so he intends to continue operating it.

This was the latest of a series of court clashes in which the ex-wife, now Mrs. Rita Stiltz, has tried to wrest control of the property from Corrigan. She has plans to turn the ranch into a housing development.

"When I bought this place, it had been used as a dump for 30 years," he recalled. "Nothing but tin cans all over. It took me three years to clean it up and build camera roads so movie companies could work here."

"I put 30 years of my life into this place. I built it from nothing into a top tourist attraction that has as many as 15,000 visitors a day.

"I'd like to go on building it. I've had money men from the East offer to back me in making this a Western Disneyland."

He continues to operate Corriganville for the summer trade seven days a week. He runs the place with a firm, benevolent hand. At 57, Crash remains a robust figure, able to take a horse fall with the best of the stunt men.

Drowns While on Visit

COVINGTON, N. Y. (AP)—Four-year-old Gail Jackson of Pavilion was drowned Tuesday in a pond on a farm she and her parents were visiting in this Wyoming County village. Sheriff's deputies said the girl wandered off and apparently fell into the pond. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jackson.

GE, Union Rift Going To Higher Negotiators

SCHENECTADY, N. Y. (AP) — Negotiations between the General Electric Co. and the International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE) in a dispute over piece-work appeared headed for New York City Thursday.

Company representatives walked out of a bargaining session here Tuesday when a union spokesman attempted to tape-record the proceedings.

Under the union management grievance procedure, the next step is a meeting of higher-level GE and IUE representatives in New York City.

The union contends that if that meeting fails to produce a settlement, the union will be free to strike.

The company had announced plans to eliminate piece-work pay rates at its Schenectady plant and to substitute day-work rates, effective July 13.

The union claimed the change would result in reduced pay for 3,000 of the 9,000 employees here.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — There'll be a hot time in the whole country as the three major television networks buckle down to the business of covering politics during the next five months.

All three have come to regard a presidential election year as a time to flex the muscles of their news departments, plunging into furious competition to get on camera first with a news item and in nailing big-wigs for interviews.

It is a time, too, when television experiments with some of the wondrous new electronic developments. This year's little marvel is expected to be a lightweight television camera which, free of the usual tie to an electrical outlet, can go anywhere a cameraman can walk — perhaps even into a smoke-filled room, hitherto out of sight and sound.

Each network is sending huge staffs and tons of equipment to the Republican convention in July and to the Democratic convention in August. Each plans to devote many hours of prime evening time to special programs, documentaries, analyses, explanations and interviews. There will even be politically oriented programs for children and for women.

A delicate job, the broadcaster's special headache, will be keeping a careful balance in time and television exposure among the candidates, between the major parties.

Under the Federal Communications Act, the networks, which are exceedingly careful about what is said on the air, are prohibited from censoring the statements of any candidate. Networks or stations may, however, refuse to permit non-candidates from making statements they believe to be libelous or defamatory.

During the campaign months, the networks will be carrying many campaign commercials.

During the late summer and fall, many entertainment programs will be clipped short to make room for them—a situation which may not make viewers, already inundated with commercials, particularly happy.

Politics and political programs, will make things for program arrangers more difficult in September, when the new show season begins.

Anyway, from now until November, it will be a busy time for the network news staffs.

Much Too Obvious

MOUNT VERNON, Ky. (AP)

—Fire Chief John Cox estimated damage at $2,000 to $3,000 when as he was trying to start the fire engine, it backfired and gas was ignited under it.

The city then found it had no fire insurance on the fire truck.

Karume Unversed in Infiltration

Western Influence Is Waning
As Reds Move Into Zanzibar

By DENNIS NEED
ZANZIBAR (AP)—The Soviet Union, Communist China and East Germany are pumping men, services and machines into Zanzibar.

President Julius Nyerere of the new Republic of Tanganyika and Zanzibar is trying to assert his authority in the island 25 miles off the East African mainland.

Zanzibar's own president, Abid Karume, 59, a Moslem, probably has no deep love of communism. But the island leader, a seaman for 22 years, seems unversed in the ways of Communist infiltration.

Karume is the idol of the Zanzibar Africans and the island's most powerful single personality.

Helpers Are Welcome

Asked this month about Communists in positions of authority in Zanzibar, he replied: "What are one or two men? I have the power and I have my own eyes and ears."

Karume cites generous Communist aid as an indication of the bloc's friendship and says anyone who helps Zanzibar is welcome.

Some 150 technicians and experts from the Communist bloc are believed to be working in Zanzibar.

British civil servants have been replaced. East Germans have taken over the Finance Ministry and are helping run the radio station, Information Ministry, schools and medical services. They are doing preliminary work on projects to rehouse thousands of Africans huddled in squalid shanties outside Zanzibar town.

The Red Chinese are firmly ensconced in the agriculture department and are planning for rice growing and other farm schemes to reduce the island's dependence on cloves.

Equipment, Services

China has granted Zanzibar an interest-free loan of $14 million, much of which will be in the form of equipment and services.

Soviet technicians have taken over running of the harbor and providing officers for Zanzibar's two coastal passenger ships. Soviet instructors are training about 400 recruits in the people's liberation army in the use of their new Soviet equipment.

Some of this was displayed at the big May Day parade, "but you didn't see all of it," says Maj. Ali Mahfoud, the army's Havana-indoctrinated second in command.

Train Behind Curtain

The army largely is officered by Zanzibaris of Arab origin and small groups have been sent behind the Iron Curtain for further training. Other Zanzibari troops reportedly are being sent to Indonesia.

As a result of Nyerere's influence, Zanzibari troops have discarded their Cuban-style caps and uniforms and now wear the standard green berets and uniforms of the Tanganyika forces.

Communist literature is everywhere. The Soviet Embassy hands it out to school children. The works of Mao Tse-tung crowd bookshops.

The United States embassy has also been permitted to reopen its reading room since Zanzibar and Tanganyika agreed to unite.

Western diplomats are hopeful Karume's African nationalism may come out on top and that Western presence may slowly be re-established.

Equalization
For Rosendale
4 Points Less

The final equalization rate for Rosendale Village, '64, based on 1963 assessment rolls established by the State Board of Equalization and Assessment this week, is four points less than last year.

The rates set by the state are the ratio between the assessed value of local real property and its actual full value as determined by the state. When market values rise in a community but assessments do not, the rates drop.

Lower rates usually mean an increased share of school taxes and a lesser portion of state aid where centralized districts are involved.

Today in History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Wednesday, June 24, the 176th day of 1964. There are 190 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1948, the Soviet Union blockaded all land traffic between occupied Berlin and West Germany in a dispute over currency. The next day American and British planes began to supply the city in a gigantic airlift which lasted 321 days.

On this date in 1520, the Spanish conqueror of Mexico, Hernando Cortez, entered Mexico City.

In 1793, the first French Republican constitution was adopted.

In 1940, Marshal Petain's French government signed an armistice with Italy.

In 1941, President Franklin D. Roosevelt pledged that all possible aid would be granted to Russia.

In 1945, Adolf Hitler's personal flag was dragged in the dust as the feature of a victory parade in Moscow.

Ten years ago... Many areas of Des Moines, Iowa, were flooded when the Des Moines River reached a record high crest.

Five years ago... Vice President Richard Nixon and Soviet Premier Khrushchev met for the first time at a conference in Moscow.

One year ago... The Internal Revenue Service liberalized some of its new rules on expense-account tax deduction following protests by business leaders.

Reservations and settlements of about one-half-dozen Indian tribes lie within 30 miles of Phoenix, Ariz.

Scranton Makes Pitch for Votes In West Virginia

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania flew to Charleston, W.Va., today to bid for Southern Republican support in his drive for the presidential nomination.

Viet Still Issue
As Scranton's plane took off from Newark, sources close to the governor said that the entry of Henry Cabot Lodge into the political fight on Scranton's side would not eliminate South Vietnam as an issue in the campaign.

Lodge resigned his ambassadorship to Viet Nam to return to the United States and work for Scranton.

The sources, who declined to be quoted directly, said Scranton has not changed his position that foreign affairs—particularly the Southeast Asia situation—are the No. 1 line of attack against the Johnson administration.

Scranton has said that in the past of ambassador, Lodge merely was an agent of the President. As such, he said, Lodge's position could not be construed as neutralizing Republicans on policy in that area.

Also Eyes Florida
The 46-year-old governor, seeking to overtake the running Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, set his sights today on West Virginia's 14 convention delegates and the 34-vote bloc of Florida.

Scranton's aides said today's trip was aimed mainly at shoring up the uncommitted ranks in the two delegations. The secondary aim was conversion of delegates to the Scranton cause—particularly those now backing Goldwater.

Goldwater leads The Associated Press poll with 694 delegates, more than enough for nomination if he can hold them.

In West Virginia, the Arizona senator has four delegates. Scranton has two and eight are uncommitted. In Florida Goldwater has 22; 11 are uncommitted, and one stands opposed to Goldwater.

Gov. Enthusiastic
Scranton was enthusiastic about the results of his delegate hunt in Delaware and New Jersey.

He claimed "far more than a majority" of the 12-vote Delaware delegation. Sen. Clifford P. Case of New Jersey told newsmen Scranton could expect a "big majority" of the 40-vote New Jersey delegation.

The Delaware delegation pledged itself officially to favorite son Sen. John J. Williams for the first ballot. New Jersey delegates decided to remain uncommitted, at least until after they meet with Goldwater in Trenton Monday.

Scranton met privately with the New Jersey delegates before addressing a $100-a-table Republican fund-raising dinner.

County Welfare Cost $2,307,923; Gain Is 7.9 PC

The cost for public welfare programs and their administration in Ulster County was $2,307,923 in 1963, according to a report by the Citizens Public Expenditure Survey, Inc., a statewide tax research organization. The figure marks an increase of 7.9 per cent compared with the 1962 total of $2,138,747.

The monthly average number of recipients was 2,388 for the county during 1963 or 18.5 per 1,000 county residents. This was an increase of .8 per 1,000 county residents from the 1962 figure of 17.7 per 1,000.

Based on the number of recipients per 1,000 population Ulster County ranked 48th among New York's 57 counties and New York City. The average for 1963 was 25.9 outside New York City.

On a statewide basis the total cost for public welfare programs increased as did the number of recipients. The survey reported that the total state sum for welfare programs and their administration during 1963 was $678.9 million, an increase of $89.1 million from the 1962 total of $589.8 million, a 15.1 per cent rise.

The total monthly average number of recipients on a statewide basis rose from 584,271 in 1962 to 647,817 in 1963. The upstate counties accounted for 248,196 of the monthly average number of recipients during 1963 as compared to 220,729 recipients per month during 1962.

The survey noted that the bulk of public welfare spending goes for public assistance programs. These are old age assistance, aid to the disabled, aid to the blind, aid to dependent children, home relief and medical assistance for the aged.

Statewide there were 37.3 recipients for every 1,000 New York residents.

Fifty counties registered an increase in the average number of monthly welfare recipients per 1,000 population and the seven other upstate counties dropped.

Only four counties registered a decrease in welfare expenditures plus administration—Washington County, Orange County, St. Lawrence County and Greene County.

COMPLEX CAPE—Cape Kennedy Air Force Station, the starting point of U.S. space and missile exploits, has probably fired the imagination of man as no other bit of real estate ever has before. No military installation in history has been known to so many persons. Located on a narrow strip of land between the Banana River and the Atlantic Ocean, the cape covers a 25-square-mile area. Newsmap above shows the tour route open to the public. The map also locates at a glance the complete assembly and launch facilities for ballistics and spacecraft, storage and fuel stations, landing strip for delivery of complete missiles and a vast array of data-gathering equipment. The nerve center of the Cape is the Central Control building. From here missile launching is controlled and monitored.

$180,000 Voted By Senate for Maple Research

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Interior Department appropriations bill, passed by the Senate Tuesday, provided $180,000 to establish a National Maple Production Research Center in Burlington, Vt.

The House-approved measure did not include this item. But Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., who obtained insertion of the provision, said he hoped Senate-House conferees would include his proposal in the compromise bill.

"The results of this work can have wide application in some 13 or 14 states, from Maine to Michigan," Aiken said. "The present deficit position of our maple industry is serious because we don't begin to produce enough maple to supply the wants of our people, and have to rely heavily on imports from Canada."

The Province of Quebec leads the world in maple syrup production, followed by Vermont and New York.

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Henry Cabot Lodge said today he doesn't see how the war in Viet Nam can be an issue in the U.S. presidential campaign—"It involves the Eisenhower administration and the Kennedy and Johnson administrations, and the Truman administration."

"In history when you've had a disaster," Lodge told newsmen, "then that becomes a political issue, even if the politicians do not do anything about it." But of course there's no outlook of that kind for the time."

Lodge announced his resignation as U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam Tuesday and said he was returning to the United States to help Gov. William W. Scranton's campaign for the Republican presidential nomination.

Goldwater Speaks
The front-runner for the nomination, Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, said in Washington that "the Johnson - McNamara program of indecision and vacillation has made it impossible for (Lodge) to carry out his ambassadorial functions properly and undoubtedly motivated his resignation."

But Lodge said he had been an excellent terms with President Johnson's administration. In an earlier statement Tuesday night, he said: "Viet Nam is on the right track and, with persistence, its freedom and independence will surely be achieved."

To Help Scranton
Lodge, Republican vice-presidential candidate four years ago said he is returning only to help Scranton, governor of Pennsylvania, and is "not a candidate at all."

"I am not going back at all in order to connive at anything for myself," he said. "I cannot be drafted and there are no hidden meanings."

The ambassador plans to leave Saigon Sunday, a year and a day after he was appointed by the late President John F. Kennedy.

A U.S. military source said the military command in Saigon expects intensification of the war against the Communist Viet Cong to result from the appointment of Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, to succeed Lodge.

By Junius Trade Mark Reg.

With an air of great importance, the small boy of a Sunday school in Belfast imparted this happy fact to his teacher: Small Boy--The devil is dead. Teacher--What makes you think that? Small Boy--Dad said so. I was standing in the street with him yesterday when a funeral passed and when dad saw it he said, 'Poor devil! He's dead.'

A beautiful woman's one you notice; a charming woman is one who notices you.

DRIFTS IN THE DRIVEWAY

Pretty little flakes of snow Blowing in the air, free; Never were there two alike, But they might as well be! -- Fred W. Norman

There is an elderly physician in a Long Island town who is an enthusiastic angler in every sense of the word. While on his way home from a fishing trip he received an emergency call. The proud, newly-made father was impatient to have the child weighed, but couldn't find the steelyards, so the physician had to use the pocket scales with which he weighed his fish. New Father (as he saw the pointer go up) -- Good heavens! Thirty-seven and a half pounds!

Father--Swearing! I'll teach him to swear!

And with that the angry parent started upstairs in the dark. Halfway up he stumbled and came down on his chin. When the confusion had subsided Harold's mother was heard saying, sweetly, from the hallway: Mother -- That will do, Richard dear. You have given him enough for one lesson.

Most women have a good deal of pity for some other woman's husband.

RFK Closes One Door to Senate, Other Left Ajar

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy begins a sentimental mission to Germany tonight on the heels of his announcement that he will not seek the Democratic senatorial nomination in New York.

Kennedy's brief statement Tuesday on the Senate race shed no further light on his future.

But it left open the door to any invitation from President Johnson to join him as vice-presidential nominee on the Democratic ticket.

Much Speculation

Thus ended long weeks of speculation whether Kennedy would accede to the urgings of New York friends and Democratic leaders, move to the Empire State and seek the nomination to run against Republican Sen. Kenneth B. Keating.

"I deeply appreciate the loyalty and friendship of those who have urged me to run and who believe I could perform a service for the people of New York," Kennedy said in a statement handed out at the Justice Department.

"However, in fairness to them and to end speculation, I wish to state that I will not be a candidate for United States senator from New York," he said.

There was little elaboration on Kennedy's statement from the Justice Department. But two key factors emerged as most influential.

One is the civil rights picture. Final passage of the rights bill, with all of its enforcement problems, is imminent. The beginnings of the "long, hot summer" in race relations already are evident. The attorney general is the nation's top civil rights strategist. He has committed himself to staying on the job through Johnson's present term. And his hands will be full of civil rights chores.

The second factor is his brother, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., whose back was broken in a plane crash last week.

Tuesday's decision threw into sharper focus Robert Kennedy's role as head of the Kennedy family since the assassination last November of his brother, President John F. Kennedy. His injured younger brother — up for re-election this fall — will add to the demands on Robert Kennedy's time. And to run in New York, he feels, would require an immediate campaign.

The attorney general will speak this Friday on the first anniversary of John F. Kennedy's stirring speech to Berliners, when he proclaimed himself one of them in spirit. Robert Kennedy will speak from the identical spot in the John F. Kennedy Square in West Berlin.

From Germany he will travel to Poland, next to London, before returning during the first week in July.

Miss. Holds Two Rights Workers

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — A spokesman for a civil rights organization said early today two civil rights volunteer workers had been arrested at Moss Point in southern Mississippi.

The spokesman, Bob Byers of the Council of Federated Organizations, said sheriff's deputies at Moss Point refused to give the charges over the telephone.

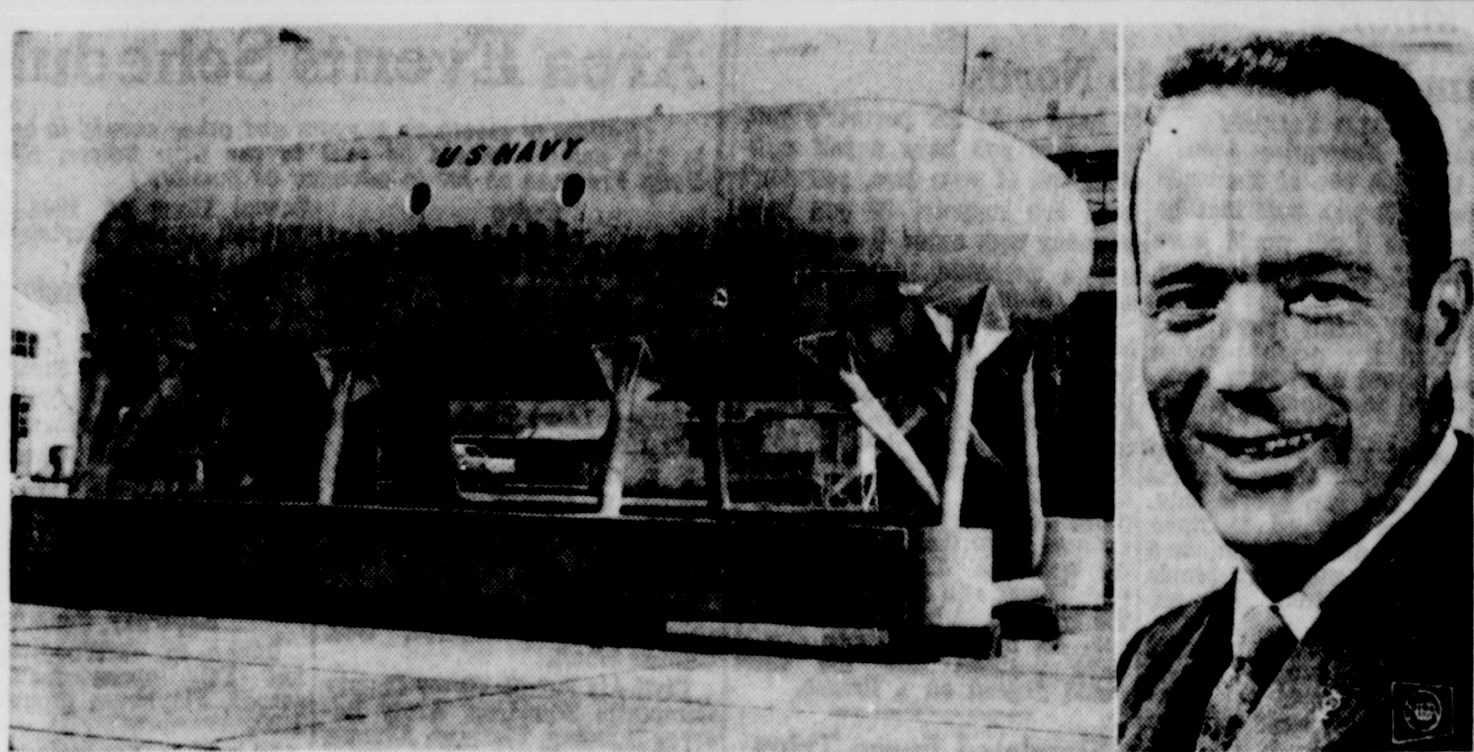

The Jackson County sheriff's office and city police at Moss Point and nearby Pascagoula said they had no knowledge of any arrests.

Byers said the pair, identified as Ronald Ridenour, 24, of Venice, Calif., and Howard Kirchenbaum, of Long Beach, L.I., N.Y., had been arrested by sheriff's deputies.

Byers, whose organization coordinates activities of all major civil rights groups in the state, said three attorneys were en route to Moss Point to represent the pair.

Ridenour and Kirchenbaum were among some 175 summer volunteers, mostly college students, who arrived in the state over the weekend to work in civil rights projects.

Byers also said that a meeting hall for civil rights groups had been burned Tuesday night at Moss Point. A fire department dispatcher said the only reported blaze in that general vicinity was a small brush fire.

LABORATORY UNDER THE SEA—Scott Carpenter, right, who was one of the U.S. astronauts who spent time in space, has gone to the other extreme. He has now spent time under the sea. Carpenter was included in the five men who made up the crew of Sealab I, the Navy's underwater research laboratory, left. The men lived and did research in the 40-foot to 192 feet under the sea southwest of Bermuda.

Sullivan Man Is Killed in Mishap

A Sullivan County co-owner of a garage, who observed his 28th birthday on Tuesday, was killed early today in a highway accident on Route 52 about two miles east of Route 17, Town of Liberty.

Ferndale state police reported Walter Cook Jr., of Kiamasha Park, Monticello, died of multiple fractures at the scene of the mishap.

According to a report of Troopers Carl Van Wagenen, Larry Reer and Stanley Kowalik, Cook was westbound on Route 52 about 1:45 a. m. when his car failed to negotiate a right curve. The vehicle careened onto the south shoulder, traveled 269 feet, continued on in a drainage ditch a distance of 194 feet, glanced off a tree, veered across the highway and went 126 feet before it hit an embankment and came to a stop.

Troopers said Cook rode with the car until it stopped, and at that point he was ejected from the vehicle and was pinned by the wheels. Cook had no seat belts, troopers said. They identified the victim as co-owner of a garage near Monticello.

Deaths Mar Macy's Show

Cheers Silenced By News of Blast

NEW YORK (AP) — A fireworks-laden barge exploded in a fury of rockets, flares and bombs on the Hudson River Tuesday night, killing two men. Thousands of spectators cheered. They thought it was part of the show.

Half a million persons lined the riverbanks in Manhattan and New Jersey for the fireworks spectacle, produced since 1957 by Macy's department store.

Two other barges, whose crews apparently were unaware of the fatal accident, continued firing rockets into the sky.

At the finale, 20 minutes later, spectators some distance from the blast, off 96th Street, still were cheering. A hush fell on thousands of others as news of the blast spread.

John Serpico, president of International Fireworks Co. of North Bergen, N.J., said "a low burst that apparently ignited shells on the deck of the barge" caused the explosion.

Killed were Anthony Amato, 60, of Secaucus, N.J., and Anthony De Francisco, 40, of Spar-kill, N.Y.

Four other men on the barge were rescued by the tug which was towing it. One was treated at a hospital for burns and released.

Ammo Room Destroyed

Less than an hour earlier, an explosion destroyed an ammunition room in the sub-basement of a Manhattan armory where about 385 National Guard reservists were attending a weekly drill.

Nineteen were injured. All but four were released after hospital treatment. Two of the four were in serious condition.

Cause of the blast, which knocked out heavy concrete walls and blew off the steel doors to the room, has not been determined.

Boyhood Burro Replaced

PATCHOGUE, N. Y. (AP)—A 73-year-old man, James Nelson, whose father refused to let him keep a pet burro he bought for a shilling in Ireland more than 60 years ago, recently got a present from his daughter, Mrs. Charles Kemp: a burro purchased for $51 at a livestock auction conducted by the New York City Department of Purchases.

Mrs. Kemp said she had heard her father lament his lost burro for years and thought that if she got him one he might give up his job as a ship caulker and stay home to take care of the burro.

Nelson was delighted with his new pet, but refused to consider retiring since he insists he is "as strong as an ox, or, at least, as a burro!"

Slam Bid Was Up to North

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
East took his ace of diamonds right away. It was well that he did, otherwise South would have made all 13 tricks instead of only 12.
North and South were not happy about the result because they had missed a laydown slam. I was asked to comment on the bidding.
I will start with South's jump to three hearts. Many experts would have bid two hearts only. I would have jumped to three just as South did and continued to sign off with minimum rebids of my own suit from then on, just as South did.
North did not like South's three-heart bid, because North felt that South should not make that bid without some sort of support for spades.
This idea is bunk. It is nice to have a fit for partner's suit, but when you have a self-sufficient suit of your own, you don't need this support; or you have so many high cards that you can see a probable slam in high cards alone.

In any event, North should have gone on to slam after South bid his hearts for the third time. North was probably afraid of a diamond lead through his king, but if South didn't have anything in spades and couldn't have anything more than the jack in clubs, the chances were that he would hold the queen of diamonds. Failing that, it was still even money that the king would be in back of the ace. So, at worst, North should have realized that the slam would depend on a finesse.

Simulated Space Trips

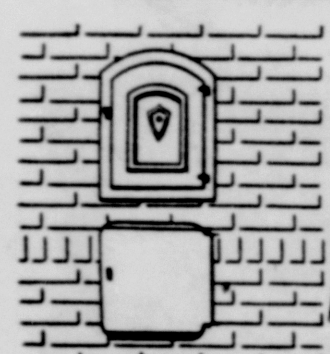

DOWNEY, Calif. (AP)—Scientists here are building what they call the world's largest centrifuge—a machine so big it can take four men on 30-day simulated space flights.
Two capsules mounted at any point on the 150-foot rotating arm each will carry two men, equipment and provisions sufficient for a month's spin, scientists say.
Researchers hope that studying human reactions to the prolonged rotation will give them clues on how man can live and work in space.

Everybody Missed

SALEM, Kan. (AP)—Attendance was the lowest in the months when the Salem 4-H Club celebrated "Health Month" at its May meeting.
The reason: Mostly mumps and measles among members.

For Man's Race in Outer Space

By RALPH DIGHTON

LOS ANGELES (AP) — You have probably never met one. They're nocturnal, mostly, and dwell on mountain tops in silvery domes that open only at night.

But they do come down into the cities occasionally, to greet their wives, kiss their kids and pick up fresh supplies.

You could, conceivably, bump into one.

If you do and his clothes look a little rumpled, it's probably because they've been on him all night, neglected while he gazed at sights in time and space that only his kind can see.

Deals With Other Worlds

If you talk to him and his words have little meaning to you

it's because he thinks in a polyglot jargon of technical terms invented to convey ideas beyond the ken of ordinary mortals.

If he seems like he's from another world — it's because that is what he deals with most of the time: Other worlds.

But treasure the meeting — you've just met a new kind of national hero.

He's an astronomer.

The blazing dawn of the space age has thrown a sudden light of public recognition on this savant of the night.

Once he wore black robes and peaked cap, and ordinary folk thought he could tell the future from the stars.

When it became a national goal to rocket humans into the hostile environment of the moon and planets, only the astronomer could plot the trajectories and guess what the explorers would encounter on their arrival.

Before the space age opened with the launching of man-made satellites in 1957, the biggest single sum of money astronomers had ever been given to spend was $6 million in private funds — the cost of the 200-inch telescope on Palomar Mountain in Southern California.

After heated debate, the Senate approved the resolution by a 33-13 vote Monday.

The House had approved the resolution shortly after the recent Supreme Court decision on reapportionment of both legislative bodies by population. The Senate tabled it the first time around.

Greater Spending to Come

Since 1957, some $50 million in government money has been granted by the National Science Foundation to Kitt Peak National Observatory at Tucson, Ariz., and the National Radio Astronomy Observatory at Green Bank, W. Va.

Even greater expenditures are planned for a new astronomical center being developed by five European nations and this country on the peaks of northern Chile.

A few years ago discovery that the atmosphere of Mars was even thinner than supposed would have rated attention only in scientific journals. Today it wins headlines in newspapers all over the world — because it means more millions than planned must be spent learning how to soft-land instruments and men safely on that most earth-like of planets.

More Visitors Come

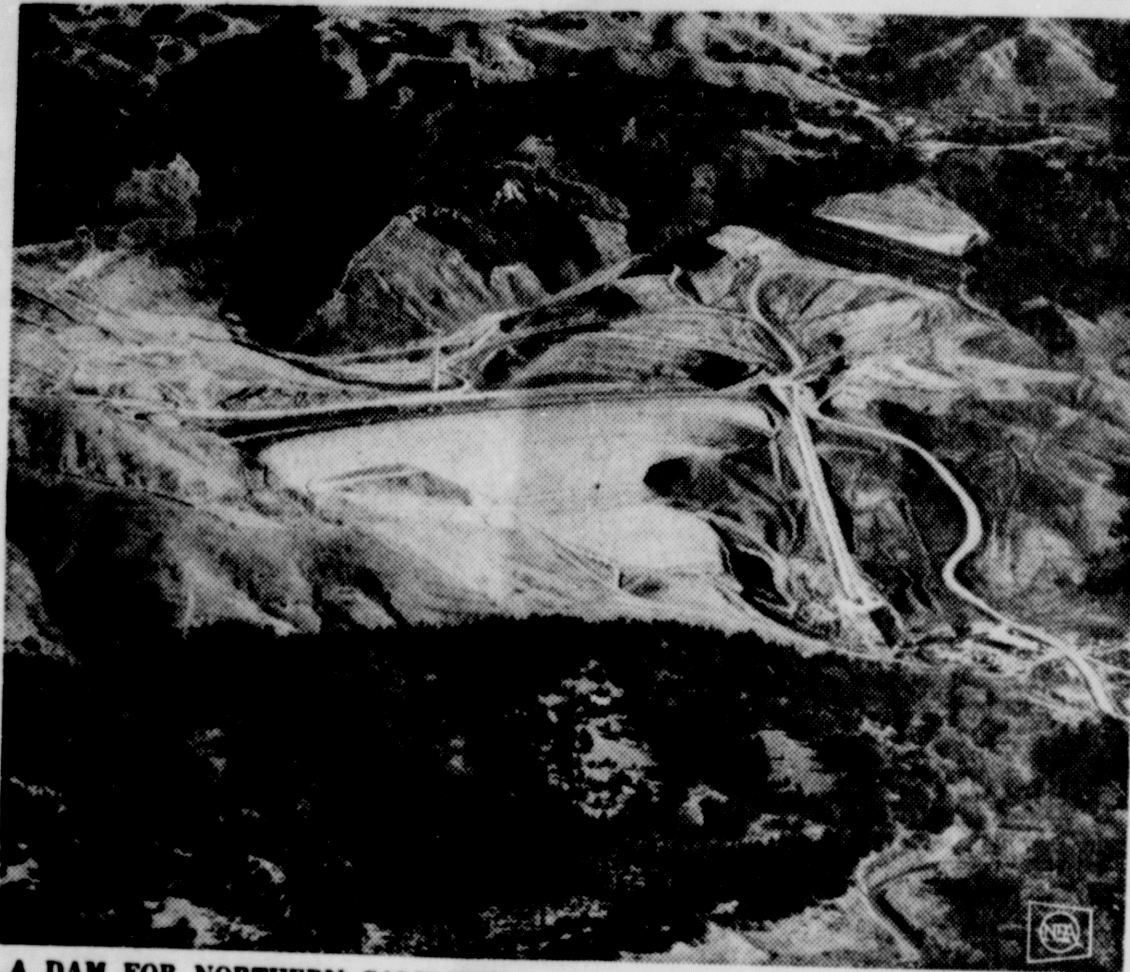

When the huge telescope on Palomar Mountain 100 miles south of Los Angeles was opened to public view in 1948, nonprofessional visitors were rare. Last year more than 15,000 had a glimpse through the giant glass eye of light from objects trillions of miles away.

In 1957, the nation's universities counted 168 graduates in astronomy. But last year the number had risen to 524 and hundreds more were rejected for lack of facilities.

The star-gazer's formal training lasts as long as a physician's. Twenty years or more of study pass before he wins his doctorate.

The astronomer today must be a master of mathematics and physics.

He must also know geology and chemistry, so he can understand the make-up of other planets; biology and botany; electronics and engineering; the new science of nuclear energy, because the sun and other stars are hydrogen bombs in endless explosion; four to six foreign languages; and public affairs, because today he spends a great deal of public money and consequently is involved in politics.

A DAM FOR NORTHERN CALIFORNIA—Briones Dam, largest in the San Francisco Bay area, is nearing completion. Designed by Kaiser Engineers for East Bay Municipal Utility District in Oakland, the dam is 2,100 feet long and 330 feet high. The reservoir, which will impound 22 billion gallons of water, will start filling in the fall. The dam is located on Bear Creek.

Central Park Is Scene of Third Slaying in Months

NEW YORK (AP) — An unemployed cook was held today on a homicide charge in the stabbing of an unidentified man — the third slaying in Central Park in 10 weeks.

The prisoner was identified by police as Joseph Grondin, 27, of Concord, N.H.

Police said Grondin gave this account: While he was in the park, he was accosted by the unidentified man who made an indecent proposal. The two argued, the unidentified man pulled out a carving knife, Grondin wrestled it away and stabbed him repeatedly. The previous most recent slaying in the park was that of Lawrence Krebs, 27, a bartender, who was found shot to death in a passenger seat of an auto on the night of April 24.

The body of Dr. Charles J. Gallagher Jr., 31-year-old assistant physics professor at Columbia University, was found by a stroller in the park at daybreak on April 15. Gallagher was shot once in the chest. He was not robbed, the murder gun has not been found and his slaying remains a mystery.

Teener Loses Limbs Under Moving Train

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Two women watched Tuesday as a teen-age boy leaped from car to car on a slow-moving train — then slipped and plunged to the tracks.

"I shouted to him, real loud, to lie still and not move," said Mrs. Lois Walsh.

The boy apparently heard. He ducked his head.

Then, said Mrs. Walsh "something beneath one of the cars caught him and turned him over and over beneath the wheels." When ambulance attendants reached the scene, they called for the coroner. The apparently lifeless body of Walter Felder lay between the tracks. The train's wheels had amputated his arms and legs.

Then attendants detected a spark of life. Walter, 13, was hospitalized. Five surgeons battled to keep him alive. In a corridor outside, his mother, Ann McGruder, 42, waited. "My boy is strong," she said. "He's very husky. I'm sure if anyone can pull through this, he can. He's a real boy."

Nova 6-Passenger Station Wagon

CHEVY II by Chevrolet

If you thought Chevy II was thrifty before, you should see your Chevrolet dealer now

You couldn't pick a better time to buy one! Stick with Chevy II and you'll go places this summer—economically. Spacious wagons. Sedans. Sporty Sport Coupes. Take your pick. They're all tightwads.

The Nova wagon for instance, like all Chevy II's, adjusts its own brakes. It's got a Delcotron generator to lengthen a battery's life. The engines are real gas scooters. And the rocker panels take in rain water to flush themselves free of rust-causing salt and dirt.

Inside the Nova wagon, where you can seat six anglers with tackle boxes, there's deep-twist carpeting surrounded by vinyl that's as washable as tile. Behind that, a storage area with as much room as the insides of seven good-sized refrigerators. And that kind of space is going to bring home a lot of sunfish.

FOR THE

As for rough terrain, Chevy II gobbles it up painlessly. And quietly. The unitized body is turtle-tight. The same unique single-leaf rear springs that contribute to Chevy II's smooth ride are also geared to take more of a beating than comparable multi-leaf springs. These springs can't squeak and never need lubricating.

This all naturally leads us to price. Your Chevrolet dealer has that pleasant story. Why don't you two get together and make some vacation plans.

Starting June 29 and continuing through August 14, the Town of Hurley Youth Recreation Committee will conduct its annual summer recreation program.

Morning playground activities will be carried on at the West Hurley Elementary School athletic field from 9 a. m. to 12 noon, Monday through Friday. A similar program will take place for the Old Hurley youths, from 9 a. m. to 12 noon at the athletic field at the rear of the Reformed Church in Hurley.

Both areas will have two adult playground counselors. To be eligible for the playground activities, children must have completed grade one.

At 12:30 p. m. a bus will leave from each playground area and transport the children to DeWitt Lake for supervised and instructional swimming. A small fee per child is charged for swimming. The same buses will pick up the children at DeWitt Lake at 4 p. m. and return them to their respective playground areas.

To be eligible for the afternoon swimming program, each child must have completed second grade.

DEAR ABBY: We live on a farm and my sister, who is in her 40's, does the farm work. She wears jeans and a blouse and goes out in the field with the tractor to work. When it gets hot, she sheds her blouse and works in her bra. She is of a slight build, and has little for anyone to see, but all the same, when my parents, and brothers and sisters-in-law meet her outdoors dressed like that they blow their stacks. She says it's no different than being on the beach in a swim suit. Lots of strangers come by our place, but she says it's our property and if they don't like what they see they don't have to look. Who is right? And how do you handle a situation like this?

SLIPPERY ROCK

DEAR SLIPPERY: A "bra" is an undergarment and should not be worn as an outer garment. There are halter for that purpose. In my opinion, your sister should wear halter. However, a 30-year-old woman who drives a tractor is not interested in a lecture from me (or from you) on propriety and fashion. Be realistic and give up.

DEAR ABBY: I just read the letter from the 12-year-old girl who resented being an UNPAID BABY-SITTER for her parents. I am 16 and have two younger sisters and a baby brother. My father works from seven A. M. until six P. M., six days a week, and my mother is tied down to her housework and the children all day. I've been baby-sitting for four years. I like to earn money, too, but I would give up a date or a baby-sitting job at the slightest hint that my parents wanted to go out for an evening. They deserve it! Who needs to be paid?

furnishings show got off to a slow start this week, apparently because of the World's Fair. Although officials remained optimistic that the total attendance will match last year's, there was little doubt that the first of the five-day showing was slower than usual.

Their love and appreciation are all the pay I want. "Unpaid" is only 12. She had better overcome her selfishness and be grateful that she can do something for her parents.

RUTH B. IN ERIE, PA.

DEAR RUTH: It's a joy to print your letter. I wish my readers knew how many WHOLE-SOME, GENEROUS, and CONSIDERATE teenagers there are. Unfortunately, the only ones they read about are those who get into trouble.

DEAR ABBY: Please don't think I am stupid, but I don't know where else to get this information. When living in a rented house, who is supposed to take down the storm windows and put up the screens? The tenant or the owner?

INTERESTED PARTY

DEAR INTERESTED: Unless it is specifically stated in the contract, the owner assumes that responsibility. (Are you trying to pass the buck or save one?)

CONFIDENTIAL TO MADAME L'O.: Do not assume that, because a man boasts that in all his life he has never smoked a cigarette or tasted whisky, he has not done worse.

Channel Master Lists Awards for Pageant Entrants

The Miss New York State Pageant program has been given another big boost by the Channel Master Corporation of Elmhurst, N. Y. Pageant officials today announced some substantial awards made available to all of the 21 contestants through the generosity of Joseph J. Resnick, chairman of the board of directors of the Channel Master Corp.

The girl selected as the new Miss New York State here July 9, 10 and 11, to succeed Barbara Ann Gloede, will be given a Channel Master portable television set. The first runner-up will receive a Channel Master tape recorder and the second runner-up an AM-FM radio. In addition, each of the other 18 contestants will receive a Channel Master transistor radio as a reward for reaching the state finals and token of appreciation for their participation in the Miss America program.

The above awards are in addition to the $2500 in cash scholarships given by the Pepsi-Cola Bottlers of the state, divided into 10 different awards, with $1000 going to the new Miss New York State. She will also receive a $500 cash award given by the Toni and Bancroft Companies toward her Atlantic City wardrobe. In addition the Emmens Jewelry Co. of Newark, will provide a complete jewelry ensemble and the Millinery Institute of America will give her a $50 gift certificate with which to purchase a hat or hats for the Miss America Pageant.

Pageant officials also announced that the purchase of tickets for the three-day spectacular is very brisk. All seats are reserved and tickets may be purchased and selected at the office of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce in the Governor Clinton Hotel, headquarters for the Miss New York State Pageant. Herman G. Rafalowsky, chairman of the Pageant ticket committee suggested today that all calls for tickets be made directly to the Chamber of Commerce office, the only location at which the reserved seat tickets are available.

Lake Is Searched, Boy Found in Yard

While a rescue squad grappled in municipally-operated Oakdale Lake in Columbia County Tuesday night, after a boy had reportedly disappeared in the water, the child was found by police playing in his back yard.

Greenport Rescue Squad went to the lake after receiving a report that a 5-year-old boy was seen going beneath the surface of the lake. Hudson police also went to the scene and on their arrival found grappling efforts in progress.

Another boy told police he had spoken to the reportedly missing boy a block away from the beach only moments before and police found the boy playing in his yard.

GOOD, OLD PIGGY BANK—You say the piggy bank is a relatively modern invention? Well, this little piggy, shown with a vase and a hoard of coins, is more than 500 years old. It's on display at a Nuremberg, Germany, museum.

Capitol News In Brief

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

WASHINGTON (AP)—It has been Rep. Otto E. Passman's boast that his appropriations subcommittee has slashed more than $8 billion from foreign aid in the nine years he has been chairman.

Tuesday, the Louisiana Democrat was beaten in his own subcommittee. It refused to go along with Passman's demand for a $514 million cut in the $3.5-billion foreign aid bill.

Passman stalked out of the closed meeting, telling reporters he would temporarily step down as chairman so he could oppose the bill on the floor.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House climaxed a long fight with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara Tuesday. It passed a bill to expand the Reserve officer training program in high schools and colleges.

It was a personal victory for Rep. F. Edward Hebert, D-La., who introduced the measure after becoming irked by McNamara's proposal last year to eliminate high school ROTC and curtail the college program. The bill now goes to the Senate.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department has turned aside a Soviet protest against Pan American Airways' flights from New York to West Berlin.

A State Department spokesman, press officer Richard I. Phillips said Tuesday, "These flights are continuing on a normal basis. The U.S. government will hold the Soviet government responsible for the safety of all American aircraft in the Berlin air corridors."

Airport Hearing Tonight

A public hearing is scheduled for tonight in the New Paltz Town Hall on an application for a permit to continue operations at the airport on Libertyville Road. The hearing was called by the Town Zoning Board of Appeals. The applicant is Carl E. Confer, who has operated the airport since 1958. He seeks a commercial airport permit. The airport has a 2,300 foot runway and a flight school. Abram W. Paradies, chairman of the appeals board, made known earlier that a couple of complaints have been received.

Assessment Rolls Gain in Dutchess

Arthur H. Marx, clerk of the Dutchess County Board of Supervisors reports the county's 20 towns have a tentative roll total of $221,587,305, an increase of $21,722,522 over comparative figures in 1963.

Marx noted that the tentative 1964 totals do not include special franchise and public service figures in any of the towns.

The largest increases in assessments, pending Grievance Day adjustments, are in the Towns of Poughkeepsie and Wappinger. In the former township the gain, subject to possible adjustments for grievances, is $9,423,261, and in Wappinger the increase, also subject to adjustments, is $4,938,669.

An estimated five million Peruvian Indians speak only Quechua.

Drowned Oysters

DAUPHIN ISLAND, Ala. (AP) — Freshwater flooding is blamed for a tremendous kill-off of oysters in Mobile Bay and the eastern end of Mississippi Sound. Chief George Allen of the State Conservation Department's Seafood Division said that the spring floods killed up to 90 per cent of the oysters in some areas.

He said that flooding upset the critical balance of fresh and salt water in which oysters thrive.

Working Sculpture

NEW YORK (AP) — Sculpture doesn't always just sit quietly in museums and get looked at, any more. Some sculpture moves and makes sounds as visitors nudge the works or press buttons or throw switches.

Steelways, a publication of the American Iron and Steel Institute, calls the phenomenon "synaesthesia," meaning hearing stimulated and accompanied by illusions of color and seeing stimulated by sound.

AUDITED PAID CIRCULATION

ABC

One in a series of messages to advertisers

300 homes are one inch thick

In addition to length and width, a newspaper advertisement has a third dimension—thickness.

Thickness is circulation, the number of advertisements printed and actually delivered.

You pay for an advertisement on the basis of length and width, but what you really buy is the opportunity to talk about your merchandise and service to a specified number of readers. Laid one upon another, a one inch stack of your advertisements in this newspaper equals 300 homes reached.

Thickness...or circulation...is the dimension that gives promise to your sales message, that it will reach potential customers. It is important for you to know whether this thickness is a promise or a fact.

The ABC insigne assures you that our circulation is measured by the highest standards in the advertising and publishing industry. It is the symbol of our membership in the Audit Bureau of Circulations.

ABC is an independent auditing association whose sole purpose is to give accurate and factual circulation reports. ABC audits are trusted by national advertisers and advertising agencies. ABC can be trusted by you.

Our tell-all ABC report shows how much circulation we actually deliver, where these copies are distributed, how much readers pay, and other information you should know about the thickness of your advertising here — facts, without opinion, compiled from a physical audit of circulation records by trained ABC auditors.

When buying advertising, be sure to measure all three dimensions — length, width, and thickness.

ABC FACTS — THE BASIC MEASURES OF CIRCULATION VALUES

Naming Taylor Good Talking Point

Getting Into Direct Fight Might Hurt LBJ Re-election

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's tough talk about stiff-arming the Communists in Viet Nam and his appointment of Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor as ambassador there is doubly useful to him.

But what the rest of the country doesn't know—and perhaps the Johnson administration cannot tell, either—is what the United States is heading into in Southeast Asia.

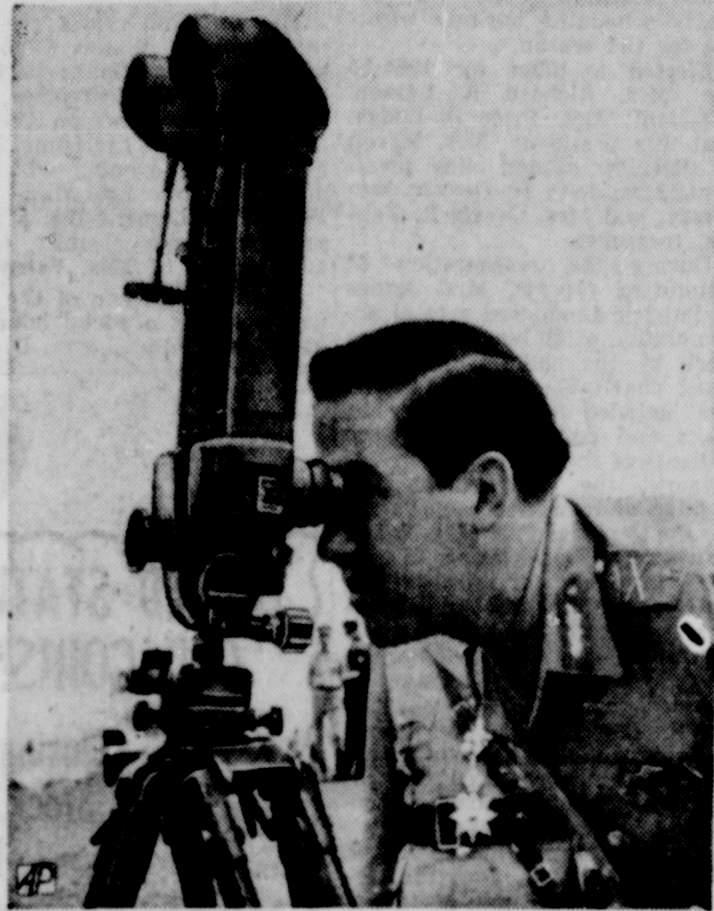

If this country gets directly into the fighting there—with a presidential campaign coming up—there's no way to predict what this will mean to Johnson's chances for re-election.

But the tough talk and the Taylor appointment will keep the Communists guessing, if it doesn't discourage them, and both will be talking points for Johnson if the Republicans complain he isn't showing enough muscle.

Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and this country's top-ranking military officer, is credited with being a tough and brilliant officer.

He succeeds Henry Cabot Lodge who resigned to come home and help Pennsylvania's Gov. William W. Scranton try to win the Republican presidential nomination against Sen. Barry Goldwater.

Goldwater has been acutely critical of the way the administrations of both President John F. Kennedy and Johnson have handled Viet Nam. He has suggested pretty drastic action, more than Kennedy or Johnson were willing to take yet.

REGAL CHECK—King Constantine, the new young Greek monarch, uses a periscope to watch artillery bursts during a visit to the military bases of northern Greece.

If Goldwater wins the nomination over the efforts of Lodge and Scranton, he won't have to soft-pedal his criticism. But if Scranton gets the nomination, the Republican party in general will be in poor position to make Viet Nam an issue, and for this reason: Lodge in his letter of resignation to Johnson highly praised his Vietnamese policy.

Thoughts in Lodge Letter
In that letter Lodge said among other things:

"My thanks to you for your unflinching devotion to problems connected with American policy in Viet Nam, for your guidance, courtesy . . . although in a dangerous position, the republic of Viet Nam is on the right track . . .

"Persistent and patient execution of existing civil and military plans will bring victory."

American talk about stopping the Reds from taking over Southeast Asia has become increasingly tough although how far the administration is actually willing to go has never been clear.

Nothing Rash: Johnson

Johnson told a news conference Tuesday: "The United States intends no rashness and seeks no wider war. But the United States is determined to use its strength to help those who are defending themselves against terror and aggression."

The Reds could read what they wanted to in that statement but Johnson seemed to assume they understood he meant business for he told newsmen: "I think they are aware of our attitude and that they have no doubt about our policy or our position."

Circle K Picks Delegates for 9th Annual Meeting

Joseph Bouchard and William Yates were recently elected delegates to the ninth annual convention of Circle K International. Duane Baxter and David Houck were named alternates to the convention. These students, all representing the Circle K Club of Ulster County Community College, will be among the 800 members of Circle K International from U.S. and Canadian colleges attending the ninth annual convention of the college service organization in Chicago, Ill., Aug. 31-Sept. 3.

Election Set Sept. 3

High point of the three-day meeting will be the election of 1964-65 International officers and trustees—a president, two vice-presidents, a secretary, and 12 trustees—on Thursday, Sept. 3. The presidential incumbent is John H. de Boisblanc, a student at Louisiana State University, Baton Rouge. De Boisblanc was elected to the post in Norfolk, Va., in 1963. He will preside at the Chicago convention.

Hosts for the ninth annual Circle K convention will be the Circle K Clubs in the Illinois-Eastern Iowa District. Assisting will be the Kiwanis Clubs in the Chicago area. Headquarters for the convention will be the Edgewater Beach Hotel in Chicago.

Principal speakers, in addition to de Boisblanc, will be Edward B. Moyland Jr., who is currently serving as president-elect of Kiwanis International, O. E. Peterson, International Secretary and Donald F. Blanchard, radio and TV comedian. Other leaders in Circle K and Kiwanis International and at least one other principal speaker will contribute to the program.

Other highlights of the convention will be the annual Circle K International Achievement Award Contest, Single Service Award, and the Annual Oratorical Contest.

Activities judged will include service to campus, a service to community, and cooperative projects with Kiwanis clubs or other organizations. Winners will be announced at Chicago.

The subject of the oratorical contest will be Promote Individual Dignity—the Circle K theme for 1963-64. Elimination trials will be held in closed sessions, and the three top orators will compete publicly for the grand prize.

Other convention activities will include the adoption of convention resolutions and a theme and programs of service for 1964-65, a social program highlighted by special entertainment and the installation of newly-elected officers and trustees.

Mrs. Richard Larson Elected President; Local Organization

Kingston Welcome Wagon Club combined election of officers to serve for the forthcoming year with a silent auction as a means of raising money for their charitable programs at their last regularly scheduled business meeting for the season.

Elected to office for 1964-65 are: Mrs. Richard R. Larson, president; Mrs. Price B. Lodge, first vice president; Mrs. Myron K. Bernitz, second vice president; Mrs. John H. Decker, secretary; and Mrs. Gerald R. Yandell, treasurer.

During the presentation of committee reports, Mrs. James E. Patrick announced a total accumulation of 69 hours volunteer work by the club members toward charitable service. Activities included in this figure are visits and parties held for the patients of the Ulster County Infirmary; the development and making of speech-therapy games for the Cerebral Palsy Clinic, and providing transportation to and from the clinic for those requiring treatment who would otherwise be unable to secure treatment and/or therapy. The proceeds of an earlier silent auction enabled the club to purchase a pair of canes, and a pair of adjustable aluminum crutches, which were presented to the Cerebral Palsy Clinic in February.

Retiring program chairman, Mrs. James E. Powers, announced that a family-style picnic to be held in June at Forsyth Park, would officially close the club's activities for the year. Further, it was announced that the first meeting of the fall and winter session would be a dinner and installation of officers to be held on September 15 in Britton Community Room. Installations will be conducted by Mrs. Charles A. Selzo, Kingston Area Welcome Wagon Hostess.

The outgoing Board of Directors met with the newly-elected and/or appointed committee chairmen at a luncheon in the Alpine Restaurant, at which time Mrs. Larson introduced the following members: Mrs. William C. Schaal, publicity; Mrs. William J. Rotunda, ways and means; Mrs. Homer L. Fitch, interest groups; and Mrs. Charles D. Slate, membership. Mrs. Edward J. Praul, retiring president, announced that the charter board of directors will present a suitably engraved gavel to the club; the gavel will be formally presented at the installation dinner in September.

The arts and crafts group of the Welcome Wagon Club will be feted at a dinner party at the home of the instructor, Mrs. John M. Valentine, on Wednesday, June 24 at her home. Highlight of the evening will be a demonstration by Miss Alice Dunbar of Loxontville, a noted sculptress and ceramist, and a close friend of Mrs. Valentine.

At the conclusion of the business meeting a social hour was held, with Mrs. Larry D. Lar-

WHITE TIE IN DAYTIME

Q: In the newspaper account of the recent marriage of Princess Irene of the Netherlands and Spanish Prince Don Carlos, it stated that the bridegroom wore white tie and tails. I was very surprised when I read this as the marriage took place in the morning at a nuptial mass. I always thought white tie and tails were strictly formal evening dress and not correct in the daytime. In fact, I'm sure I read this in your column. Will you please enlighten me on this?

A: In this country, white tie and tails are not correct in the daytime, but they are correct in Europe at a Royal wedding. Particularly so at this one because the bride and groom went directly from the carriage ceremony to a private audience with the Pope, at which white tie and tails are proper dress.

No Ticket Sold in Advance

Q: A club to which I belong is having a dance and I would like to invite a boy to go with me. There will be no tickets sold in advance; admission is to be paid at the door. Should I give the boy the money to pay for the tickets before leaving the house or should I pay for them myself at the door? I don't want to embarrass him.

A: It will be best to hand him the money before you leave the house and ask him to buy the tickets for you.

Addressing Clergyman and His Wife

Q: Will you please tell me the correct way to address an envelope to a clergyman who holds a doctor's degree, and his wife?

A: The envelope is addressed, The Rev. Dr. John Smith and Mrs. Smith.

The Emily Post Institute offers readers booklets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you would like the booklet entitled, "The Bride's Trouseau," send 10 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Emily Post Institute, in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman.

Home Extension Service News

Phyllis W. Barlow, county home demonstration agent, submits the following article on dishwashers:

Most dishwashers feature greater convenience in loading and better washing action than ever before. Some models offer an automatic dispenser for rinse agents, a rinse and hold cycle, and extra acoustical insulation. Washing action in many dishwashers has been improved throughout the load as the shift in construction has been toward a spray or wash arm instead of an impeller to move the water against the dishes. Part or all of the washing action in many dishwashers now comes from some place other than the bottom of the dishwasher. This means less chance that one dish will block another and prevent the second one from being washed clean.

Because standard tests are now available for measuring the capacity of dishwashers, it is easy to compare different models for the number and kind of dishes that can be washed clean at one time. Recently the unit of capacity was changed from place settings to table settings. Place settings include specified china, silver and glassware for each person. Table settings provide a more realistic measure because they include serving dishes, such as bowls, platters, and gravy boats, as well as the place settings.

In some dishwashers rinse agents are automatically injected. These agents help the water to spread and to drain completely from the dishes, thus preventing water spots even in hard water.

The rinse and hold cycle found in some dishwashers is liked by homemakers who do not wish to operate the dishwasher after each meal and yet do not want the food soils to dry and harden on the dishes. With a rinse and hold cycle, the dishes can be rinsed automatically and then held until the homemaker chooses to wash them.

On the higher priced dishwashers, acoustical insulation is installed to keep the noise of the splashing water from disturbing the family.

Portable dishwashers are popular because they require no installation. Many of the portable ones now can be installed permanently when the family desires to do so.

"Known for Quality Merchandise"

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: Our girl, 14, was named Laura after my husband's mother. About eight months ago she started asking us all to call her "Rosalie" and now won't answer to any other name. She is also after her father all the time to get him to change her name legally to "Rosalie" instead of Laura. Because he won't do it, she hurts him by talking about how she hates her family name, too . . .

ANSWER: Try telling her that if she still wants the legal change made in her given name when she is 18, you'll help her get it done. As to her family, comfort her by reminding her that some nice man is going to come along who will change it for her.

Don't be hurt by her dislike of the names with which you have endowed her. The adolescent is in such a state of turmoil and uncertainty about his own identity that he explodes it in unexpected ways. Doubtful as your youngster is of her power to disconnect herself from your supporting strength and depend upon her own, she has given herself a name that disconnects her from you.

She is saying to you, "Oh, how I want to get away from these people who are always telling me who I am so that I can be free to discover who I am."

Please don't see anything bad in this want. We are all restricted by our families' views of us. Sooner or later we have to realize that their closeness to us made it quite impossible to get any true perspective on us as people. Like the growing, expanding creature she is, your youngster senses this truth.

I don't know what the name "Rosalie" means to her except that it must be the name of the very attractive person she thinks she can become. Unless you want to restrict her to your views of what she can become, you will let her be "Rosalie" instead of Laura.

It is because the adolescent is trying too hard to find out who he is (apart from what we've told him he is) that he is so incensed by his childhood's nicknames—his dependent, restricted identity. Your child has just made her resistance to restricted identity a little stronger than the nickname-resisting youngster.

I wonder why she's had to make her resistance so strong. Don't you want her to start being what she wants to become? If you'll let her be happy with this notion of the "Rosalie" she hopes to become, she will return to being Laura.

Culp Pitches Way Back to Phillies Starter; Smith's Bat Again Figures for Angels

National Leaders Will Now Have Five Starters

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ray Culp has pitched his way back into the Philadelphia Phillies' starting rotation. All it took was a near replica of teammate Jim Bunning's perfect game.

A first-inning base on balls and Len Gabrielson's sixth-inning single came between Culp and perfection, attained two days earlier by Bunning, as the 22-year-old right-hander blanked Chicago 9-0 in the second game of a doubleheader Tuesday night.

No other Cub reached base against Culp, whose early season troubles cost him a front-line job on Gene Mauch's leaded pitching staff.

Mauch, thoroughly impressed after Culp's effort, announced that the National League-leading Phils will go with five starters henceforth.

"With Bunning, (Dennis) Bennett, (Art) Mahaffey and (Chris) Short working so well," the manager said, "we just haven't been able to give Ray enough work. The doubleheader enabled us to use him more. Now he's pitching like he did last year."

Culp, a $100,000 bonus baby five years ago, won 14 games in 1963, his rookie season, and led Philadelphia pitchers with 176 strikeouts. He reported with a sore arm this spring, dropped five of six decisions and found himself in the bullpen.

But three victories—including the one-hitter—and two complete games in his last three appearances have vaulted the young Texan back into the Phils' pennant plan.

Split Two-Nighter
The second-game victory gave the Phils a split of the two-nighter. Chicago took the opener 2-0 on Dick Ellsworth's five-hitter.

Second-place San Francisco divided with Cincinnati, winning 4-0 before bowing 5-4 in 11 innings. Pittsburgh defeated New York 5-1; Milwaukee beat Los Angeles 5-2 and St. Louis nipped Houston 5-4.

Culp said after the game he relied mainly on his fast ball against the Cub hitters.

"I had arm trouble late last year and early this season because I threw too much breaking stuff," he recalled.

He said Gabrielson's hit, a golfed shot off a low fast ball, surprised him. "I jammed him down and in, and he sliced it to right."

Culp wasn't ecstatic about his performance. "We're on top and I'm not a winning pitcher. If I was 10-5 with this club I'd have something to be happy about."

Phillie hitters were beaming after their 17-hit supporting role in the second-game victory. Wes Covington homered, Richie

Allen cracked three doubles and John Hermstein had four hits, including a pair of doubles. The opener was another story. Ellsworth breezed to his ninth victory in 15 decisions. Ernie Banks singled home one run and rookie Billy Ott doubled in the other.

Marty Keough's lead-off homer in the 11th inning earned Cincinnati a split with San Francisco and kept the Giants 1½ games behind Philadelphia. Jim Hart's eighth inning homer, his second of the game, had pulled the Giants even.

Juan Marichal scattered seven singles in the opener and ran his record to 9-3. The Giants scored all their runs in the third inning. Duke Snider and Jose Pagan singled home two each.

Dick Schofield drove in four runs, three on a homer, and Vern Law pitched his fourth straight victory as the Pirates handed the Mets their 11th loss in 12 games.

Milwaukee snapped a seven-game losing string, rallying for three runs in the seventh on doubles by Hank Aaron and Felipe Alou and singles by Lee Maye and Joe Torre to overtake the Dodgers. Frank Howard hit his 16th homer for Los Angeles and Ed Matthews his sixth for the Braves.

Rusty Staub's second error of the seventh inning allowed Tim McCarver to score St. Louis' winning run after John Batesman's homer had lifted the Colts into a 4-4 tie in the top of the inning.

New York Harness Racing Results

By The Associated Press

Cardigan Bay matched the season's fastest time for the mile on a half mile track at the Yonkers Raceway to high-light harness racing in New York Tuesday night.

The 8-year-old bay gelding posted a 1:59 1-5 mile in winning the $25,000 Tar Heel Pace by a half length over Country Don.

Returning $3.10, $2.80 and $2.30, Cardigan Bay tied the season record set by Henry T. Adios at Yonkers June 10th. Cold Front was third and Henry T. Adios fourth.

At Saratoga, Ambro Doc completed the first quarter of the $4,500 Pace in :27 3-5, the fastest quarter ever turned in at the Saratoga Raceway. The pace proved to be too fast, however. Ambro Doc finished sixth.

Gold Cloud ($39.30) won by two lengths in 2:05 2-5. True Adios was second and Gallant Knight third.

Other feature winners: Vernon Downs — Belle Court ($10.20) won the $1,300 Pace in 2:00 4-5.

Monticello — Devon Goose ($10) took the $1,200 Pace in 2:03 2-5.

Buffalo Raceway—Lofty Hanover ($7.40) won the $1,700 Trot in 2:09 2-5.

PITCHING—Ray Culp, Philadelphia, pitched a one-hitter and allowed only two base runners as the Phillies clobbered the Chicago Cubs 9-0 in the second game of a two-night doubleheader.

BATTING—Willie Smith, Los Angeles, a pitcher converted into an outfielder, hit a two-run homer and added two singles in the Angels' seventh straight victory 2-0 over Washington.

Orioles Score Seven Runs In Eighth to Beat Yanks

By MURRAY CHASS

Associated Press Sports Writer

When Hollywood made the movie, "Angels in the Outfield," they weren't talking about Willie Smith. All of the Angels, however, are talking about him now.

The movie was a story of the heavenly kind of angels in the outfield of the Pittsburgh Pirates. But Smith, a Los Angeles Angel, has been a devil at bat. The pitcher turned outfielder lashed two singles and a two-run homer Tuesday night, sparking Los Angeles to a 4-0 triumph over Washington. The victory was the seventh straight for the Angels, equaling the longest winning streak in the majors this season.

It also marked the second consecutive night Smith won games with his bat. His pinch-hit single the night before drove in the tie-breaking run in a 5-2 victory over the Senators.

The 25-year-old lefty was a pitcher until Manager Bill Rigney decided Smith deserved a trial as a hitter. Rigney now believes there's never been anyone more deserving.

Smith reached the majors last year with Detroit. He pitched in 11 games, gaining a 1-0 record and a 4.50 earned run average. The Angels acquired him April 29 in a trade for Julio Navarro.

As a southpaw hurler this season, Smith has a poor 1-4 record in 14 relief appearances and one trial as a starter with a respectable 2.81 ERA.

When Smith was inserted into the line-up for his hitting, Rigney didn't fool around. The manager placed him in right field and made him the No. 4 hitter. Smith's performance Tuesday night rocketed his average 40 points to .319. He has two home runs and 10 runs batted in for 47 times at bat.

His pinch-hitting record is even more amazing. He has seven hits in 14 chances, with five of the hits coming in his last seven tries.

That's pretty heavenly in Rigney's book.

Elsewhere in the AL Tuesday night, Baltimore nipped New York 9-8, Chicago blanked Boston 2-0, Minnesota whipped Cleveland 6-2 and Detroit trampled Kansas City 9-3 after losing 2-1.

Smith's homer in the eighth inning broke up a scoreless pitching duel between the Angels' Dean Chance and Bennie Daniels. Chance wound up tossing a four-hitter for his fifth victory against three defeats. The shutout reduced his ERA to 1.91.

Seven in Eighth

The Yankees appeared well on their way to an easy victory when the Orioles struck for seven runs after two were out in the eighth. Pinch hitter Charley Lau ignited the comeback with a single and climaxed it with a run-scoring double.

Brooks Robinson and Willie Kirkland each singled home two runs in the inning. When it was all over, Baltimore was in first place one-half game ahead of New York. Elston Howard, Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris homered for the losers.

Fred Talbot scattered eight hits for the White Sox. Pete Ward homered, and J. C. Martin knocked in Chicago's second run with a double in the sixth inning.

Harmon Killebrew smashed his 23rd homer in the Twins' triumph. Jim Kaat hurled a five-hitter, losing a shutout in the ninth on Bob Chance's two-run single. Kaat singled home one of Minnesota's three runs in the second.

The Tigers salvaged a split of their doubleheader with the Athletics behind the hitting of Dick McAuliffe and Al Kaline. McAuliffe connected for a grand-slam homer in the eighth while Kaline batted in three runs, two with a single in the second.

Rocky Colavito's two-run single in the fifth inning won the first game for Kansas City. His hit was only the second of Joe Spina, who was making his first major league appearance.

Nicklaus Eyes Cleveland Open

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer
CLEVELAND (AP)—The big-money golf tourists are beginning to bunch up, but youthful Jack Nicklaus is taking steps to stay on top.

The 24-year-old Columbus star who paces the pack with $51,426 despite picking up only $400 in last week's National Open, has an eye on the $20,000 top prize in the $110,000 Cleveland Open, which starts its four-day, 72-hole medal-play grind Thursday.

While runner-up Arnold Palmer ($49,651) and fourth-placed Tony Lema ($40,561) passed up practice rounds Tuesday over the 6,821-yard, par-71 municipal layout — Nicklaus measured every inch of it.

Instead of cooking up a skin game with some of the other competitors, Nicklaus went out alone with only his caddy tagging along. He kept no score, but he had a score card full of notes when he came in.

Also missing the practice jaunt were Ken Venturi, last week's surprise winner of the National Open, and classy Dow Finsterwald. The temperature was in the 90s, and tornado warnings were flying to discourage much of the talented field of 149 professionals and 10 amateurs.

Fifty of the pros had a picnic today as each teamed with three amateurs in a best-ball handicap round with $10,000 going to the play-for-pay group. The professionals paid no entry fee, but each of the 150 amateurs tossed $200 into the pot.

The professional shooting today's best round was due for a $1,000 prize and the pro in the leading foursome had an $800 payoff on tap. So one of them could possibly pick up $1,800.

BOWLING with the BEST

Sanford, Ferraro Are Two Winners In Royal Contests

A 648-pin tie in the first game and a slight 6-pin edge in the second looked as though Ben Sanford's team might have some trouble clipping past By Pass Pizzeria, but a 691-631 margin in the third clinched Sanford's win in the Mid-City Royal Four-some meet Tuesday.

Sanford scored a high third game of 215 which he contributed to his squad's 2016-1970 victory. Ernie Dousharm, 204 and Bruce Hinkley, 235 had high first and second games for By-Pass.

Jack Ferraro's team scored the highest game of the night, 736, as they squeezed out Lamoureux Atlantic 1962-1951. Lorraine Ferraro led the women with high total of an even 500. The winners took the first game with 629 and let their opponents with the last with 623. WGB Oil knocked out Marie Bechtold's team with a 2072-1979 margin, rolling high first and second games of 715 and 676. The losers came up in the third with 693 to WGB's 681. Frank Kopp of the winners had high score of 224 in the first.

Jewel Tea won their last two games but their total team scores weren't high enough to offset Kingston Ornamental Iron Co., who crossed a clean 1945 to their opponents' 1902.

The losers rolled a mere 533 to the winners' 621 in the first, and then made an effort to emerge as they won the last two with scores of 697 and 672.

But Ornamental was right behind them all the way with 660 and 664. George Glaser had high game for Jewel Tea with 222 in the second, and led with a triple of 579.

Sanford Rolls 790 In Invitational

Marion Sanford rolled a 172-167-225 and 226-pin handicap to a gross a 790 in the Ferraro Women's Summer Invitational at Ferraro's Bowlerama Sunday.

Other high scorers included Rose Schatzel, 735; Martha Petersen, 658 and Anne Sicker, 656.

Results: WGB, 1; Kingston Glass, 0; Petersen Construction, 4; Roland A. Augustine, 3; Drive-In Motors, 4; Lillian's Beauty Salon, 0.

White, Bahr High In Mid-City Meet

George White and Carol Bahr rolled high scores for men and women in the Monday Nite Mid-City Mixed League, with 529 and 493 triples.

Al Bagatta and John Hanamane came next with 526 and 525. Norma Polacco rolled the first 200 game of her career.

Results: C&R Grocery, 1; WGB Oil Clarifier, 1; EZ Do Tools, 2½; Lincoln Park Inn, 0; Home Street Launderette, ½; Lawrence Ricci Used Cars, 1; Allyn Construction, 3; Tropical Inn, 2; Alpine, 2; Tudoroff Bros., 2.

Lewis Converts 4-7-6-10 Split In Summerettes

Deanie's took the second and third games with scores of 653 and 644. Woodstock wiped out the winners in the first with a 617-581 margin.

One International Auto Racing Event

NEW YORK (AP)—The United States Auto Club, one of three national organizations forming the major part of the Auto Competition Committee for the U.S., has been allowed only one international event for 1965 as a penalty for violating "the principle of the international sporting code."

G. William Fleming, executive director of the Committee which is the American arm of organized world auto racing, said that the USAC event would be the Indianapolis 500-mile classic next Memorial Day.

That, assuming the participation of foreign drivers such as Scotland's Jimmy Clark, the world champion.

Panic Favorite In Oval Feature

MONTICELLO, N. Y.—Panic, a seven-year-old brown gelding which has been to the winner's circle four times this season, has been installed the 3-1 morning line favorite for tonight's feature dash at Monticello Raceway.

To be contested as the seventh race, the one-mile test will carry an $1,100 purse.

The favorite has drawn post two and will be reined by Frank Popfinger, the second high dash winner here this season. Panic cut out a near gate-to-wire winning effort in 2:07.2 at the Mighty M last week.

All told, the Canadian-owned sidewheeler has been in the money seven times in 15 starts.

Lotta Carlotta and Dundee, both winners here their last times out, head up the opposition. Chester Page will take Lotta Carlotta, a 4-1 shot, from post four, while Bobby Camper will be in the sulky behind Dundee, 5-1 from the seven hole.

Lotta Carlotta clicked off a 2:07.4 win time here last week from the outside eighth slot. Dundee's triumph was clocked in 2:06.4.

Funds Voted to Reopen Prince Edward Schools

FARMVILLE, Va. (AP)—One of the last barriers has been cleared away for reopening public schools in Prince Edward County, closed five years ago to avoid desegregation.

The County Board of Supervisors, acting under a federal court order voted 4-2 Tuesday to appropriate school operating funds for this fall.

Thursday Set Deadline
U.S. Dist. Judge Oren R. Lewis, carrying out a mandate from the U.S. Supreme Court, had given the Board of Supervisors until Thursday to act.

The $189,000 county appropriation, plus state funds, will provide classes for about 1,600 pupils — the number of Negro school-age children in Prince Edward.

Public schools will be operated "without racial discrimination," said the board, but most white children are expected to continue classes in the private, segregated schools they have attended since 1959.

An appropriation of $375,000 was approved for tuition grants, which will go to white children attending private schools, if approved by the board. Last summer a system of free schools supported by public contributions was organized. It is to end in August.

Army Offering Program to Grads Of High Schools

The Army has many enlistment programs available to the high school graduate under its "Graduate Specialist Program."

Sgt. Malinski of the Kingston Army Recruiting Station is presently talking to young men and women and stressing the opportunities offered them in the service of their country.

According to Sgt. Malinski, the Graduate Specialist Program is designed to allow a qualified high school graduate to pick a field of training or an actual school of his choice prior to enlistment. Following the selection of the job assignment, a verification call is made to Washington, D. C., and then the applicant receives a guarantee of his choice in writing.

"The Army," said Sgt. Malinski, "is the only service offering a program which guarantees prospective service men and women their choice of job or assignment prior to their enlistment." These men and women will get valuable training and experience in numerous jobs which are vital to the military and to civilian industry.

All high school graduates interested in more detailed information about the Graduate Specialist Program may obtain it by visiting Sgt. Malinski at the Army Recruiting Station, the Central Post Office.

Republicans Will Meet June 27th In Ulster Town

The Town of Ulster Republican Club will hold its monthly meeting on Saturday, June 27, instead of the usual fourth Thursday. The meeting will be held at the Belvedere Restaurant, Glenelg Lake Park, at 8 p. m. and will be in the form of a "reward" meeting for all those who assisted in making the third annual spring dance in May such a success.

President Anthony Cicoria has appointed Tim Troyan chairman of this open house meeting where all members of the Club will have an opportunity to meet for an evening of fun after a short business meeting has been held. Buffet refreshments will be served.

On the business agenda will be a discussion of plans for the annual picnic which will be held in August or September. The date for the picnic remains open.

CAR IN FATAL CRASH—Troopers and Town of Shandaken Constable Robert Grennie (right) inspect the twisted wreckage of a 1958 foreign sports car in which a passenger, Arthur Alsford, 18, of Allendale, N. J. lost his life during a one-car crash early Tuesday morning on Route 28. The youth was Ulster County's eighth highway fatality of the year. Kingston troopers are Charles Bundschuh (left) and John McMeikle. The driver of the car, the youth's uncle, Michael Alsford, 20, also of Allendale, was reported in serious condition today at Kingston Hospital. Trooper McMeikle, who witnessed the mishap said the car was heading west on Route 28, just west of Route 214 near Phenicia, traveling at a high rate of speed. He said the vehicle swayed from side to side and went out of control, left the north side of the highway, hit a tree and rolled over.

Seven Drivers Fined For Speeding Today

They were: Ronald J. Ellis, 19, of 40 Prince Street; Charles M. Connock, 63, of RD 2, Box 375, Kingston; Alfred Monteleone, 20, Dogwood Drive, Shokan; George Buni, 17, of 339 Abel Street; Robert Styles, 24, of 87 Abrun Street; Ralph Mergendahl, 22, of 162 Clinton Avenue, and Walter Maurer, 41, of 17 Fairview Avenue.

William Copley, of Gill Street, charged with a double traffic line violation, was fined $10.

Two Charges Are Made Following Chase by Police

A police chase early today resulted in the lodging of charges of driving while intoxicated and reckless driving against a teenage driver.

Caught in the Town of Esopus after he allegedly eluded local police, Peter B. Decker, 19, RFD, Box 297, Saugerties, was charged by Constable Frank Bartroff, who apprehended him, with driving while intoxicated, and the other charge followed in the city.

Sentencing Deferred
Decker pleaded guilty later today in city court to the reckless driving charge and sentence was deferred to July 1 to permit a pre-sentencing investigation. He was released in his own recognition.

A local police report at 1:05 a. m. noted that officers George Barringer and Albert Johnson were chasing a car through Port Jervis. They reported losing trace of it near the Hi-Lo department store, and a short time later were notified that it had been stopped in the Town of Esopus.

The reckless driving charge was lodged by Officer Barringer.

Case Before Dargie
A summons issued by Bartroff, charging drunken driving, is answerable July 3 before Justice of the Peace Allan Dargie, of New Salem.

Bartroff said he caught up with Decker, who, had been traveling at high speed, after the car struck a large timber along a driveway near the Capri Restaurant.

Thruway Has 10th

the opening of all toll booths along the new link between Lowell, west of Utica, and West Henrietta, near Rochester.

To Be Dewey Memorial
In April, Gov. Rockefeller signed a bill, passed by the 1964 Legislature, that said the highway would be known officially as the Gov. Thomas E. Dewey Thruway, effective Sept. 1.

Rising expenses and revenues below estimates required an increase in tolls in 1959. The price charged for cars rose from 1.25 to 1.6 cents a mile. The fatality rate has averaged 2.23 deaths a year per hundred million miles, compared with a national rate last year of 5.4 per hundred million miles.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING...

Disposal of Worry Shares Depends on Growth

Q "My worry stocks for growth are Phillips Petroleum bought at 56 and Great Western Financial bought at 20. Please advise as to whether I should hold or sell." G. B.

A If you are really worried about stocks, it is usually best to dispose of them. However, I would not be inclined to do so in the case of Great Western Financial at current levels.

This stock has sold off partly because its group has temporarily lost favor and partly because its earnings — after resting on a fairly high plateau for three years — declined in the March quarter. The drop appeared to be due in large part to Federal income tax payments amounting to about 6 1/2 cents a share in that period as against none a year earlier. I look for ultimate recovery for this stock and the entire group.

Phillips Petroleum is not very attractive from a growth standpoint and faces large potential dilution. I would switch this issue into Texas.

Q "We have $30,000 in mutual funds. Would it be wise to sell some of these shares and put the money in H bonds? We are told that these bonds are tax-exempt until you sell them. Is that correct? Can we purchase them through banks?" — G. B.

A If the $30,000 in mutual funds represents your entire estate, it would certainly be prudent policy to sell part of your shares and invest $5,000 in H bonds for stability and utmost security.

H bonds pay interest semi-annually, fully subject to Federal income taxes for the year in which interest is paid.

If I may say so, I think that you have confused series H bonds with series E. The latter are purchased at a discount, pay no current interest, and you are not required to pay income tax on accruals until the redemption date.

Both issues yield 3 1/2 per cent if held to maturity and each can be bought through your bank.

Mr. Spear cannot answer all mail personally but will answer all questions possible in his column.

Lunar Eclipse Scheduled at 6:48

MOUNT DESERT, Maine (AP)—Moonwatchers expect an excellent view of a reddish glow in the sky tonight.

It will be the first of two total eclipses of the moon this year.

Many parts of the world will view the phenomenon, but one of the finest vantage points is expected to be on 1,530-foot Cadillac Mountain on the island of Mount Desert off Maine.

The eclipse begins at 5:48 p. m. EST when the moon enters the earth's penumbra — the almost invisible shadow of the earth. Totality will last from 7:16 p. m. to 8:37 p. m. The moon will leave the penumbra at 11:14 p. m.

The next total lunar eclipse comes Dec. 18.

Cows As Bad as Goats

ITHACA, N. Y. (AP)—Cows often suffer from a stomach ailment known to farmers as "hardware disease." Veterinarians, who know that cows eat fence wire, nails, nuts, bolts, pieces of wood and tin cans, call the disease "traumatic gastritis."

The hardware punctures the lining of the second of the cow's four stomachs. It can be fatal. Dr. Donald D. Delahanty, professor at the New York State College of Veterinary Medicine at Cornell University, says the cause of the trouble is lack of "oral discrimination in cattle that leads to their swallowing foreign bodies that would normally be rejected by other animals."

Dr. Delahanty has operated on 600 cows for hardware disease. He says about 60 per cent of his cases have been caused by lengths of wire and adds that about the only things he has not found in a cow's stomach are broken glass.

Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., said the choice of Taylor for the Saigon post "means action — this means war."

Called Best Team

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, assistant Senate Democratic leader, said the President had assembled "the best team we could possibly place in Viet Nam."

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, front-runner for the GOP presidential nomination, made no comment on the political implications of Lodge's return. He said "Ambassador Lodge is to be congratulated for bearing up on this long under such adverse conditions."

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, who has thrown his support behind Scranton, hailed Lodge's decision and said it "should materially help the moderate Republican cause."

There was no immediate comment from former President Dwight D. Eisenhower or former Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara praised the choice of Taylor. McNamara, more than any other top government official, has become identified with the long-drawn-out effort to suppress Communist guerrillas in South Viet Nam.

Appointment of Taylor comes at a time when the Western position in Viet Nam and Laos appears to be deteriorating, and the government is considering possible pressures against Red North Viet Nam.
